NOTICE.

DEPARTMENT OF MINES IN INDIA, DHANBAD P.O., MANBHUM.

Indian Mines Act, 1901.

AN examination for first class Coal Mine Managers' Certificates of Competency under the rules applicable to coal mines will be held on the 16th, 17th and 18th February 1920. An examination for second class Coal Mine Managers' Certificates of Competency will be held on the 23rd, 24th and 25th February 1920. Both examinations will be held at the Railway Institute, Dhanbad.

Rules 32 and 33 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901, require that a candidate for a first class certificate must be at least 23 years of age and have had at least five years' practical experience in a coal mine, and for a second class certificate be at least 21 years of age and have had at least three years' practical experience in a coal mine. The periods of practical experience may be reduced to three years and one year respectively, in the case of a candidate who has received a diploma in scientific and mining subjects after a course of study of at least two years at an educational institution approved in this behalf by the Governor-General in Council, or who has taken a degree in scientific and mining subjects at a University approved in this behalf by the Governor-General in Council.

The fees are Rs. 15 in the case of first class certificates and Rs. 8 in the case of second class certificates. By rule 34 of Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry, notification No. 2968-82, dated the 21st April 1906, "these fees shall be paid, not less than one month prior to the date of the examination, to the Chief Inspector of Mines at his office." The fees may be remitted by money-order or paid in any other manner.

Applications and fees should be addressed to the Chief Inspector of Mines in India, Dhanbad Post Office, East Indian Railway, and not to any officer by name. No candidate will be permitted to sit at the examination unless his application, supported by original certificates as to experience and character, and fee, is received, in the case of a candidate for the first class certificate examination on or before the 15th January 1920, and, in the case of a candidate for the second class certificate examination on or before the 22nd January 1920. Candidates are advised to send all papers under registered cover.

2. In exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (1) of section 6 of the same Act, the Governor in Council is pleased to establish union boards for each of the unions hereby declared, and to fix 9 as the number of members of each union board.

3. In exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (2) of section 6 of the same Act, the Governor in Council is pleased to order that one-third of the members of each union board shall be appointed by the District Magistrate on the grounds that the electors are inexperienced and that such appointment is necessary for the due representation of minorities.

No. 3691 L.S.-G.—The 31st October 1919.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 5 of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919 (Bengal Act V of 1919), and after consideration of the views of the Burdwan District Board and the Burdwan Local Board, the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that thanas Memari, Satgachia, and Jamalpur in the Sadar subdivision, in the district of Burdwan, may be divided into the following local areas, and that every such local area may be declared a union for the purposes of the Act:—

2. In exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (1) of section 6 of the same Act, the Governor in Council is pleased to establish union boards for each of the unions hereby declared and to fix 9 as the number of members of each union board.

3. In exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (2) of section 6 of the same Act the Governor in Council is pleased to order that one-third of the members of each union board shall be appointed by the District Magistrate on the grounds that the electors are inexperienced and that such appointment is necessary for the due representation of minorities.

No. 3690 L.S.-G.—The 31st October 1919.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 5 of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919 (Bengal Act V of 1919), and after consideration of the views of the Burdwan District Board and the Kalna Local Board, the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that thanas Kalna, Purbasthali and Manteswar in the Kalna subdivision, in the Burdwan district, may be divided into the following local areas, and that every such local area may be declared a union for the purposes of the Act :—

NOTIFICATION.

PLEADERS' SURVEY CLASSES, 1920.

1. Classes for the training of pleaders in surveying will be opened in January and February 1920 in connection with the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, the Bihar School of Engineering, Bankipur, the Dacca School of Engineering and the Survey School at Cuttack, provided sufficient candidates register their names at each centre.

2. The course will last for six weeks and will consist of practical work combined with class instruction. The routine and hours of attendance will be settled by the head of the institutions, who will also decide the exact locality in which the classes will be held and the date of the opening.

3. Pleadors must make their own arrangements for attending this course. No tents or other residential accommodation will be provided.

4. Credit for attendance at these classes will not be given unless the pleader has been present for 80 per cent. of the working days and for the full working hours of each day.

5. Any candidate who desires to undergo the course of training must apply to the Principal, Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, not later than 30th November. His application must be endorsed by the District Judge. It should state the centre which the candidate wishes to join, i.e., Sibpur, Bankipur, Cuttack or Dacca, and should be accompanied by a remittance receipt from the local treasury certifying that the fee of Rs. 100 has been paid into the treasury to the credit of the Engineering College.

6. The Secretary will allot candidates to the centres, consulting their wishes as far as possible, giving not more than 24 and not less than 8 to a centre. He will then inform the heads of the institutions of the names and addresses of the candidates registered at their centres, and they will inform the candidates as to the locality and the date of opening.

7. The following is the syllabus of instruction. No definite text-books are prescribed :—

(a) Practical work—

Chain surveying, prismatic compass surveying, plane tabling, and levelling.

(b) Class work—

Use of mathematical instruments	Variation of compass.
Construction of scales	... Preparation of field books from map.
Mensuration of areas	... Elementary principles of levelling.
Plotting	... Plotting of level sections.

Candidates who obtain the required percentage of attendance at this course of instruction are qualified to appear at the Practical Examinations held in 1921, 1922 and 1923.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncoovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the Fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The Fund is now of ten years' standing and has a balance of over three and-a-half lakhs with Government on four per cent. interest. For forms of applications and rules of the Fund apply to the Comptroller, India Treasuries, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

REPORT ON FAMINE IN THE DISTRICT OF BANKURA FOR THE WEEK ENDING 25TH OCTOBER 1919.

There was no rainfall during the week. The agricultural prospects are favourable, but paddy on high land has suffered for want of rain. The relief works were closed during the week as there is now practically no distress. The number of persons in receipt of special relief was 557, viz., 555 weavers and 2 better class poor. The charitable societies relieved 400 persons by daily doles. During the week three cases of theft of paddy were reported. Public health is on the whole good. Outbreak of malaria is reported. The price of common rice varies from 5 to 5½ seers in the rupee. Burma rice is being sold.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 30th October 1919.

Summary.—The rainfall was generally light excepting in northern Bengal, where there was almost no rain during the week. More rain is needed for winter paddy, especially in certain western districts. Ploughing for and sowing of spring crops continue. Harvesting of the early variety of winter paddy is proceeding. Prospects of standing crops are generally satisfactory. The average price of common rice for the province has fallen by about 3·12 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week. One thousand nine hundred and fifty persons received gratuitous relief in the Brahmanbaria sub-division of Tippera district. The conditions in Bankura are published separately.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA.

CALCUTTA TRADE FLUCTUATIONS.

THE following tables are intended to show the trade by all routes, i.e., by rail, river, canal, road, and sea, of the Calcutta block* in certain selected articles during the five months, April to August, 1919, as compared with the corresponding period of 1918 and 1917. The statistics have been compiled from returns furnished by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, Railway Audit Offices, Steamer Companies, the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, the Collectors of the 24-Parganas and Howrah, and the Assistant Engineer, Calcutta Canals.

General Summary.

Imports.—The imports of rice, including paddy†, into Calcutta by rail, river, canal, road, and sea (coastwise) during the five months, April to August, 1919, amounted to 9,510,000 maunds, as against 5,254,000 maunds in the corresponding period of the preceding year—an increase of 81 per cent. There was an increase (26 per cent) in the imports of coal and coke (41,791,000 maunds as against 33,271,000 maunds last year). The imports by rail, river, road, and sea (coastwise) of Indian cotton piecegoods showed an increase of 73 per cent, the total value amounting to Rs. 4,02,98,000 as against Rs. 2,32,57,000 in 1918. The quantity of indigo imported during the five months, April to August, 1919, decreased from 4,407 maunds to 1,431 maunds. The imports of raw jute amounted to 1,219,000 bales as against 1,965,000 bales—a decrease of 38 per cent. The importations of gunny bags also showed a decrease of 34 per cent (128 million bags as against 193 millions in the preceding year). The total imports of oilseeds (linseed and rape and mustard seed) increased by 62 per cent, from 2,692,000 maunds to 4,369,000 maunds. The imports of sugar decreased by 24 per cent, from 309,000 maunds to 235,000 maunds, and those of tea by 10 per cent, from 1,200,000 maunds to 1,084,000 maunds.

Exports.—The exports of cotton piecegoods, foreign, from Calcutta by all routes during the five months, April to August, 1919, decreased by 9 per cent (Rs. 9,76,87,000 as against Rs. 10,73,39,000 last year). The exports of gunny bags (including the exports by sea to foreign countries) decreased from 572 million bags to 439 million bags, and the shipments of gunny bags to other Indian ports decreased from 17 millions to 16 millions in number in the period under review. The quantity of kerosene oil despatched from Calcutta and Budge-Budge by internal routes and by sea (coastwise) increased from 2,179,000 maunds to 2,390,000 maunds, or by 10 per cent.

† One maund of paddy is equivalent to 25 seers of rice.

SCHEME

1. The said endowment shall be called the Rao Mahesh Narayan Roy Fund in memory of the father of the donor.

2. The objects of the endowment are to maintain the high English school founded by the donor at Lalgola in Bengal and known as the Mahesh Narayan Academy, and to provide scholarships for students from the said school passing the matriculation examination of the Calcutta University in the first division, but not obtaining Government scholarships.

3. The fund shall be administered by a committee appointed as hereinafter mentioned, of whom the District Magistrate of Murshidabad and the Subdivisional Officer of Lalbagh subdivision for the time being shall be ex-officio members, and the District Magistrate shall be President and the Subdivisional Officer shall be Secretary.

There shall be six other members (hereinafter called "non-official members").

The present committee shall consist of the following:—

- |   |                                |
|---|--------------------------------|
| 1. The District Magistrate of Murshidabad (President)                                     | } ex-officio members.   |
| 2. The Subdivisional Officer of Lalbagh (Secretary)                                       |                                |
| 3. Kumar Hemendra Narayan Roy, of Lalgola   | } non-official members. |
| 4. Babu Nani Gopal Banerji, M.B. (doctor in charge of the Lalgola Charitable Dispensary). |                                |
| 5. Babu Hari Charan Chowdhury, M.A. (headmaster of the school).                           |                                |
| 6. Babu Jnanananda Bhattacharyya, B.A. (assistant headmaster).                            |                                |
| 7. Kumar Satyendra Narayan Roy, of Lalgola  |                                |
| 8. Babu Kulada Charan Banerji, of Kristopore  |                                |

Any non-official member may retire at any time, and in the event of the death or retirement of any non-official member the vacancy shall be filled up as follows:—

Member No. 3 shall be elected by the members of the donor's family.

Members Nos. 4 and 5 shall be the doctor in charge of the Lalgola Dispensary and the headmaster of the school, respectively, for the time being and upon either of them ceasing to hold his respective post he shall forthwith cease to be a member of the committee and his successor in the respective post shall, respectively, become a member in his place. Member No. 6 shall be such one of the assistant teachers in the school as those teachers shall themselves select. Members Nos. 7 and 8 shall be gentlemen selected by the parents or guardians of pupils of the school.

In the event of the persons or body entitled to elect any member not being able to agree upon the member to be elected, the remaining members of the committee may summon a meeting of those persons whom they consider to be entitled to elect the member and the person selected by a majority of votes at such meeting shall be the member elected.

In the event of no person being found willing to fill any such vacancy as aforesaid, or if no member shall be elected to fill any such vacancy for a period of three months, the remaining members of the committee may themselves elect any other person to fill such vacancy and in the meantime such remaining members shall continue to act and be entitled to exercise all the powers of the committee.

In all questions whatsoever coming before the committee in which there shall be any difference of opinion the matter shall be decided by a majority of votes, and in case of equal votes the President shall have a casting vote.

4. The premises described in part I of the first schedule above written may be used for the purposes of the said school and the income of the securities mentioned in part II of the said first schedule together with any other income accruing from school-fees, subscriptions and donations and grants by Government together with the monthly income of Rs. 204 which the donor has agreed to provide (and in respect of which a bond is being given by the donor binding himself and his heirs and estate to the President of the committee for provision of such income) shall be applied in maintaining the said school and in providing the said scholarships in manner hereinafter appearing.

5. In the event of the donor or his heirs or estate providing sufficient securities to produce the said monthly income of Rs. 204 aforesaid or any greater sum, the President of the committee shall cause the said bond to be discharged, and shall apply to Government to vest the said securities in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments in addition to the said fund upon the terms of this scheme.

6. The said school shall be open to the children of the locality without distinction of race or creed and shall continue to be a private school. It shall be conducted as a high English school so far as funds shall permit in accordance with the regulations for the time being of the Education Department of the Government of Bengal. The school shall be a day school with hostels attached.

7. Out of the income of the said fund, there shall be set apart eight scholarships (to be awarded as hereinafter mentioned) each of Rs. 6 monthly, tenable for two years. Until such scholarships are all in being, any income which would subsequently be required for that purpose but at first is not so required may be expended for the general purposes of the school as the committee shall direct, and in the event of any scholarships not being awarded or being forfeited or ceasing by reason of death of the recipient the income which would otherwise have been expended on such scholarships may be expended for the general purposes of the school, as the committee shall direct.

The remaining income of the said fund and of any additions thereto shall be applied in the upkeep and maintenance of the school, with the hostels and the school library, and to such income shall be added all school fees, donations, subscriptions, grants and income from any other sources, including that payable by the donor or his heirs under the bond being given by him as aforesaid.

8. The committee may appoint or dismiss the headmaster of the school and any other masters and members of the staff or may delegate to the committee or to the headmaster the appointment or dismissal of the other masters and members of the staff, subject to such conditions as to the committee shall seem fit. The remuneration of the headmaster shall be fixed by the committee and the remuneration of other masters and members of the staff may be fixed by the committee or may be delegated by them to the headmaster, provided always that no headmaster shall vote or be present at any discussion in respect of the appointment or dismissal of a headmaster.

9. Subject to the control of the committee and to the aforesaid regulations of the Education Department, the headmaster shall have control of the admission or non-admission of students, the selection from the lists approved by the said Education Department of the books to be used in the school, the methods of teaching, the arrangement of classes and school hours, and generally the whole internal organisation, management and discipline to be maintained in the school and hostels, including the power of expelling students from the school and hostels or suspending them from attendance.

10. The committee shall from time to time fix the scale of fees and charges to be paid by students attending the school, including those residing in the hostels.

11. The committee may direct the treasurer to set apart any portion of the income (other than the scholarships income) for a reserve fund for renewal or replacement of any buildings or equipment, and also for repairs.

12. The number of masters to be engaged for the tutorial staff and the number of attendants to be employed shall be decided by the committee as also the sums to be expended on books, furniture, equipment, prizes and other expenditure according to the income available.

13. The said scholarships shall be awarded as follows:—

Every year, out of those pupils from the school who shall pass the matriculation examination of the Calcutta University in the first division, but shall not obtain any Government scholarships, those eight who shall obtain the highest marks at the said examination shall, provided that they prosecute their studies in the Krishnath College, Berhampore, receive 8 scholarships of Rs. 6 each monthly, tenable for two years (making 24 monthly payments of Rs. 6 each to each of the eight recipients) and commencing on the 1st day of the month after the result of the said examination is published. The scholarships shall be paid over in such manner and at such place and times as the committee shall direct. A scholarship shall cease on the death of any recipient and may be forfeited by the committee in case of bad behaviour or unsatisfactory progress or if the recipient gives up his studies. The decision of the committee as to whether there has been any bad behaviour or unsatisfactory progress or giving up of studies shall be final.

14. All persons to whom the expenditure of any income or funds is delegated by the committee shall keep and shall submit proper accounts and vouchers of their receipts and expenditure, and the committee shall keep proper accounts and vouchers of the general receipts and expenditure which shall at all times be open to the inspection of the local Government or any officer authorized by them and to inspection by the donor.

15. In the event of the said school ceasing for any reason to be carried on, the said school properties or the proceeds of sale thereof and the funds of the endowment other than and except (a) the said land and buildings, (b) such Government securities as shall hereafter have been provided by the donor to produce income in substitution for that part of his said monthly contribution which is to be used for the abovementioned scholarships, shall be utilized for the purposes of improving the sanitation of the district of Murshidabad, provided always that in such event the school premises and buildings and such securities as aforesaid as may have been provided by the donor to produce the whole or any part of the income required for the said scholarships shall revert to the estate of the donor and the bond being given by him as aforesaid for additional income if still in force shall be cancelled, but if additional securities shall have been provided by the donor or his heirs in place of the said bond any surplus thereof over and above the securities required to provide the said scholarship income shall be applied as aforesaid. The application of the said endowment assets in such event shall be in accordance with a scheme to be settled by the local Government and may be for expenditure of either capital or income or both.

16. The committee may from time to time frame rules for the management of the said school and for the conduct of the business of the said committee, provided that such rules shall not be inconsistent with any of the provisions of the scheme.

No. 4700J.—The 10th November 1919.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 50 of the Administrator-General's Act, 1913 (111 of 1913), read with section 21 of the General Clauses Act, 1897 (X of 1897), and Home Department notification No. 978, dated the 27th September 1917, the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following amendment in the rules issued with Home Department notification No. 1825C., dated the 13th March 1914, for the Presidency of Bengal, excluding the territories removed from that Presidency by notification No. 1823C., dated the 13th March 1914:—

For rule 27, sub-rule (2), substitute the following:—

27. (2) The costs of and incidental to the audit and the examination of the Administrator-General's accounts by the auditors shall be recovered from estates already vested in the Administrator-General or to be vested in him, in the following manner:—

- (a) There shall be charged or debited to each account opened in the books of the Administrator-General, an audit fee calculated ordinarily at the rate of annas 5 per cent. on all monthly or half-yearly realisations, whether by way of corpus or income, or at any other rate that may be found necessary by the Accountant-General, Bengal, in consultation with the Administrator-General, Bengal, up to a maximum of annas 10 per cent. on such realisations as aforesaid.

Provided that the Government of Bengal may, after considering the report of the auditors, enhance or reduce the percentage on particular estates in exceptional cases in which the audit has presented features of unusual simplicity or difficulty. But in no such cases should the enhancement exceed annas 10 per cent.

- (b) In every such case, any additional fee so payable shall be debited exclusively to the estate concerned.

Provided also that where in any estate the realisations do not exceed Rs. 500 per half year, there shall be no audit charge debited to such estate or account.

- (c) The amount so recovered as audit fee shall, from time to time, be credited to an account to be styled and called "The Audit Fee Account," and the sum standing at credit of this account shall be paid in full, and without any deduction, to the Bank of Bengal to the credit of the Government of Bengal.

The audit charges for the half year ending 31st December 1919 should be distributed in accordance with these rules.

No. 4701J—The 10th November 1919.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 30 of the Official Trustees Act, 1913 (II of 1913), read with section 21 of the General Clauses Act, 1897 (X of 1897), and Home Department notification No. 979, dated the 27th September 1917, the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following amendment in the rules issued with Home Department notification No. 1826-C., dated the 13th March 1914, for the Presidency of Bengal, excluding the territories removed from that Presidency by notification No. 1824-C., dated the 13th March 1914:—

For rule 22. substitute the following:—

22. The costs of and incidental to the audit and the examination of the Official Trustee's accounts by the auditors shall be recovered from trusts already vested in the Official Trustee or to be vested in him, in the following manner:—

- (a) There shall be charged or debited to each account opened in the books of the Official Trustee an audit fee calculated ordinarily at the rate of annas 4 per cent. on all monthly or half-yearly realisations, whether by way of corpus or income, or at any other rate that may be found necessary by the Accountant-General, Bengal, in consultation with the Official Trustee of Bengal, up to a maximum of annas 8 per cent. on such realisation as aforesaid:

Provided that the Government of Bengal may, after considering the report of the auditors, enhance or reduce the percentage on particular trusts in exceptional cases in which the audit has presented features of unusual simplicity or difficulty. But in no such cases should the enhancement exceed annas 8 per cent.

- (b) In every such case, any additional fee so payable shall be debited exclusively to the trust concerned:

Provided also that where in any trust the realisations do not exceed Rs. 500 per half-year, there shall be no audit charge debited to such trust or account.

- (c) The amount so recovered as audit fee shall, from time to time, be credited to an account to be styled and called "The Audit Fee Account," and the sum standing at credit of this account shall be paid in full, and without any deduction, to the Bank of Bengal to the credit of the Government of Bengal.

The audit charges for the half year ending 31st December 1919 should be distributed in accordance with these rules.

ESTABLISHMENT.

The 10th November 1919.

No. 96.—The following resolution, issued by the Government of India in the Public Works Department, is republished for information.

F. A. A. COWLEY,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 558-E.A., dated Simla, the 22nd October 1919.

RESOLUTION—By the Govt. of India, P. W. Dept. (Establishments).

In the Resolutions of the Government of India in the Public Works

No. 1101-E., dated 25th August 1905.
 No. 1110-E., dated 15th October 1906.
 No. 675-694-E., dated 24th April 1908.
 No. 154-73-E., dated 11th February 1910.
 No. 68-82-E., dated 18th January 1911.
 No. 439-468-E., dated 15th May 1912.

Department, cited in the margin, revised scales of pay for the members of the Engineer establishments employed in the Public Works Department and State Railways were promulgated, together with certain measures of reorganization consequent thereon. The Government of India have lately had under consideration the question of the adequacy or otherwise of these scales, and they have arrived at the conclusion that, under present conditions, the existing rates of pay are insufficient. The Governor General in Council, with the approval of His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, is, therefore, pleased to sanction the following revised scales of pay with effect from the 30th August 1919, the date upon which the Secretary of State's orders upon the subject were received in India. They are not applicable to engineers employed on State Railways, whose case is separately under consideration.

Superintending Engineers.—Rs. 1,750—100—2,150 for both Imperial and Provincial Services.

Chief Engineers.—Rs. 2,750—125—3,000 for both Imperial and Provincial Services.

2. The increments will be given for approved service only, but after the first increment has been admitted by the local Government or Administration under which the officer is serving, subsequent increments may be drawn on the date on which they are due and may be admitted in audit without sanction of higher authority, provided that the local Government or Administration has not issued an order withholding the increment in any particular case, and subject to the provisions of paragraph 3 below.

3. Pay on the junior scale will be drawn by officers holding charges of less importance than a divisional charge, but no such officer will be allowed to draw more than the pay of the 8th year of service on the junior scale unless he is reported to be fully qualified for the charge of a division.

4. Pay on the senior scale will be drawn by officers holding charges of not less importance than the charge of a division.

5. Permanent service rendered in the ranks of Chief and Superintending Engineers will count towards increments, except in the case of officers promoted to the rank of Superintending Engineer before their seniors in the ordinary line on special conditions as regards relative seniority.

6. The initial salary which each officer now in the service will draw under the new scales of pay will be determined by his local Government. In determining the initial pay under the new scales it should be understood that, though local Governments are accorded full power to fix the pay of any officer within the maximum admissible for his length of service, no officer whose promotion has been retarded in the past is by reason of length of service entitled to claim a higher rate of pay under the new scales than that admissible to the officer immediately above him in the seniority list.

Ordered that this Resolution be forwarded to the local Governments, Administrations and officers noted below for information, and that it be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

NOTICE.

DEPARTMENT OF MINES IN INDIA, DHANBAD P.O., MANBHUM.

Indian Mines Act, 1901.

AN examination for first class Coal Mine Managers' Certificates of Competency under the rules applicable to coal mines will be held on the 16th, 17th and 18th February 1920. An examination for second class Coal Mine Managers' Certificates of Competency will be held on the 23rd, 24th and 25th February 1920. Both examinations will be held at the Railway Institute, Dhanbad.

Rules 32 and 33 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901, require that a candidate for a first class certificate must be at least 23 years of age and have had at least five years' practical experience in a coal mine, and for a second class certificate be at least 21 years of age and have had at least three years' practical experience in a coal mine. The periods of practical experience may be reduced to three years and one year respectively, in the case of a candidate who has received a diploma in scientific and mining subjects after a course of study of at least two years at an educational institution approved in this behalf by the Governor-General in Council, or who has taken a degree in scientific and mining subjects at a University approved in this behalf by the Governor-General in Council.

The fees are Rs. 15 in the case of first class certificates and Rs. 8 in the case of second class certificates. By rule 34 of Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry, notification No. 2968-82, dated the 21st April 1906, "these fees shall be paid, not less than one month prior to the date of the examination, to the Chief Inspector of Mines at his office." The fees may be remitted by money-order or paid in any other manner.

Applications and fees should be addressed to the Chief Inspector of Mines in India, Dhanbad Post Office, East Indian Railway, and not to any officer by name. No candidate will be permitted to sit at the examination unless his application, supported by original certificates as to experience and character, and fee, is received, in the case of a candidate for the first class certificate examination on or before the 15th January 1920, and, in the case of a candidate for the second class certificate examination on or before the 22nd January 1920. Candidates are advised to send all papers under registered cover.

CALCUTTA CUSTOM HOUSE, the 7th November 1919.

The Calcutta Gazette

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1919.

PART IA.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India.

The following notifications issued by the Government of India in the Department of Commerce and Industry, published in the Gazette of India dated the 1st November 1919, are republished for general information.

D. GLADDING,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

CUSTOMS-WAR.

Simla, the 1st November 1919.

No. 9013.—The following extracts from the Board of Trade Journal dated the 11th and 18th September 1919, are published for general information :—

Extract from the Journal dated the 11th September 1919.

GOVERNMENT NOTICES AFFECTING TRADE.

EXPORT AND IMPORT SECTION.

EXPORTS OF WOOL AND WASTES, NOILS, TOPS AND YARNS.

The Board of Trade (Export Licence Department) give notice that applications will now be considered for Licences to export all classes of Wool, except Australasian Wools above 46's quality, in the form of—

- (a) Cased Wools.
- (b) Matchings.
- (c) Scoured in this country.

In the case of applications for other Australasian Wools (except Carbonised) exporters are reminded that it is necessary to state the Lot numbers and the Catalogue number of Sale at which the wool was purchased.

Samples should be submitted with applications in respect of all classes of Wool, except Australasian Wool in the original bales or purchased at Government Sales at Manor Row, Bradford.

Applications to export the following materials will also receive consideration :—

Wool Waste.
Wool Noils (except fine Crossbred Noils.)
Persian Wool Tops.
Tops of 46's quality and under.
Yarns.

Exporters should carefully note the following points :—

1. Licences for Fine Crossbred Noils and for Tops above 46's quality are granted only in exceptional circumstances and when specially allocated by the Supply Department.

Samples should be sent with all applications in respect of Waste Noils and Tops.

2. Delay may be experienced in the issue of licences for Yarns owing to the necessity of limiting, in the interests of home manufacturers, the monthly exports of Yarn.

It is highly desirable that holders of licences permitting the export of Yarn which it is not now intended to export should return such Licences for cancellation in order that the full rationed quantity may be exported.

This Notice supersedes all previous announcements, and due notice of any future changes in the export policy will be given in this Journal.

Applications for export licences, which must contain full descriptions of the materials to be exported, should be addressed to the Controller, Board of Trade (Export Licence Department), 1, Queen Anne's Gate Buildings, Westminster, S. W. 1.

Extract from the Journal dated the 18th September 1919.

GOVERNMENT NOTICES AFFECTING TRADE.

EXPORT SECTION.

EXPORTS OF CERTAIN COAL TAR PRODUCTS.

The Board of Trade (Export Licence Department) desire to draw attention to the fact that the export of—“Coal tar and derivatives thereof (except solvent naphtha, cresylic acid, and mixtures containing cresylic acid) suitable for use in the manufacture of dyes and explosives, whether obtained from coal tar or other sources, and mixtures and preparations containing such products or derivatives,” is still prohibited to all destinations.

Certain coal tar products, such as :—

Naphthalene and its derivatives ;
Toluol and its derivatives ;
Picric acid ;
Xylol and its derivatives ;
Carbolic acid crystals ;
Anthracene oil ;
Benzol and its derivatives ;
Cresols (ortho, para and meta), and their derivatives ; were originally mentioned by name in the British list of prohibited exports,; but these prohibitions have now been merged in the inclusive prohibition on the export of coal-tar products. The export of Naphthalene, Toluol, Picric Acid, and the other coal-tar products above mentioned, should therefore be regarded as prohibited to all destinations, and applications for licences to export them should be addressed in the usual way to the Controller, Export Licence Department, 1, Queen Anne's Gate Buildings, Westminster, S. W. 1.

No 9016.—The following Board of Trade list, dated the 26th September 1919, on the subject of prohibitions of export from the United Kingdom, is published for general information :—

BOARD OF TRADE,
EXPORT LICENCE DEPARTMENT,
1, QUEEN ANNE'S GATE BUILDINGS,
WESTMINSTER, S. W. 1.

LIST OF EXPORT PROHIBITED GOODS, &c., 26TH SEPTEMBER 1919.

This list cancels all similar lists and supplements issued by the Export Licence Department prior to the above date.

List A and B.

List C.

List D and E.

Open General Licences for Exports :—APPENDIX No. 1.

Trade with Germany and Austria-Hungary.

Transshipment in the United Kingdom.

This consolidated "List of Export Prohibited Goods" is amended and issued fortnightly. Exporters who desire to have copies of each list posted to them during the current year can do so on payment of a registration fee of 2s. 6d. for one copy of each issue. Should more than one copy of each issue be required an additional payment should be made at the rate of 2d. per copy for each month up to the end of the current year.

Exporters who desire to have their names placed on the register should make application to the Stationery Clerk, Export Licence Department, enclosing Money Orders payable to the Export Licence Department, Board of Trade.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

APPLICATION FORM A FOR LICENCE TO EXPORT.

The Export Licence Department, having regard to the circumstances now existing, and subject to any further notification which it may hereafter become necessary to make, notifies Exporters that answers need only be given to the undermentioned questions which are set forth in the abovementioned forms of application :—

- (a) Full name and address of Consignor.
- (b) Name and address of person or company to whom the licence is to be sent.
- (c)—1. Proposed date of despatch of goods.
2. Port of intended shipment in this country or post office of despatch.
- (d) Prospective port and country to which the goods are to be exported.
- (e) Route by which the goods are to be forwarded to ultimate destination.
- (f) Full name and address of consignee abroad.
- (k) State whether previous application has been made for all or part of the consignment, etc.
- (l) Full description of goods—quantity, weight, value, number and description of packages and the shipping marks.
- (t) Any special reasons in support of your request for a licence to export these goods. Instructions Nos. 1, 6, 7, 9 and 12 on page 4 of Application Form A are now cancelled.

P.S.—Should it be desired that in any exceptional case an answer should be given to any questions set forth in the Application Form but not appearing above, a notification will be addressed to the applicant concerned after the receipt of the relative application.

APPLICATION FORM B FOR GENERAL LICENCES.

The use of Application Form B for making application for licence to export goods in several consignments over a certain period is no longer necessary. Form A can now be used when making application for either specific or general licence, provided that if a general licence is required a statement to that effect is endorsed on the Application Form A.

Applications for licences and all correspondence should be addressed to :—

The Controller, Export Licence Department,
1, Queen Anne's Gate Buildings,
Westminster, S. W. 1.

SAMPLES.

An open general licence has been issued which permits the free export of all bona fide samples of prohibited goods to all non-enemy destinations, and to enemy territory with which trade is now permitted. Samples exported under this licence may be used only for genuine sample purposes, i.e., for obtaining orders from foreign buyers, and may not be sold except with the written consent of the Export Licence Department, but such consent may be dispensed with when it is desired to sell the articles in the country of destination after they have fulfilled their purpose as samples. Exporters will be required to satisfy the Customs Authorities that the goods presented for export under this licence are bona fide samples, and to make a declaration to that effect on the relative shipping documents.

* Many goods on the above Lists are already on List A or B.

This notice only applies to samples of goods which require licences for export to the particular destination concerned.

In addition, the consent of the Export Licence Department is not required for the sale of samples which, though within this scheme at the actual time they were exported, could be exported outside the scheme at the actual time of the proposed sale.

Open General Licence for the Export of Explosives, Double-Barrelled Guns, etc.

An Open General Licence has been issued for the export of cartridges, charges, etc., industrial explosives, double-barrelled guns and sporting rifles, to the destinations given below, to which, therefore, exports may be made, subject to the usual Customs formalities, without applications for specific licences to the Export Licence Department :—

British Possessions and Protectorates.	Africa.
French Possessions and Protectorates.	Japan and Korea.
United States of America.	Asiatic Russia.
South America.

France, Belgium, Spain, Portugal, Greece, Italy, Serbia, Roumania, Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

The issue of this licence does not relieve exporters from the necessity of obtaining import permits from the country of destination in cases where local regulations render such a course necessary.

General Information with regard to Export Regulations to certain Countries in Europe and on the Mediterranean.

EXPORTS TO POLAND.

(iv) In order to facilitate the re-establishment of commercial relations between Great Britain and Poland, the Polish Commercial and Financial Agency, 88, Kingsway, London, W. C. 2, has been duly authorised to issue Import Permits. The applicant for an Import Permit must fill in the four forms with which he will be supplied, and return them with the original invoice and four copies thereof.

It must be noted that all goods intended for Poland must be addressed to :—

The Polish Government Import and Export Commission, Elektoralna 2, Warsaw (for the ultimate consignee).

The charges for this Import Permit are five shillings stamp duty, and £1 per thousand pounds sterling of the total value of the goods to be imported, which must be paid upon receipt of the Permit.

The Import permit does not exempt the goods from any Custom dues or other taxes imposed by the Polish Government.

Due notification will be given of any alteration in these regulations.

TRADE WITH GERMANY, AUSTRIA, HUNGARY AND ARABIA.

In view of the raising of the blockade, the Board of Trade have issued General Licences under the Trading with the Enemy legislation authorising, with certain reservations, the resumption of trade with Germany, Austria, Hungary, and Arabia.

The Licences do not remove the existing restrictions upon the payment of debts and the return of property due or deliverable to persons in Germany, Austria, Hungary, and Arabia in respect of pre-war transactions.

The Licences do not permit the importation from Germany or Austria-Hungary of any goods included in the Prohibition of Import Proclamations and not covered by a General Licence issued under those Proclamations. Information with regard to imports into the United Kingdom can be obtained from the Import Restrictions Department, 22, Carlisle Place, S.W. 1. Further, Export Licences must be obtained from the Export Licence Department, 1, Queen Anne's Gate, Westminster, S.W. 1, before goods included in Lists A and B of prohibited exports are shipped to those countries, but no licences are required in respect of goods included in List C.

The Board of Trade, on behalf of His Majesty, and in pursuance of the powers reserved in the Trading with the Enemy Proclamations and all other powers thereunto them enabling, do hereby give and grant licence to all persons and bodies of persons resident, carrying on business, or being in the United Kingdom, to trade and have commercial and financial transactions with persons or bodies of persons resident or carrying on business in Germany/Austria/Hungary :

Provided always that any licence which may be necessary in respect of any transaction under any prohibition of export or prohibition of import for the time being in force in the United Kingdom or in respect of any remittance of money out of the United Kingdom covered by Regulation* 41D of the Defence of the Realm Regulations is first obtained.

Provided also that this licence shall not permit any person or body of persons to pay to or for the benefit of any person or body of persons resident or carrying on business in Germany/Austria/Hungary any sum of money which by the terms of the Trading with the Enemy Amendments Acts, 1914 and 1915, or either of them, is required to be paid to the Custodian appointed under the Trading with the Enemy Amendment Act, 1914, but such sums of money must be paid to the said Custodian :

Provided further that this licence shall not permit any person or body of persons to pay or deliver any sum of money or property which is, or, but for the war, would have been due or deliverable to any person or body of persons resident or carrying on business in Germany/Austria/Hungary in respect of a transaction entered into before the outbreak of war :

A General Licence with regard to Arabia has been issued, dated the 19th August 1919.

URGENT ORDERS.

The Board of Trade, Export Licence Department, announces that, in collaboration with the Department of Overseas Trade, an arrangement has been made whereby firms receiving orders which require immediate acceptance may telegraph details of any such order to the Department of Overseas Trade in order to ascertain whether a licence will be granted for the export of the goods if the order is accepted.

* Regulation 41 D of the Defence of the Realm Regulations is now cancelled.

In the event of an applicant being promised a licence he will be enabled to deal with the order straightaway with the knowledge that upon application being made in the proper form to the Export Licence Department the licence will be granted.

The telegrams should be addressed to "Orders, c/o Advantage, Stock, London." There should give in each case in addition to the name and postal and telegraphic address of the applicant the quantity and description of the goods comprised in the order and the name and address of the ultimate consignee if the goods are destined for a neutral country. In the case of orders from Allied or British Territory or from Territory in the occupation of troops of the associated Governments, the consignee need not be stated; and it will be sufficient merely to give the country of destination. A reply of 24 words (1/3) must be repaid.

Applicants are requested in their own interest to confine their enquiries to orders needing a very urgent decision, since the fewer the enquiries the more promptly can answers be given.

Any subsequent correspondence that is necessary in connection with the telegraphic enquiries should be addressed to the Comptroller General, Department of Overseas Trade (Export Facilities Section), 4, Queen Anne's Gate Buildings, Westminster, S. W. 1.

TRANSHIPMENT IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

The provisional approval of the Export Licence Department should be obtained before the following goods are brought to this country for transshipment:—

Bacon, ham and lard of all kinds.

Butter and cheese.

Cereals on Section "A" of the list of prohibited exports.

SPECIAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

No. 3205.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication, for general information, of the following telegraphic correspondence with the Secretary of State for India :—

Dated Simla, the 26th September 1919.

From—The Viceroy,

To—The Secretary of State for India.

Following Resolution carried unanimously in Imperial Legislative Council on 10th September :—

“ This Council requests the Governor-General in Council—

- (a) to convey to the King-Emperor the humble message of the people of India assuring him of their enthusiastic and loyal devotion and allegiance to His Majesty's person and throne and tendering their warm congratulations on the conclusion of a victorious peace ;
- (b) to convey to His Majesty's Naval, Military and Air Forces, British and Indian, including the Royal Indian Marine and the members of the Mercantile Marine, the grateful appreciation and heartfelt thanks of India's citizens for their pre-eminently valuable services and heroic deeds of daring, endurance, skill and cheerful sacrifice which have enabled the British Empire and its allies to crush Prussian Militarism and autocracy and inaugurate an era of orderly progressive Self-Government on a truly democratic basis under the guidance and protection of a League of Nations ;
- (c) to convey to His Majesty's Civil Services, especially to the officers and men employed in the Munitions, Railway and Post and Telegraphs Departments, the sincere thanks of the country for their untiring energy and zeal and supreme devotion to duty during a prolonged and trying period of more than four years of active warfare.”

“ Governor-General of India in Council strongly recommends that necessary steps may be taken for communicating Resolution to His Majesty and all concerned at Home if you see no objection. Papers will follow.

Dated London, the 24th October 1919.

From—The Secretary of State for India,

To—The Viceroy.

I have laid the message of the Legislative Council before His Majesty the King-Emperor, who desires me to request that you will convey to Members of Council an expression of the pleasure and satisfaction with which he has accepted their congratulations on the conclusion of a victorious peace, and their inspiring assurance of loyalty. By His Majesty's command I have communicated the message to the Prime Minister, and to Parliament, to ensure that the terms of its generous appreciation reached all to whom they extend, and I am authorised to ask that you will express the deep admiration felt by this country at large for the great services rendered by India in the prosecution of the war, and for the successful heroism of her soldiers and sustained co-operation of her citizens in efforts which have brought the great struggle to a triumphant conclusion.

A. H. BINGLEY, Major-General,

MUNICIPAL AND LOCAL.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 3759M.—The 10th November 1919.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 27 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), the Governor in Council is pleased to appoint Babu Tularam Bhuturia to be a Commissioner of the Dinajpur Municipality, vice Babu Tanka Nath Chaudhuri, resigned.

No. 3788M.—The 11th November 1919.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 14 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), the Governor in Council is pleased to appoint the following gentlemen to be Commissioners of the Tollygunge Municipality, in the district of the 24-Parganas, namely:—

1. Babu Purna Chandra Mitra.
2. The Hon'ble Dr. Abdulla-al-Mamun Subrawardy.
3. Sahibzada Muhammad Sultan Alum.

No. 3790M.—The 11th November 1919.—The Governor in Council is pleased to declare his intention, in exercise of the power conferred by section 640 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899 (Bengal Act III of 1899), read with section 22 of the Bengal General Clauses Act, 1899 (Bengal Act I of 1899), to extend to the town of Howrah the following provisions of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, subject to the modifications therein, which are shown in antique type:—

348 (1). The Chairman shall, from time to time, cause to be put up or painted, in a durable manner, on a conspicuous part of some building, wall or place, at or near each end, corner or entrance of every public street, such name as the Commissioners at a meeting may from time to time determine as the name by which such street is to be known.

(2) No person shall, without lawful authority, destroy, pull down, or deface any such name, or put up any name different from that put up by order of the Chairman.

349 (1). The Chairman shall, from time to time, cause a number to be affixed in a conspicuous place on the outside of each building in or near a street or at the entrance of the enclosure of each such building.

(2) No person shall, without lawful authority, destroy, pull down, or deface any such number.

(3) When a number has been affixed under sub-section (1) the owner of the building shall be bound to maintain such number and to replace it if removed or defaced; and if he fails to do so, the Chairman may, by written notice, require him to replace the number.

574. Whoever—

(a) contravenes any provision of any of the clauses of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, as in force in the town of Howrah mentioned in the first column of the following table; or

(b) contravenes any provision of any rule or regulation made under any of the said clauses; or

(c) fails to comply with any direction lawfully given to him or any requisition lawfully made upon him under any of the said clauses, rules or regulations; shall be punished with fine which may extend to the amount mentioned in that behalf in the third column of the said table.

Explanation:—

The entries in the 2nd column of the following table headed "Subject" are not intended as definitions of the offences described in the clauses mentioned in the first column, or even as abstracts of these clauses, but are inserted merely as references to the subject of the clause, the number of which is given in the first column:—

Clauses.	Subject	Fine which may be imposed
		Rs.
Section 348, sub-section (2).	Unlawfully destroying, pulling down, etc., name of public street.	20
Section 349, sub-section (2).	Unlawfully destroying, pulling down, etc., number of building.	20

Schedule XVII.

(43.) No portion of a hut shall be placed within four feet of a masonry building:

Provided that this rule shall not preclude the erection of huts in compounds in any case where masonry out-offices would be permissible.

2. Any objection to such extension on the part of the Commissioners of the Municipality of Howrah or any inhabitant thereof should be submitted in writing, through the District Magistrate, Howrah, to the undersigned before the 1st January 1920.

No. 3761M.—The 10th November 1919.—Under rule 7 of the Local Authorities' Loans Rules, 1915, as subsequently amended, it is hereby notified, for general information, that the Governor in Council intends to sanction the following application from the Commissioners of the Dinajpur Municipality for a loan of Rs. 4,000 from Government, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, and repayable in eight equal half-yearly instalments of Rs. 569-13-3 each, unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of the publication of this notification within the said municipality.

- (a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charge of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the municipality has taken, or has agreed to take, in order to make good the deficiency. Although there has been net deficit instead of surplus of income of this municipality on account of the reason stated under the remark column of the application, the Municipal Commissioners expect a surplus from the next year as explained under that column for reasons stated therein.
- (b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenue of the municipality. Nil.
- (c) A statement of all outstanding loans specifying, in respect of each loan, the date when taken, the purpose (very briefly), the amount, the annual charges involved, and the amount still payable.
- (d) Any explanation is required to receipts and expenditure to show the true financial position of the municipality when such position is otherwise than the ordinary surplus would indicate. Although there has been no net surplus of income of this municipality for the last three years, yet the Municipal Commissioners have kept a sufficient closing balance at the end of every financial year to meet all necessary charges next year as shown in the application. In this connection the explanation given in the application under the remark column is also applicable.

No. 3775 L.S.-G.—The 12th November 1919.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 29A(2) of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), the Governor in Council is pleased to reappoint the District Magistrate of Midnapore to be Chairman of the District Board of Midnapore.

No. 1062 San.—The 7th November 1919.—Mr. G. B. Williams, Sanitary Engineer, Bengal, is allowed combined leave for 15 months, viz., privilege leave, under article 260 of the Civil Service Regulations, for three months with effect from the 13th November 1919 or any subsequent date on which he may avail himself of it, additional privilege leave for 10 days or the amount due under the Government of India, Finance Department order No. 1680.S.R., dated the 24th February 1919, and furlough for the remaining period under article 308 (b) of the Regulations.

No. 1065 San.—The 7th November 1919.—Mr. F. C. Griffin, Assistant Sanitary Engineer, Bengal, is appointed to act as Sanitary Engineer, Bengal, during the absence of Mr. G. B. Williams on combined leave.

(See Government Notification No. 3157J., dated 25th November 1909.)

(Modified in Government Notification No. 320J.D., dated 16th July 1914.)

1. The next examination will be held in February 1920 and will be conducted at the following centres (provided that not less than five names be registered at each centre) :—Sibpur and Dacca, in Bengal, and Bankipur and Cuttack, in Bihar and Orissa.

2. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate will be required to pass by every test and will not be exempted from any test on the ground that he has previously satisfied the examiner in it.

3. Candidates practising in the Courts of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions will be required to present themselves at Sibpur, in Orissa at Cuttack, in Patna, Tirhoot, Bhagalpur and Chota Nagpur Divisions at Bankipur, and in Rajshahi, Dacca and Chittagong Divisions at Dacca.

4. In the event of more than 20 or less than 5 names being registered for examination at any one centre, the Secretary may direct the candidates to present themselves at any other centre.

5. No candidate will be admitted to the examination unless he has been enrolled as a pleader, and

- (i) has obtained credit for attendance at the special course of instruction at Sibpur, Bankipur, Cuttack or Dacca, in 1916, 1917, 1918 or 1919, and has not previously appeared at the examination more than twice, or
- (ii) has been registered for admission to the Intermediate Engineering Examination of the Calcutta University, or
- (iii) has passed the Sub-Overseer Examination, or
- (iv) has obtained the Surveyor's certificate of one of the Government Survey Schools, or
- (v) has been specially exempted from the operation of this rule by the Board controlling the examination.

6. Candidates wishing to appear at the examination will apply, upon the proscribed registration form, obtain the necessary countersignature of the District Judge in whose Court he is enrolled, and forward the same so as to reach the Secretary of the Examination Board at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, not later than the 11th January 1920. The form may be had from the Principal, Civil Engineering College.

7. Each application must be accompanied by a receipt from the local treasury certifying to the receipt of the examination fee of Rs. 50, which fee will in no case be returned.

8. The exact date of the examination and the proposed programme will be communicated to candidates who have registered their names.

NOTIFICATION.

PLEADERS' SURVEY CLASSES, 1920.

1. Classes for the training of pleaders in surveying will be opened in January and February 1920 in connection with the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, the Bihar School of Engineering, Bankipur, the Dacca School of Engineering and the Survey School at Cuttack, provided sufficient candidates register their names at each centre.

2. The course will last for six weeks and will consist of practical work combined with class instruction. The routine and hours of attendance will be settled by the head of the institutions, who will also decide the exact locality in which the classes will be held and the date of the opening.

3. Pleadors must make their own arrangements for attending this course. No tents or other residential accommodation will be provided.

4. Credit for attendance at these classes will not be given unless the pleader has been present for 80 per cent. of the working days and for the full working hours of each day.

5. Any candidate who desires to undergo the course of training must apply to the Principal, Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, not later than 30th November. His application must be endorsed by the District Judge. It should state the centre which the candidate wishes to join, i.e., Sibpur, Bankipur, Cuttack or Dacca, and should be accompanied by a remittance receipt from the local treasury certifying that the fee of Rs. 100 has been paid into the treasury to the credit of the Engineering College.

6. The Secretary will allot candidates to the centres, consulting their wishes as far as possible, giving not more than 24 and not less than 8 to a centre. He will then inform the heads of the institutions of the names and addresses of the candidates registered at their centres, and they will inform the candidates as to the locality and the date of opening.

7. The following is the syllabus of instruction. No definite text-books are prescribed :—

(a) Practical work—

BILL

to amend the law relating to the Regulation of the Eastern Frontier Rifles (Bengal Battalion).

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to the maintenance of discipline among riflemen;

And whereas the previous sanction of the Governor General has been obtained under section 79, sub-section (2), of the Government of India Act, 1915, to the passing of this Act;

5 & 6 Geo.
V, c. 61.

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title, local extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Eastern Frontier Rifles (Bengal Battalion) Act, 1919;

(2) It extends to the whole of Bengal; and

(3) It shall come into force on such day as the Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, direct.

Repeal.

2. The Eastern Bengal and Assam Military Police Act, 1912, is hereby repealed.

E. B. and A.
1912.

Definitions.

3. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

[Cf. 1912,
s. 8.]

(1) "active service" means service at outposts or against hostile tribes or other persons in the field;

(2) "Commandant" or "Assistant Commandant" means a person appointed by the Local Government to be a Commandant or an Assistant Commandant of the Eastern Frontier Rifles (Bengal Battalion), hereinafter referred to as the battalion;

(3) "District Magistrate" includes a Deputy Commissioner and the Superintendent of the Chittagong Hill-tracts;

(4) "rifleman" means a police-officer appointed under section 7 of the Police Act, 1861, who has signed the statement in the Schedule to this Act in accordance with the provisions of this Act, and includes a Military Police-officer appointed under the Bengal Military Police Act, 1892, or the Assam Military Police Regulation, 1890, or the Eastern Bengal and Assam Military Police Act, 1912;

(Clauses 4—6.)

(5) “superior officer” means, in relation to any rifleman,—

(a) any officer of a higher class than, or of a higher grade in the same class as, himself, and

(b) any Assistant Commandant, Commandant or District Magistrate;

(6) the expressions “reason to believe”, “criminal force”, “assault”, “fraudulently” and “voluntarily causing hurt” have the meanings assigned to them respectively in the Indian Penal Code.

Act XLV of 1860.

Appointment and discharge.

4. (1) Before a police-officer appointed under section 7 of the Police Act, 1861, is enrolled under this Act, the statement in the Schedule shall be read and, if necessary, explained, to him, in the presence of a Magistrate, Commandant or Assistant Commandant, and shall be signed by him in acknowledgment of its having been so read to him. [Cf. 1912, s. 4.] V of 1861.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 9 of the Police Act, 1861, a rifleman shall not be entitled to be discharged except in accordance with the terms of the statement which he has signed under this Act.

Classes and rank of riflemen.

5. There may be all or any of the following classes of riflemen, who shall take rank in the order mentioned, namely :— [Cf. 1912, s. 5.]

- (i) Subadars-Major,
- (ii) Subadars,
- (iii) Jamadars,
- (iv) Havildars-Major,
- (v) Havildars,
- (vi) Naiks,
- (vii) Buglers and sipahis, and such grades in each class as the Local Government may, from time to time, direct.

Heinous offences.

6. A rifleman who—

[Cf. 1912, s. 6.]

- (a) begins, excites, causes or joins in any mutiny or sedition, or, being present at any mutiny or sedition, does not use his utmost endeavours to suppress it, or, knowing or having reason to believe in the existence, of any mutiny or sedition, does not without delay give information thereof to his Commanding or other superior officer; or
- (b) uses, or attempts to use, criminal force to, or commits an assault on, his superior officer, knowing or having reason to believe him to be such, whether on or off duty; or
- (c) shamefully abandons or delivers up any garrison, fortress, post or guard which is committed to his charge or which it is his duty to defend; or

The Eastern Frontier Rifles (Bengal Battalion)

(Clause 7.)

- (d) in the presence of an enemy or of any person in arms against whom it is his duty to act, shamefully casts away his arms or his ammunition, or intentionally uses words or any other means to induce any other rifleman to abstain from acting against the enemy, or any such person, or to discourage such officer from acting against the enemy or such person, or who otherwise misbehaves; or
  - (e) directly or indirectly holds correspondence with, or communicates intelligence to, or assists, or relieves, any enemy or person in arms against the State, or omits to discover immediately to his Commanding or other superior officer any such correspondence or communications coming to his knowledge; or
  - (f) directly or indirectly assists or relieves with money, victuals or ammunition, or knowingly harbours or protects, any enemy or person in arms against the State; or
- who, while on active service,—
- (g) disobeys the lawful command of his superior officer; or
  - (h) deserts or attempts to desert the service; or
  - (i) being a sentry, sleeps at his post, or quits it without being regularly relieved or without leave; or
  - (j) without authority leaves his Commanding Officer, or his post or party, to go in search of plunder; or
  - (k) quits his guard, picquet, party or patrol without being regularly relieved or without leave; or
  - (l) uses criminal force to, or commits an assault on, any person bringing provisions or other necessities to camp or quarters, or forces a safeguard, or without authority breaks into any house or any other place for plunder, or plunders, destroys or damages any property of any kind; or
  - (m) intentionally causes or spreads a false alarm in action, camp, garrison or quarters;

shall be punished with transportation for life, or with imprisonment which may extend to fourteen years to which a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees may be added, or with a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Other offences, including acts
 discipline.

7. A rifleman who—

- (a) is in a state of intoxication when on or detailed for any duty, or on parade, or on the line of march; or
- (b) strikes, or forces or attempts to force, any sentry; or

(Clause 7.)

- (c) being in command of a guard, picquet or patrol, refuses to receive any prisoner duly committed to his charge, or, whether in such command or not, releases any prisoner without proper authority or negligently suffers any prisoner to escape; or
- (d) being deputed to any guard, picquet or patrol, quits it without being regularly relieved or without leave; or
- (e) being in command of a guard, picquet or patrol, permits gambling or other behaviour prejudicial to good order and discipline; or
- (f) being under arrest or in confinement, leaves his arrest or confinement before he is set at liberty by proper authority; or
- (g) is grossly insubordinate or insolent to his superior officer in the execution of his office; or
- (h) refuses to superintend or assist in the making of any field work or other military work of any description ordered to be made either in quarters or in the field; or
- (i) strikes or otherwise ill-uses any rifleman subordinate to him in rank or position; or
- (j) being in command at any post or on the march and receiving a complaint that any one under his command has beaten or otherwise maltreated or oppressed any person, or has committed any riot or trespass, fails, on proof of the truth of the complaint, to have due reparation made as far as possible to the injured person and to report the case to the proper authority; or
- (k) designedly or through neglect injures or loses or fraudulently or without due authority disposes of his arms, clothes, tools, equipment, ammunition, accoutrements or other necessities, or any such articles entrusted to him or belonging to any other person; or
- (l) malingers, feigns or produces disease or infirmity in himself, or intentionally delays his cure or aggravates his disease or infirmity; or
- (m) with intent to render himself or any other person unfit for service, voluntarily causes hurt to himself or any other person; or
- (n) commits extortion, or without proper authority exacts from any person carriage, portage or provisions; or
- (o) designedly or through neglect kills, injures, makes away with, ill-treats or loses his horse, or any animal used in the public service; or who, while not on active service,—

- (p) disobeys the lawful command of his superior officer; or
- (q) plunders, destroys or damages any property of any kind; or
- (r) being a sentry, sleeps at his post or quits it without being regularly relieved or without leave; or
- (s) deserts or attempts to desert the service; or
- (t) neglects to obey any battalion or other orders, or commits any act or omission prejudicial to good order and discipline, such act or omission not constituting an offence under the Indian Penal Code or any other Act in force in Bengal, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year, or with a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, or with both.

Minor offences and punishments.

8. (1) A District Magistrate or a Commandant, or, subject to the control of the Commandant, an Assistant Commandant, and, subject to the same control, an officer not below the rank of a Jumadar commanding a separate detachment or an outpost or in temporary command of the battalion at the head-quarters of a district during the absence of the District Magistrate, Commandant and Assistant Commandant, may, without a formal trial, award to any bugler or sipahi who is subject to his authority, any of the following punishments for the commission of any petty offence against discipline, which is not otherwise provided for in this Act, or which is not of a sufficiently serious nature to call for a prosecution before a Criminal Court, that is to say—

s. 8.]

- (a) imprisonment to the extent of seven days in the quarter-guard or such other place as may be considered suitable, with forfeiture of pay and allowances during its continuance;
- (b) punishment drill, extra guard, fatigue or other duty, not exceeding thirty days in duration, with or without confinement to lines;
- (c) forfeiture of pay and allowances for a period not exceeding one month.

(2) Any of these punishments may be awarded separately or in combination with any one or more of the others.

Manner of imprisonment.

9. Any rifleman sentenced under this Act to imprisonment for a period not exceeding three months shall, when he is also dismissed from the police force, be imprisoned in the nearest or such other jail as the Local Government may, by general or special order, direct, but, when he is not also dismissed from that force, he may, if the convicting court or the District Magistrate so directs, be confined in the quarter-guard or such other place as the court or Magistrate may consider suitable.

THE SCHEDULE.

STATEMENT.

(See sections 3 and 4.)

After you have served for three years in the Eastern Frontier Rifles (Bengal Battalion), you may, at any time when not on active service, apply for your discharge, through the officer to whom you may be subordinate, to a Commandant of the battalion, or to the Magistrate of the district in which you may be serving; and you will be granted your discharge after two months from the date of your application, unless your discharge would cause the vacancies in the battalion to exceed one-tenth of the sanctioned strength; in that case you must remain until this objection is waived by competent authority or removed. But when on active service you have no claim to a discharge and you must remain and do your duty until the necessity for retaining you in the battalion ceases, when you may make your application in the manner hereinbefore prescribed. In the event of your re-enlistment after you have been discharged, you will have no claim to reckon for pension or any other purpose your service previous to your discharge.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to remove the anomaly at present involved in the application of the Eastern Bengal and Assam Military Police Act, 1912 (E. B. and Assam Act III of 1912), which was intended for the combined Eastern Bengal and Assam Military Police force, to two distinct forces in Bengal and Assam, which have taken the place of that force, since the re-constitution of territories in 1912, and to make the Act applicable to the existing Presidency of Bengal. The Act originally extended to Eastern Bengal and Assam. In 1914 it was extended to Western Bengal by the Bengal Laws Act, 1914 (Ben. Act I of 1914), section 4, Sch. II, and by section 6, Sch. IV, of that Act the Bengal Military Police Act, 1892 (V of 1892) which was previously in force in Western Bengal, was repealed in that area. No changes of substance are proposed by the Bill, but the necessary verbal alterations have been made, and as these are numerous, it has been considered advisable to repeal and re-enact the Act of 1912. The opportunity has been taken to change the designation of the "Bengal Military Police" to the "Eastern Frontier Rifles (Bengal Battalion)". The Administration of Assam has also a similar bill under consideration.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 2 repeals the Eastern Bengal and Assam Military Police Act, 1912, which the proposed Act is intended to supersede in Bengal.

Clause 3.—Owing to the change of designation referred to in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, the word "riflesman" has been used in sub-clause (4) of this clause instead of the expression "Military Police Officer", and a similar change has been made throughout the Bill.

Clause 6.—In sub-clause (d) after the word "enemy", in the last two places where it occurs, the words "or any such person" and "or such person", respectively, which appear to have been unintentionally omitted from the existing Act, have been inserted. For a similar reason the words "enemy or" have been inserted before the words "person in arms" in sub-clause (e) of this clause.

Bills introduced in the Indian Legislative Council, Reports of Select Committees, presented to the Council, and Bills published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 28th October 1919.

No. 96.—The Governor General has been pleased, under Rule 23 of the Rules for the Conduct of the Legislative Business of the Council of the Governor General, to order the publication in the Gazette of India and in the local official Gazettes in English, of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, and the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information :—

BILL NO. 34 OF 1919.

A Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Government Securities.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to Government securities; it is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Securities Act, 19 ; and Short title and commencement.

(2) It shall come into force on the first day of April, 19 .

2. In this Act—

Definitions.

(a) "Government security" includes promissory notes, stock-certificates, bearer bonds and all other securities issued by the Governor General in Council or by any Local Government in respect of any loan contracted either before or after the passing of this Act, but does not include a currency-note; and

(b) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act.

3. Save as otherwise provided in or under this Act, no notice of any trust in respect of any Government security shall be receivable by the Government :

Provided that an indorsement by an executor or administrator as such shall not be deemed to convey notice of any trust under a will, nor shall the Government be bound to inquire into the terms of any will, but it shall be entitled to treat such executor or administrator as full owner of the security.

4. (1) Notwithstanding anything in section 45 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, when a Government security is payable to two or more persons jointly and either or any of them dies, the security shall be payable to the survivor or survivors of these persons.

(2) Nothing herein contained shall affect any claim which the representative of the deceased person may have against the survivor or survivors under or in respect of the security jointly payable to him or them and the deceased.

(3) This section shall apply whether the death of the person to whom the security was jointly payable occurred or occurs before or after this Act comes into force.

XXVI of 1881. 5. Notwithstanding anything in section 15 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, no indorsement of a Government security shall be valid unless made by the signature of the holder inscribed on the back of the security itself.

6. (1) In the case of any public office to which the Governor General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare this sub-section to apply, a Government security may be made or indorsed payable to or to the order of the holder for the time being of the office by the name of the office.

(2) When a Government security is made or indorsed as aforesaid, it shall be deemed to be transferred without any or further indorsement from each holder for the time being of the office to the succeeding holder for the time being of the office on and from the date on which the latter takes charge of the office.

(3) When the holder for the time being of the office indorses to a third party a Government security made or indorsed as aforesaid, he shall subscribe the indorsement with his name and the name of the office.

(4) A writing on a Government security now or heretofore standing in the name of the holder of a public office, whereby the security has been or was made or indorsed payable to or to the order of the holder of the office for the time being by the name of the office, shall not be deemed to be or to have been invalid by reason only of the security having been so made or indorsed.

(5) This section applies as well to an office of which there are two or more joint holders as to an office of which there is a single holder.

XXVI of 1881. 7. Notwithstanding anything in the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, the Governor General in Council may, in respect of any loan, issue to the ruler of any State in India Government securities in such form and subject to such conditions as to negotiability, succession and other matters as may be prescribed.

XXVI of 1881. 8. Notwithstanding anything in the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, a person shall not, by reason only of his having indorsed a Government security, be liable to pay any money due, either as principal or as interest, thereunder.

9. (1) The signature of the person authorized to sign Government securities on behalf of the Government may be printed, engraved or lithographed, or impressed by such other mechanical process as the Governor General in Council may direct, on the securities.

(2) A signature so printed, engraved, lithographed or otherwise impressed shall be as valid as if it had been inscribed in the proper handwriting of the person so authorized.

Issue of duplicate, renewed, converted, consolidated or sub-divided securities.

10. (1) When a Government security is alleged to have been lost or destroyed either wholly or in part, and a person claims to be the person to whom but for the loss or destruction it would be payable, he may, on application to the prescribed officer, and on producing proof to his satisfaction of the loss or destruction and of the justice of the claim and on payment of the prescribed fee, if any, obtain from him an order for—

- (a) the payment of interest in respect of the security said to be lost or destroyed pending the issue of a duplicate security; and
- (b) the issue of a duplicate security payable to the applicant.

(2) An order shall not be passed under sub-section (1) until after the issue of the prescribed notification of the loss or destruction and after the expiration of the prescribed period.

(3) A list of the securities in respect of which an order is passed under sub-section (1) shall be published in the prescribed manner.

11. (1) Subject to the provisions of section 12, a person claiming to be entitled to a Government promissory note may, on applying to the prescribed officer, and on satisfying him of the justice of his claim and delivering the promissory note receipted in the prescribed manner, and paying the prescribed fee, if any, obtain from such officer a renewed promissory note payable to him:

Provided that, when application is made for the renewal of a Government promissory note which appears to the prescribed officer to stand in the name of a deceased member of a joint Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara law, a renewed promissory note shall not be issued to the applicant unless he furnishes a certificate signed by such authority as may be prescribed after inquiry in the prescribed manner to the effect that the deceased belonged to an undivided Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara law, that the promissory note formed part of the joint property of the family, and that the applicant is the managing or sole surviving male member of the family:

Provided further that the issue of a renewed Government promissory note in such a case shall not affect any claim which any person claiming through the deceased person may have in respect of such promissory note against the applicant.

(2) The prescribed officer may, on the application of the holder of a bearer bond, on delivery of the bearer bond and on payment of the prescribed fee, if any, issue to the applicant a renewed bearer bond.

12. (1) Where there is a dispute as to the title to a Government promissory note in respect of which an application for renewal has been made, the prescribed officer may—

- (a) refuse to renew such note until the parties have obtained a decision as to title from a Court of competent jurisdiction, or

(b) after such inquiry as is hereinafter provided and consideration of the result thereof, declare by order in writing which of the parties is in his opinion entitled to such note and may, after the expiration of three months from the date of such declaration, renew the note in favour of such party in accordance with the provisions of section 11 unless within that period he has received notice that proceedings have been instituted by any person in a Court of competent jurisdiction for the purpose of establishing a title to such note.

(2) For the purpose of the inquiry referred to in sub-section (1), the prescribed officer may himself record, or may request the District Magistrate to record or to have recorded, the whole or any part of such evidence as the parties may produce. When such request has been made to the District Magistrate, such Magistrate may himself record or may direct any Magistrate of the first class subordinate to him to record the evidence, and shall forward a copy thereof to the prescribed officer.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this sub-section, the District Magistrate means the District Magistrate having jurisdiction in the place where interest on the security is payable and, where interest is payable at a presidency-town or Rangoon, the Chief Presidency Magistrate, or at a place in a State in India, the Political Agent.

(3) The prescribed officer or any Magistrate acting under this section may, if he thinks fit, record evidence on oath.

13. (1) The prescribed officer may, on the issue of converted, application of a person claiming to be entitled to a Government security or securities, on being satisfied of the justice of the claim and on delivery of the security or securities receipted in the prescribed manner, and on payment of the prescribed fee, if any, convert, consolidate or sub-divide the security or securities.

(2) The conversion, consolidation or sub-division referred to in sub-section (1) may be into a security or securities of the same or different classes or of the same or different loans.

(3) No such conversion, consolidation or sub-division shall affect the rights of any other person to the security or securities so converted, consolidated or sub-divided, as against the person upon whose application such conversion, consolidation or sub-division was made.

Discharge.

14. On payment by or on behalf of the Discharge of bearer Government to the holder bonds, etc. of a bearer bond or other Government security payable to bearer of the amount expressed thereon on or after the date when it becomes due, on renewal of a bearer bond under sub-section (2) of section 11, on renewal of a Government promissory note under section 12, or on conversion, consolidation or sub-division of a bearer bond under section 13, the Government shall be discharged in the same way and to the same extent as if such bearer bond, promissory note or other security were a promissory note payable to bearer:

Provided that, in the case of a Government promissory note renewed under section 12, nothing in this section shall be deemed to bar a claim against the Government in respect of a security so renewed by any person who either had no notice of the proceedings under that section, or who claims through a person who had no such notice.

15. Save as provided in section 14, when a Discharge in case of duplicate security has been duplicate and renewed issued under section 10 or securities.

a renewed security has been issued under section 11 or section 12 or a converted, consolidated or sub-divided security or securities has or have been issued under section 13, the Government shall be discharged from all liability in respect of the security or securities in place of which a duplicate, renewed, converted, consolidated or sub-divided security or securities has or have been issued—

(a) in the case of a duplicate security after the lapse of six years from the date of the publication under sub-section (2) of section 10 of the list in which the security is first mentioned, or from the date of the last payment of interest on the original security, whichever date is later;

(b) in the case of a renewed, converted, consolidated or sub-divided security after the lapse of six years, from the date of the issue thereof.

Summary procedure in certain cases.

16. (1) If within three months of the death of a person who was entitled to a Government security or securities (other than a security payable to bearer) the nominal or face value of which does not in the aggregate exceed five thousand rupees, probate of the will or letters of administration of the estate of such person or a certificate granted under the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, is not produced VII of 1889. to the prescribed officer, such officer may, after inquiry in the manner provided in sub-sections (2) and (3) of section 12, determine who is the person entitled to the security or securities or to administer the estate of the deceased, and may,

(a) in the case of any such security relating to a loan due for repayment, authorise payment of the amount due thereon to such person; and

(b) in the case of any such security relating to a loan not due for repayment, authorise, in the case of a promissory note, the renewal of such promissory note in favour of such person, or, in the case of stock, the registration of the name of such person in substitution for the name of the deceased.

Explanation.—Where a certificate has been granted under the Succession Certificate Act, VII of 1889, in respect of some only of the securities to which the deceased person was entitled, the provisions of this sub-section shall apply when the value of the remaining securities does not exceed five thousand rupees.

(2) Upon the payment or renewal of any promissory note in accordance with sub-section (1), the Government shall be discharged from all liability in respect of the note so paid or renewed; and any substitution of names made in accordance with clause (b) of sub-section (1) shall, for the purposes of any claim against the Government, be deemed to have effected a valid transfer of the stock in respect of which it was made.

(3) Any creditor or claimant against the estate of the deceased may recover his debt or claim out of money paid to any person under sub-section (1) and remaining in his hands undistributed in the same manner and to the same extent as if the said person had obtained letters of administration of the estate of the deceased, and nothing in this section shall affect any claim of an executor or administrator or other representative of the deceased against such person other than a claim to recover amounts lawfully paid by him in due course of administration of the estate of the deceased.

minor or a person who is insane and incapable of managing his affairs, the interest accruing thereon, or the capital sum payable in respect thereof on the maturity or discharge of the loan, shall be paid in such manner as may be prescribed, and on any payment being so made, the Government shall, notwithstanding any provision of any enactment to the contrary, be discharged from all liability in respect thereof.

Indemnity.

18. Notwithstanding anything in sections 10, 11, 12 or 13, the prescribed

Indemnity. officer may in any case arising under any of these sections -

(i) issue a duplicate or renewed security or convert, consolidate or sub-divide a security or securities upon the applicant giving the prescribed indemnity against the claims of all persons claiming under the original security or under the security or securities so renewed, converted, consolidated or sub-divided, as the case may be, or

(ii) refuse to issue a duplicate or renewed security or to convert, consolidate or sub-divide a security or securities unless such indemnity is given.

person payment of interest or of the capital sum due in respect of any Government security, or the issue of a duplicate security, or the renewal, conversion, consolidation or sub-division of a Government security or securities, makes to any authority under this Act a statement which is false and which he either knows to be false or does not believe to be true, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine, or with both.

Rules.

21. (1) The Governor General in Council may, after previous publication, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

- (a) the manner in which payment of interest in respect of Government securities is to be recorded and acknowledged ;
- (b) the circumstances in which Government securities must be renewed before further payment of interest thereon can be claimed ;
- (c) the form in which and the conditions subject to which Government securities may be issued to the rulers of States in India ;
- (d) the fees to be paid in respect of the issue of duplicate securities and of the renewal, conversion, consolidation and sub-division of Government securities ;
- (e) the proof which is to be produced by persons applying for duplicate securities ;
- (f) the form and manner of publication of the notification mentioned in section 10 and the period after which interest may be paid or a duplicate security may be issued under that section, and the manner of publication of the list mentioned in sub-section (3) of that section ;
- (g) the officer who is to exercise all or any of the powers and to perform all or any of the duties referred to in sections 10, 11, 12, 13, 16, and 18 ;
- (h) the form in which securities delivered for discharge, renewal, conversion, consolidation or sub-division are to be receipted ;
- (i) the person to whom and the manner in which payments are to be made in respect of Government securities standing in the name of, or held by, minors or persons who are insane and incapable of managing their affairs ;
- (j) the taking of indemnities against adverse claims of third parties from persons who receive payment of interest or of the capital sum due in respect of Government securities, or who obtain duplicate, renewed, converted, consolidated or sub-divided securities ;
- (k) the manner in which any document relating to Government securities or any indorsement on a Government promissory note may, on the demand of any person who from any cause is unable to write, be executed on his behalf ;

- (d) the recognition of trusts in the case of Government stock and of powers of attorney granted to persons holding stock as trustees whether of any particular trust or without qualification;
- (m) the holding of Government stock by the holders of offices other than public offices, and the manner in which and the conditions subject to which stock so held may be transferred;
- (n) the mode of attestation of documents relating to Government stock;
- (o) generally, all matters connected with the grant of duplicate, renewed, converted consolidated and sub-divided securities; and
- (p) the circumstances and the manner in which, and the conditions subject to which, inspection of books, registers and other documents may be allowed or information therefrom may be given under section 19.

(3) Nothing in any rules made under clauses (l) and (m) shall, as between any trustees or as between any trustees and the beneficiaries under a trust, be deemed to authorise the trustees to act otherwise than in accordance with the rules of law applying to the trust and the terms of the instrument constituting the trust; and neither the Government nor any person holding or acquiring any interest in any Government stock shall, by reason only of any entry in any register maintained by or on behalf of the Government in relation to any Government stock or any stockholder, or of anything in any document relating to Government stock, be affected with notice of any trust or of the fiduciary character of any stockholder or of any fiduciary obligation attaching to the holding of any Government stock.

(4) Rules made under this section shall be published in the Gazette of India, and shall thereupon have effect as if enacted in this Act.

Repeals.

22. On and from the date on which this Act comes into force, the Indian Securities Act, 1886, and so XII of 18 much of the First and Second Schedules of the Repealing and Amending Act, 1914, as relates to X of 1914, the Indian Securities Act, 1886, shall be repealed. XI of 188

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE existence of various defects and doubtful points in the present law regarding Government securities (Act XIII of 1886) has for some time pointed to the necessity of overhauling and re-casting that Act, in order that the law governing such securities, and the procedure and regulations based thereon, may be better adapted to the requirements of modern conditions. The principal changes introduced by this Bill are summarised below:—

(a) To legalise certain matters in the existing practice and procedure which it is desirable to maintain, but of which the legal basis is at present doubtful.

(b) To obviate difficulties and delays which are at present liable to occur, in cases of disputed or doubtful claims on promissory notes, in discovering who is the Government's legal creditor in respect of such notes;

(c) To relax the present procedure in certain matters, such as receiving notice of a trust and securities held by office holders; and

(d) To provide special facilities in cases of small holdings of which the holder has died or is a minor.

2. The clauses of the Bill which introduce these changes are as follows:—

Clause 3. This corresponds to section 4 of the existing Act, the rigidity of which has caused much trouble in practice. The proviso to this clause legalises the existing practice regarding executors and administrators, while sub-clauses (l) and (m) of clause 21 (2) of the Bill will, in the case of Government debt held in the form of stock, enable various facilities to be given to the public, in the matter of securities held in trust or in the name of office holders (other than the holders of a public office), which are not possible under the existing law.

Clauses 4, 5 and 6 reproduce sections 5, 6 and 7 of the present Act.

Clause 7 is new and designed to legalise the present practice of issuing special notes to the Rulers of Indian States.

Clauses 8, 9 and 10 reproduce sections 9, 10 and 12 of the existing Act.

Clause 11 corresponds to section 11 of the present Act, but contains a proviso legalising the practice which is at present followed regarding securities belonging to a joint Hindu family, while sub-clause (2) provides for the renewal of bearer bonds.

Clause 12 introduces a definite procedure in cases in which adverse claims arise, and provides a means for their more expeditious disposal than is possible under the existing law.

Clause 13 provides for the conversion, consolidation or sub-division of Government securities, for which at present no specific provision exists.

Clause 14 provides for Government's liability being discharged in the case of bearer bonds and, in certain cases, of other securities, on payment, renewal, conversion, consolidation or sub-division, while the proviso safeguards the interests of third parties who may in certain cases be adversely affected as the result of proceedings under clause 12.

Clause 15 corresponds to section 13 of the existing Act, but includes provision for converted, consolidated or sub-divided securities.

Clause 16 introduces a procedure on the lines of sections 4 to 7 of the Government Savings Banks Act, 1873 (V of 1873), which will enable claims in respect of small holdings standing in the names of deceased persons to be expeditiously met.

Under clause 17 Government takes power to prescribe the procedure to be followed in the case of securities held by minors or lunatics, and thereby to dispense with the formalities which under the existing law must attend transactions connected with securities so held.

Clause 18 provides for the taking of indemnities, and will cover cases in which there is reason to doubt a claimant's title though no adverse claimant has actually appeared.

Clause 19 places on a legal basis the confidential character of the books, registers, etc., maintained in the Public Debt Offices. The practice in England is to allow no inspection by the public, though a search is made at the request of bona fide applicants and the results reported to them. This is generally the practice followed in India, although at present it does not rest on any specific legal provision.

Clause 20 introduces a specific provision to penalise false statements made in proceedings in respect of securities for the purpose of obtaining payment or renewal and the like.

Of the rule-making powers enumerated in clause 21 (2) (a) (b), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), the second half of (j) and (o) correspond to and generally reproduce the rule-making powers conferred by section 14 of the existing Act. Of the remainder (c), (i) and (p) are consequential to clauses 7, 17 and 19, respectively, of the Bill, the first half of (j) being consequential to clause 18. (l) and (m) have been mentioned above under clause 3. (k) and (n) are new, and are designed to facilitate the procedure regarding the matters mentioned therein.

Sub-clause (3) of clause 21 has been adapted from the English law, and lays down the limits within which the recognition of trusts can operate, at the same time safeguarding the interests of beneficiaries.

SIMLA ;

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 6th November 1919.

Summary.—The week was rainless. In West Bengal highland paddy is suffering owing to the continued want of rain. Harvesting of early winter paddy continues. Sowing of spring crops is proceeding, but in some western districts the progress is slow owing to insufficient moisture in the soil. The average price of common rice for the province has fallen by about 4·16 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week. The conditions in Bankura are published separately.

No. 13603 Mis.—The 14th November 1919.—The Governor in Council is pleased to make the following revised rules for the regulation of appointments in the clerical service of the Secretariat of the Government of Bengal and certain Government offices in future in supersession of all previous rules issued on the subject.

C. F. PAYNE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules for the regulation of appointments in the clerical service of the Secretariat of the Government of Bengal.

THE clerical service of the Secretariat of the Government of Bengal is divided into two divisions—the Upper Division and the Lower Division.

UPPER DIVISION.

2. The Upper Division of each department is divided into six grades thus:—

						Rs.
I	Grade	...	...	...	...	400
II	"	...	...	...	...	300
III	"	...	...	...	...	250
IV	"	...	...	...	...	200
V	"	...	...	...	...	150
VI	"	...	...	...	...	125

There are local allowances of Rs. 100 attached to certain of the posts of Head Assistant.

3. Vacancies which occur in the Upper Division of each department will be filled in succession by the following methods:—

- (a) Selection of suitable candidates from the yearly nominations made by the Commissioners of Divisions and others for the Provincial Executive Service, the Police Service, the Subordinate Civil Service, or the Excise and Salt Service and from among other candidates for these services, whom the Chief Secretary has marked "as deserving of consideration for a Secretariat appointment." The indispensable qualification for an appointment in the Upper Division under this rule will be that the candidate must have passed the B.A. Examination or its equivalent, and preference will be given to those who passed with Honours.
- (b) Selection of suitable Europeans or Eurasians. The educational attainments required of such candidates will be the Intermediate Examination, the High School Pass Examination, the Senior Cambridge Local Examination, the Cambridge Senior School Certificate Examination or a certificate that the candidate has passed the final examination of the advanced Commercial Classes. In this case preference will be given to graduates.
- (c) Promotion from the Lower Division.

No clerk in the Lower Division, however, has, as a matter of right, any claim to promotion in the Upper Division, which will be given strictly according to merit.

Every third vacancy in the Upper Division will be filled up by method (c) after all the assistants who were recruited previous to April 1910 and are considered fit for promotion to the Upper Division have been provided for in that Division.

4. For the purpose of the selection of candidates under rule 3 (b), the Director of Public Instruction shall be asked to submit, in consultation with the authorities of European colleges and schools, the names of two or three candidates for each vacancy who possess the qualifications prescribed. From among those, a selection will be made by the Secretaries at a meeting.

5. Candidates selected under rules 3 (a) and 3 (b) will be on probation for one year, during which they will be given a subsistence allowance of Rs. 75 per month, which will be enhanced to Rs. 100 after one year's approved service. Candidates selected under rule 3 (c) will be on probation for one year, during which they may be given the full pay of the lowest grade or any less allowance which may appear to the department concerned to be suitable.

LOWER DIVISION.

6. The pay of the clerks in the Lower Division of the Secretariat is Rs. 50 rising to a maximum of Rs. 125 by an annual increment of Rs. 3 in 25 years, subject to approved service, with an efficiency bar at the stage of Rs. 80 (Rs. 100 in the case of the clerks who are already employed in the Secretariat). The bar will apply in the case of those clerks who are employed on purely routine work, such as despatcher, sorter, recorder, indexer, diarist, inter-departmental clerk, file-keeper, etc.

In recognition of long service in the Lower Division a personal allowance of Rs. 25 a month may be granted to clerks who have been in receipt of Rs. 125 for at least three years and have not received promotion to the Upper Division, although their work has been specially meritorious. This concession will not, however, be given as a matter of course but is intended to reward exceptional cases.

7. The vacancies which occur in the Lower Division of the departments of the Secretariat will be filled up by means of a competitive examination. In special cases, as laid down in rules 14 and 15, appointments may be made by nomination.

8. The examination will be held in the month of August of each year. The arrangement for the examination will be made by the Board of Examiners, Fort William, who will be assisted by paid examiners, and will act in communication with the Financial Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

9. Candidates will be required to produce evidence that they have been through a complete secondary school course. In the case of Europeans and Anglo-Indians, applicants may be accepted who have obtained the elementary school certificate and have taken the supplementary commercial course prescribed by the European Schools Code. Every candidate must submit before the 15th July a written application for permission to appear at the examination.

10. The application under the last rule shall be in the form given in

To
The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

Sir,

I request permission to present myself at the ensuing examination of the candidates for appointment in the clerical service of the Secretariat of the Government of Bengal.

2. A treasury receipt for the fee of Rs. 10 is forwarded here with.

I am, etc.

the margin, and must be accompanied by a treasury receipt for the sum of Rs. 10. This sum the candidate is required to pay into the treasury nearest his place of residence by way of examination fee.

With the application must also be forwarded—

- (i) The candidate's evidence that he has been through a complete secondary school course, and in the case of Europeans and Anglo-Indians, that he has obtained the elementary school certificate and taken the supplementary commercial course prescribed by the European Schools Code.
- (ii) Evidence that the candidate, at the date of making the application, is not less than 18 and not more than 24 years of age. The date of the candidate's birth must be stated.
- (iii) In case the candidate has been educated at a school in which students' good conduct registers are kept, and in case a year has not elapsed since he left school, an extract from the register relating to the candidate for the last year of his attendance at school, certified by the head master. In other cases a certificate that the candidate is of good moral character is required from the head of the institution in which he has last been educated, or from some respectable householder to whom he is well known in private life, and who is himself known to a District or Subdivisional Magistrate, or to the head of some Government office, this last fact being certified by the countersignature of the officer in question.
- (iv) If the candidate is employed under Government, a certificate by the head of the office or department to the effect that in his opinion there is no objection to the candidate appearing at the ensuing clerkship examination.
- (v) A statement whether the candidate has appeared at any previous clerkship examination, and, if so, in what year.

11. There will be a preliminary test in dictation and handwriting and a viva voce examination in English and general knowledge which the candidate must satisfy. The examination in these subjects will not be competitive, but marks will be assigned for the purpose of testing efficiency. Papers of candidates will be examined as soon as possible after the examination, and the examiners will require any candidate, who fails to obtain two-thirds of the marks in each subject or to pass the viva voce examination, to withdraw from further examination. The remaining subjects will be—

	Marks.
(1) English, including commercial correspondence, letter drafting and précis writing (two papers). The syllabus will be that of the Government commercial classes and the marking will be stringent	100
(2) Mathematics, including Arithmetic, the whole; Algebra and Geometry	100
(3) Geography and History	100
Optional subjects—Shorthand (Pitman's), speed test, 100 words	75
Typewriting (speed test, 35 words a minute)	75

No candidate will be credited with marks in any subject in which he fails to get one-fourth of the full marks.

12. As soon as practicable after the examination, the Board of Examiners will report the result to the Financial Secretary to the Government of Bengal. The report will contain the names of all the candidates in order of merit, and subject to their being adjudged fit on the results of the examination, the exact dates of their births and the number of marks obtained by each candidate in each subject. The candidates will then be offered, in order of merit, their choice of the various vacancies, and they will be appointed accordingly, subject to any arrangement which the Financial Department may find necessary in consultation with the department concerned, with special reference to rule 15. Any vacancy occurring after the examination and before the first day of the following April will be offered through the Financial Department to the remaining candidates in the list in the same way. Vacancies occurring after the 1st April in any year will be reserved for competition at the examination in the ensuing August.

13. Each selected candidate will be placed on probation for 12 months. His allowance during this period will be Rs. 40 per month.

GENERAL.

14. The head of an office will retain the power of appointing men of special ability or aptitude to any post in the office when such a post cannot be filled in the ordinary way.

15. (1) The head of an office will also reserve the power of appointing suitable Muhammadans to either the upper division or the lower division. In the case of the upper division of the Secretariat every third appointment in each office made under rule 3 shall ordinarily be given to a Muhammadan, provided he possesses the educational qualifications required by rule 3(a). In the lower division of the departments of the Secretariat and attached offices every third appointment in each office shall ordinarily be given to a Muhammadan who possesses the educational qualifications required by rule 9 and furnishes the evidence required by rule 10. The assistance of recognised Muhammadan Associations and that of the Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education should be utilised in securing qualified candidates for appointments in either division. In the lower division such selection shall be made only when there is no suitable Muhammadan candidate in the competitive examination to whom the post can be offered.

(2) Until the proportion of Muhammadans in the various offices reaches one-third, the claims of qualified Muhammadan candidates shall be considered in filling up all vacancies.

16. If at any time during the period of probation, or at its close, the probationer's work is not considered satisfactory by the head of the office in which he is employed, he may be discharged and will have no claim to either gratuity or compensation. If, however, he was admitted from another office he may be reverted to his former appointment, or if this is not practicable, transferred to another appointment on the same pay.

17. Every probationer, before appointment, will be required to produce a statement showing to whom he is related or connected in the office in which he desires to serve. He must state the precise relationship or connection and certify that his statement, so far as he knows, is correct and complete. If any wilful inaccuracy is subsequently detected in this declaration, the person making it will be liable to be discharged from Government service.

18. Promotion of clerks in the upper division is regulated by seniority and merit combined, but in the higher grades more importance will be attached to merit.

19. Every appointment is made subject to the production of a medical certificate from the Presidency Surgeon, who is entrusted with the duty of examining candidates for appointment in the particular office to which the probationer has been appointed.

20. Rules 7 to 12 and rule 15 will apply mutatis mutandis to the following offices:—

Board of Revenue, Bengal; Inspector-General of Prisons; Inspector-General of Police; Director of Public Instruction; Director of Land Records; Director of Agriculture; Inspector-General of Registration; Surgeon-General with the Government of Bengal; Superintendent of Emigration and Protector of Emigrants; Collector of Customs, Calcutta; Collector of Income-tax, Calcutta; Commissioner of Excise and Salt, and Sanitary Commissioner.

21. Copies of these rules may be obtained on application at the office of the Financial Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

NOTICE.

DEPARTMENT OF MINES IN INDIA, DHANBAD P.O., MANBHUM.*Indian Mines Act, 1901.

AN examination for first class Coal Mine Managers' Certificates of Competency under the rules applicable to coal mines will be held on the 16th, 17th and 18th February 1920. An examination for second class Coal Mine Managers' Certificates of Competency will be held on the 23rd, 24th and 25th February 1920. Both examinations will be held at the Railway Institute, Dhanbad.

Rules 32 and 33 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901, require that a candidate for a first class certificate must be at least 23 years of age and have had at least five years' practical experience in a coal mine, and for a second class certificate be at least 21 years of age and have had at least three years' practical experience in a coal mine. The periods of practical experience may be reduced to three years and one year respectively, in the case of a candidate who has received a diploma in scientific and mining subjects after a course of study of at least two years at an educational institution approved in this behalf by the Governor-General in Council, or who has taken a degree in scientific and mining subjects at a University approved in this behalf by the Governor-General in Council.

The fees are Rs. 15 in the case of first class certificates and Rs. 8 in the case of second class certificates. By rule 34 of Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry, notification No. 2968-82, dated the 21st April 1906, "these fees shall be paid, not less than one month prior to the date of the examination, to the Chief Inspector of Mines at his office." The fees may be remitted by money-order or paid in any other manner.

Applications and fees should be addressed to the Chief Inspector of Mines in India, Dhanbad Post Office, East Indian Railway, and not to any officer by name. No candidate will be permitted to sit at the examination unless his application, supported by original certificates as to experience and character, and fee, is received, in the case of a candidate for the first class certificate examination on or before the 15th January 1920, and, in the case of a candidate for the second class certificate examination on or before the 22nd January 1920. Candidates are advised to send all papers under registered cover.

CUSTOMS—WAR.

Simla, the 8th November 1919.

No. 9216.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 3 of the Import and Export of Goods Act, 1916 (XI of 1916), the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the following amendments shall be made in the notification in this Department No. 7822, dated the 27th September 1919, as subsequently amended:—

(i) From the third proviso of the preamble, delete the words “kerosene oil.”

(ii) From the schedule delete the words “(A) Kerosene oil.”

No. 9291.—The following extract from the Board of Trade Journal, dated the 2nd October 1919, is published for general information:—

GOVERNMENT NOTICES AFFECTING TRADE.

EXPORT SECTION.

TRADING WITH LATE ENEMY AND OTHER COUNTRIES.

The following notes on trading conditions as affected by the raising of the blockade, the authorisation of the resumption of trade with Germany and other countries, and the removal of United Kingdom import restrictions, are published by the Board of Trade for the information of British traders. These notes supersede those published in July last as Parliamentary Return "Cmd. 274."

During the war it had been necessary to prohibit all trading with the enemy, but with the conclusion of peace with Germany the necessity for this prohibition has ceased. It may be expected that there will be a considerable demand in the late enemy countries for all kinds of goods; as this market is now open to all the world, it is no part of the policy of His Majesty's Government to discourage British traders from competing therein, and it is desirable that British traders should make every effort to secure a proper footing in Central Europe.

I.—GERMANY.

Exports.—Any goods may be sent to Germany without licence, except goods on Lists "A" and "B" of prohibited exports. Applications for export licences in respect of goods included in those lists should be addressed to the Export Licence Department, 1, Queen Anne's Gate Buildings, Westminster, S. W. 1. It is understood that at present the import of all goods into unoccupied Germany is subject to import licence, for which the German consignee has to make application to the competent authority in Berlin.

Imports.—Any goods may be imported from Germany, and paid for, without licence, except goods whose importation from all foreign countries is prohibited. Import prohibitions now apply only to a small number of goods, a list of which will be found in the Board of Trade Journal of the 28th August 1919.

Other transactions.—Other transactions of a commercial or financial nature with firms in Germany are permissible without further licence, provided they do not involve any of the following matters, namely:—

- (a) the payment of money arising out of pre-war transactions;
- (b) the delivery of or dealing with property held in this country for persons in Germany since before the outbreak of war;
- (c) the transfer of securities by or on behalf of a person in Germany;
- (d) the allotment or transfer of securities issued by a company to or for the benefit of a German subject;
- (e) the transfer of any debt or other obligation due to a person in Germany.

It should, of course, be understood that, as regards the financing of transactions, traders must make the best arrangements they can, and, in case of uncertainty as to the best mode of procedure, they should consult their bankers.

II.—THE TERRITORIES PREVIOUSLY INCLUDED IN THE AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN DOMINIONS.

The British regulations are the same as those set out above in the case of Germany, except that List "D" applies in the case of exports to Austria and Jugo-Slavia.

III.—TURKEY AND BULGARIA.

Except that List "D" of prohibited exports applies to Turkey, and Lists "D" and "E" to Bulgaria, the British regulations are the same as for Germany.

IV.—NORWAY, SWEDEN, DENMARK, HOLLAND AND SWITZERLAND.

It is no longer necessary to obtain certificates from Importing Associations in these countries, or to procure other forms of guarantee, or to consign goods to such Associations. Export licences, for which application should be made to the Export Licence Department at the address given above, are required only for goods on Lists "A" and "B" of prohibited exports.

V.—POLAND, FINLAND, ESTHONIA, LETTLAND, LITHUANIA.

So far as British regulations are concerned, there are no special restrictions on trade with these countries, but as in the case of other foreign countries export licences are required for goods on Lists "A" and "B" and general prohibitions of import apply to these as to other countries.

Further information regarding the export of goods to the above and other countries will be found in the "List of Export Prohibited Goods," which is published fortnightly by the Export Licence Department of the Board of Trade, 1, Queen Anne's Gate Buildings, Westminster, S.W. 1.

Consular Certificates of Origin and Interest.—These certificates are no longer required for goods imported into this country.

Declarations of Ultimate Destination and Disclosure of Names of Consignees.—These declarations will no longer be required to be made in respect of exports from the United Kingdom, and disclosure of the name of the consignee on Bills of Lading or Shipping Manifests is unnecessary, except in a limited number of cases where the Export Licence Department may continue to specify on an export licence the name of the consignee.

No. 9295.—The following Board of Trade list, dated the 10th October 1919, on the subject of prohibitions of export from the United Kingdom, is published for general information :—

BOARD OF TRADE,
EXPORT LICENCE DEPARTMENT,
1, QUEEN ANNE'S GATE BUILDINGS,
WESTMINSTER, S. W. 1.

LIST OF EXPORT PROHIBITED GOODS, &c., 10TH OCTOBER 1919.

This List cancels all similar lists and supplements issued by the Export Licence Department prior to the above date.

List A and B.

List C.

List D and E.

Open General Licences for Exports :—Appendix No. 1.

General Information with regard to Export Regulations to certain countries in Europe and on the Mediterranean.

Transshipment in the United Kingdom.

This consolidated "List of Export Prohibited Goods" is amended and issued fortnightly. Exporters who desire to have copies of each list posted to them during the current year can do so on payment of a registration fee of 2s. 6d. for one copy of each issue. Should more than one copy of each issue be required an additional payment should be made at the rate of 2d. per copy for each month up to the end of the current year.

Exporters who desire to have their names placed on the register should make application to the Stationery Clerk, Export Licence Department, enclosing Money Orders payable to the Export Licence Department Board of Trade.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

APPLICATION FORM A FOR LICENCE TO EXPORT.

The Export Licence Department, having regard to the circumstances now existing, and subject to any further notification which it may hereafter become necessary to make, notifies Exporters that answers need only be given to the undermentioned questions which are set forth in the above mentioned form of application.

(a) Full name and address of consignor.

(b) Name and address of person or company to whom the licence is to be sent.

(c)—1. Proposed date of despatch of goods.

2. Port of intended shipment in this country or post office of despatch.

(d) Prospective port and country to which the goods are to be exported.

(e) Route by which the goods are to be forwarded to ultimate destination.

(f) Full name and address of consignee abroad.

(k) State whether previous application has been made for all or part of the consignment, &c.

(l) Full description of goods—quantity, weight, value, number and description of packages and the shipping marks.

(t) Any special reasons in support of your request for a licence to export these goods. Instructions Nos. 1, 6, 7, 9 and 12 on page 4 of Application Form A are now cancelled.

P. S.—Should it be desired that in any exceptional case an answer should be given to any questions set forth in the Application Form but not appearing above, a notification will be addressed to the applicant concerned after the receipt of the relative application.

APPLICATION FORM B FOR GENERAL LICENCES.

The use of Application Form B for making application for licence to export goods in several consignments over a certain period is no longer necessary. Form A can now be used when making application for either specific or general licence, provided that if a general licence is required a statement to that effect is endorsed on the Application Form A.

Applications for licences and all correspondence should be addressed to—

The Controller, Export Licence Department,
1, Queen Anne's Gate Buildings,
Westminster, S. W. 1.

SAMPLES.

An open general licence has been issued which permits the free export of all bona-fide samples of prohibited goods to all non-enemy destinations, and to enemy territory with which trade is now permitted. Samples exported under this licence may be used only for genuine sample purposes, i.e., for obtaining orders from foreign buyers, and may not be sold except with the written consent of the Export Licence Department, but such consent may be dispensed with when it is desired to sell the articles in the country of destination after they have fulfilled their purpose as samples. Exporters will be required to satisfy the Customs Authorities that the goods presented for export under this licence are bona fide samples, and to make a declaration to that effect on the relative shipping documents.

This notice only applies to samples of goods which require licences for export to the particular destination concerned.

In addition, the consent of the Export Licence Department is not required for the sale of samples which, though within this scheme at the actual time they were exported, could be exported outside the scheme at the actual time of the proposed sale.

Open General Licence for the Export of Explosives, Double Barrelled Guns, &c.

An Open General Licence has been issued for the export of cartridges, charges, etc., industrial explosives, double-barrelled guns and sporting rifles, to the destinations given below, to which, therefore, exports may be made subject to the usual Customs formalities without applications for specific licences to the Export Licence Department :—

French Possessions and Protectorates.

United States of America.

South America.

Africa.

Japan and Korea.

Asiatic Russia.

France, Belgium, Spain, Portugal, Greece, Italy, Serbia, Roumania, Norway Sweden and Denmark.

The issue of this licence does not relieve exporters from the necessity of obtaining import permits from the country of destination in cases where local regulations render such a course necessary.

Open General Licence for the Export of Aircraft, &c.

An Open General Licence has been issued for the export of the undermentioned goods to all destinations except Russia, Germany, Hungary, Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria. Applications are no longer to be made to the Export Licence Department in respect of the export of these goods to countries other than those mentioned :— "Aeroplane engines and their component parts. Aircraft, other than balloons of all kinds, and their component parts, together with accessories and articles suitable for use in connection with aircraft."

EXPORTS TO POLAND.

(iv) In order to facilitate the re-establishment of commercial relations between Great Britain and Poland, the Polish Commercial and Financial Agency, 88, Kingsway, London W.C.-2, has been duly authorised to issue Import Permits. The applicant for an Import Permit must fill in the four forms with which he will be supplied, and return them with the original invoice and four copies thereof.

It must be noted that all goods intended for Poland must be addressed to :—

The Polish Government Import and Export Commission, Elektoralna 2, Warsaw (for the ultimate consignee).

The charges for this Import Permit are five shillings stamp duty, and £1 per thousand pounds sterling of the total value of the goods to be imported, which must be paid upon receipt of the Permit.

The Import Permit does not exempt the goods from any Customs dues or other taxes imposed by the Polish Government.

Due notification will be given of any alteration in these regulations.

TRADE WITH GERMANY, AUSTRIA, HUNGARY AND ARABIA.

In view of the raising of the blockade, the Board of Trade have issued General Licences under the Trading with the Enemy legislation authorising, with certain reservations, the resumption of trade with Germany, Austria, Hungary, and Arabia.

The Licences do not remove the existing restrictions upon the payment of debts and the return of property due or deliverable to persons in Germany, Austria, Hungary, and Arabia in respect of pre-war transactions.

The Licences do not permit the importation from Germany, Austria, Hungary or Arabia of any goods included in the Prohibition of Import Proclamations and not covered by a General Licence issued under those Proclamations. Information with regard to imports into the United Kingdom can be obtained from the Import Restrictions Department, 22, Carlisle Place, S.W. 1. Further, Export Licences must be obtained from the Export Licence Department, 1, Queen Anne's Gate, Westminster, S.W. 1, before goods included in Lists A and B of prohibited exports are shipped to those countries, but no licences are required in respect of goods included in List C.

The Board of Trade, on behalf of His Majesty, and in pursuance of the powers reserved in the Trading with the Enemy Proclamations and all other powers thereunto them enabling, do hereby give and grant licence to all persons and bodies of persons resident, carrying on business, or being in the United Kingdom, to trade and have commercial and financial transactions with persons or bodies of persons resident or carrying on business in Germany-Austria-Hungary :

Provided always that any licence which may be necessary in respect of any transaction under any prohibition of export or prohibition of import for the time being in force in the United Kingdom or in respect of any remittance of money out of the United Kingdom covered by Regulation 41D of the Defence of the Realm Regulations is first obtained :

Provided also that this licence shall not permit any person or body of persons to pay to or for the benefit of any person or body of persons resident or carrying on business in Germany-Austria-Hungary any sum of money which by the terms of the Trading with the Enemy Amendment Acts, 1914 and 1915, or either of them, is required to be paid to the Custodian appointed under the Trading with the Enemy Amendment Act, 1914, but such sums of money must be paid to the said Custodian :

Provided further that this licence shall not permit any person or body of persons to pay or deliver any sum of money or property which is, or but for the war, would have been due or deliverable to any person or body of persons resident or carrying on business in Germany-Austria-Hungary in respect of a transaction entered into before the outbreak of war.

A General Licence with regard to Arabia has been issued, dated the 19th August 1919.

URGENT ORDERS.

The Board of Trade, Export Licence Department, announces that, in collaboration with the Department of Overseas Trade, an arrangement has been made whereby firms receiving orders which require immediate acceptance may telegraph details of any such order to the Department of Overseas Trade in order to ascertain whether a licence will be granted for the export of the goods if the order is accepted.

In the event of an applicant being promised a licence he will be enabled to deal with the order straightaway with the knowledge that upon application being made in the proper form to the Export Licence Department the licence will be granted.

The telegrams should be addressed to "Orders, c/o Advantage, Stock, London." They should give in each case in addition to the name and postal or telegraphic address of the applicant the quantity and description of the goods comprised in the order and the name and address of the ultimate consignee if the goods are destined for a neutral country. In the case of orders from Allied or British Territory or from Territory in the occupation of troops of the Associated Governments, the consignee need not be stated; and it will be sufficient merely to give the country of destination. A reply of 24 words (1/3) must be prepaid.

Applicants are requested in their own interest to confine the enquiries to orders needing a very urgent decision, since the fewer the enquiries the more promptly can answers be given.

Any subsequent correspondence that is necessary in connection with the telegraphic enquiries should be addressed to the Comptroller General, Department of Overseas Trade (Export Facilities Section), 4, Queen Anne's Gate Buildings, Westminster, S.W. 1.

TRANSHIPMENT IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

The provisional approval of the Export Licence Department should be obtained before the following goods are brought to this country for transshipment:—

Bacon, ham and lard of all kinds.

Butter and Cheese.

Cereals on Section "A" of the list of prohibited exports.

Animal feeding stuffs on Section "A" of the list of prohibited exports.

Seeds, oils and fats of Section "A" of the list of prohibited exports.

It is not now necessary to make application to the Collector of Customs at the transshipment ports on Form S. 90 for the transshipment of any goods except those specified in the following list:—

Foodstuffs for animal or human consumption which are on Section "A" or "B" of the list of prohibited exports (including tea, coffee and cocoa).

Seeds, oils and fats on Section "A" of the list of prohibited exports.

Synthetic dyestuffs.

Ergot.

Quinine sulphate.

Caustic potash.

Potassium carbonate.

Wool, raw, and mixtures thereof.

Wool-tops and mixtures thereof.

Woollen and worsted yarn and mixtures thereof.

Rajanikanta Gupta ... Bharatbarsher Itihas (History of India in Bengali).

Administration and Progress of India under British Rule.

N. N. Ghosh ... England's Work in India, revised edition, 1915.

GEOGRAPHY.

The following books are recommended as indicating the methods of study as well as the standard of knowledge required :—

E. Marsden ... Geography for Senior Classes, Parts I and II.

The World, with fuller treatment of India (Longmans' Geographical Series for India, Book II).

F. D. Unstead ... The Practical Geography, Parts I and II.

The following books are recommended for the use of teachers :—

Blanford	...	The Rudiments of Physical Geography for the use of Indian Schools.
Frew	...	A Regional Geography of the Indian Empire (Blackie and Son).
Wallis	...	The Teaching of Geography (Cambridge University Press).
O'Malley	...	Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, Sikkim (Macmillan & Co.).

The following book is recommended for the use of teachers in connection with the teaching of "Sand Modelling" in the lower classes of schools :—

A. E. Frye .. The Child and Nature.

Every school that intends to undertake instruction in Geography for the Matriculation Examination is required to possess the apparatus mentioned in the following list :—

I—(the total cost need not exceed Rs. 65)—

1. A measuring tape.
2. A magnetic compass.
3. Squared paper and tracing paper.
4. Clay, dry sand, paper pulp for modelling.
5. A globe, not less than 14 inches in diameter, with writing surface, and with line of latitude and longitude, and outlines, only of the land masses, marked upon it.
6. A map of the school locality on a scale of 4" or 6"=1 mile.
7. A map of the district in which the school is situated on the scale 1"=1 mile.
8. A coloured map of the province.
9. A coloured political map of India.
10. A physical map of India.
11. A relief map of India.
12. A map of the world on Mollweide's equal area projection and a map of Asia.

It is essential that the students should be provided with atlases, or with the necessary hand-maps, and with a drawing instrument box. Maps for school work should not contain too much detail, or be crowded with names.

II. The following additional equipment is recommended when it can be provided, but that lack of it is not to be considered as a bar to the recognition of the school in Geography :—

1. A thermometer.
2. A mercury barometer.
3. A rain-gauge.
4. A small collection of typical rocks, in particular, those of the province and of India.
5. A small museum of typical products.
6. A good standard atlas.
7. Geographical pictures.
8. Magic lantern and slides.

1. The attention of teachers is requested to the raised maps of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam made of paper pulp, prepared by Babu Kailas-chandra Datta, Head Pandit, Habiganj Government Girls' School, Sylhet, and sold for Rs. 7 and Rs. 5, respectively.

(2) Globes of all kinds are made by George Philip and Son, London, W., and A. K. Johnston, London, and Messrs. Ruddiman Johnston, London.

Small hand globes of German make can be obtained through the Indian School Supply Depot for about a rupee each.

(3) The "Comparative" series of large wall maps of the continents published by George Philip and Son is good and up to date; so also are the Orographical wall maps published by Edward Stanford. Messrs. Ruddiman Johnston publish a series of smaller wall maps which includes maps of India illustrating various distributions.

Messrs. Nelson's wall atlases are good. Mr. S. B. Chatterji publishes District maps; also ordinary and relief maps of the province.

Babu L. M. Basu, the drawing master of the Dacca Collegiate School, has published good relief maps of Eastern Bengal and Assam and of India.

The Vidal-Lablache French wall maps on strong cardboard, named on one side, and the same map without names on the reverse, published by Armand Colin, Paris, are good and cheap. They measure 46 inches by 39 inches and can be delivered in Calcutta for Rs. 4-14 each.

(4) The hand maps, coloured to indicate relief, published by the Diagram Company, West Barnes Lane, New Malden, Surrey, at one penny each, are the best of their kind.

The uncoloured half-penny maps showing river systems and a few towns, published by the same Company, are excellent for class use.

The Autograph hand maps, with hill shading in brown, published by Edward Stanford, London, at one penny each, are very good, and are larger than the Diagram Company's hand maps. The 15 inches map of the world on Mollweide's equal area projection is specially to be commended.

(5) Wall pictures of considerable artistic merit are published by Messrs. Edward Arnold of Leeds. Messrs. Hachette of Paris and Messrs. Holzner of Vienna, and Messrs Longmans, Green and Company. They cost, delivered in India, from two to three rupees each.

Map lantern slides and view slides especially prepared for Geography teaching are sold by the Diagram Company for two or three shillings each. Mr. Bartington Smith of Darjeeling also sells good picture slides of the Himalayas at Rs. 15 per dozen.

ELEMENTARY MECHANICS.

The following books are recommended :—

- |                   |  |
|-------------------|--|
| Sir Philip Magnus | ... Elementary Mechanics (Longmans, 1903). |
| A. N. Sen         | ... Elementary Mechanics.                  |

The following list of apparatus is prescribed as indicating the approximate requirements of a recognised High school seeking to teach Elementary Mechanics for the Matriculation Examination :—

- Plumb-line and Level.
- Simple Lever (including brass slotted weights).
- Roman Steelyard.
- Lecture apparatus for experiments on moments.
- George's New Atwood's machine.
- Stop-watch.
- Glazebrook's apparatus (to demonstrate movement of a body).
- Hick's Ballistic Balance.
- Compound Wheel and Axle.
- 4 Single Brass Pulleys.
- 2 Single Brass Pulleys.
- 2 Triple Brass Pulleys.
- Weston Differential Pulley Blocks ( $\frac{1}{2}$  ton).
- 16 feet of chain at 6d per foot.
- Inclined Plane.
- Parallelogram of Forces' apparatus.
- Wall Crane.
- Becker's New Physical Balance.
- Set of Gramme Weights (200 grams to 1 mgr.).
- 2 Composition-ivory Balls.

NOTE.—The above list is not exhaustive, and much of it might be replaced by simpler forms that could probably be made far more cheaply by any clever mistry under proper supervision. In most cases, however, it will probably be found advantageous to buy such a set as indicated in the list specially for demonstration purposes, and subsequently to develop simplified duplicates, illustrating the same principles, which the boys should be given opportunity actually to experiment with on their own individual account or working in pairs.

The same as for the Pass Course.

SYLLABUS IN EXPERIMENTAL PHYSIOLOGY.

(Pass Course.)

The induction coil; single shocks, short circuiting key; effect of single shocks on the tongue; break-shock is stronger than the make-shock Helmholtz's modification; Neef's hammer.

Pithing a frog; nerve-muscle preparation. Mechanical, chemical, thermal and electrical stimulation of muscle and nerve.

The graphic method; simple lever; crank lever (myograph), moist chamber, minimal and maximal excitation with single induction shocks (make and break) Stimulation by constant current; contraction of muscle only at make and break.

The muscle curve.—Single contraction of a frog's muscle; the latent period, the period of contraction and the period of relaxation. Time-tracing by tuning-fork. Method of after-loading. The influence of temperature and of load on muscular contraction. The work performed by a muscle during a twitch.

Elasticity and extensibility of muscle.

Summation of muscular contraction; tetanus.

Fatigue of muscle.

Thickening of a muscle on contraction.

Barnard's curare experiment.

Stimulation of a motor nerve; unequal excitability (greater nearer the centre of a motor nerve), excitability of flexor and extensor nerves.

Velocity of nerve-impulse (myographic method).

Electro-Physiology:—Galvani's experiment of contraction with metals; Galvani's experiment of contraction without metals.

The frog's heart:—Beating of the heart; effect of heat and cold (heart in situ); section of the heart; effect of heat and cold on excised heart.

Stannius' experiment.

Graphic record of the beat of the heart (suspension method and also direct registration with heart-lever).

Pulse-Sphygmographic tracing.

Blood-pressure in man; Sphygmometer and Sphygmomanometer.

Reflex action (simple experiments on a pithed frog).

Vision:—Accommodation; Scheiner's experiment; near and far point.

Purkinje-Sanson's images; Phakoscope; Blind spot; Yellow spot; Colour vision; Complementary colours.

(Honours Course.)

Additional Experiments—

The induction coil—Break extra-current of Faraday.

The Rheonome; Effect of sudden variation of current.

Isotonic and Isometric contraction.

Influence of veratrine on muscular contraction.

Indefatigability of nerve.

Excitation of muscle by constant current; Polar excitation of a muscle.

Electrotonus. Electrotonic changes in excitability of a nerve.

Kuhne's experiment of contraction without metals.

Examination of currents in muscle, nerve and heart by means of the reflecting galvanometer.

Frog's heart—Minimal stimulus causes maximal contraction.

"Staircase effect." Single contraction of the ventricle.

Tetanisation. Refractory period. Stimulation of the vagus.

Vision; Ophthalmoscope; Perimeter.

ZOOLOGY.

(Pass Course.)

Boas ... Text-Book of Zoology.

Shipley and MacBride ... Zoology.

Oskar Hertwig and H. J. The Cell.

Campbell.

R. E. Lloyd ... An Introduction to Biology for students in India.

P. J. Parker and W. N. Parker ... An Elementary Course of Practical Zoology.

Foster and Baltour ... The Elements of Embryology (edited by Sedgwick and W. Heap).

Wallace ... Darwinism.

A. D. Imms ... A Laboratory Sketch Book of Zoology for Indian Students.

Punnet ... Mendalism.

(Honours Course.)

(In addition to the books prescribed for the Pass Course.)

Miall and Hammond	...	The Structure and Life History of the Harlequin Fly.
Miall and Denny	...	The Cockroach.
Bateson	...	Problems of Genetics.

Students are recommended to consult the volumes on Protozoa and Insects, forming parts of the Cambridge Natural History.

GEOLOGY.

No text-books are proscribed. The subject is to be studied with the help of the Syllabus prescribed in the Regulations.

EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY.

The subject is to be studied as defined by the Syllabus. Students are recommended to use one or more of the following books:—

(Pass Course.)

I—General Psychology—

Yerkes	...	Introduction of Psychology.
Wundt	...	Human and Animal Psychology.
Titchener	...	Text-book of Psychology.
Leckley	...	The Nervous System (Longmans & Co.).

Preparatory Reading:—Students are advised to read Titchener's Primer of Psychology before joining the regular class.

II—Experimental Psychology—

Sanford	...	Course in Experimental Psychology.
Myers	...	Text-book of Experimental Psychology, Part I—Text-book.

Preparatory Reading:—

Students are advised to read Myers' Primer of Experimental Psychology before joining the regular class.

Laboratory Course:—

Titchener's Experimental Psychology, Vol. I, Part I, and Vol. II, Part I (Student's Manual, Qualitative and Quantitative).
Myers' Text-book of Experimental Psychology, Part II (Laboratory Course).

(Honours Course.)

I—General Psychology (same as in the Pass Course with the addition of Kulpe's Outlines of Psychology).

II—Physiological and Comparative Psychology—

Wundt	...	Principles of Physiological Psychology, Vol. I, Part I. (The Bodily Substrate of Mental Life.)
Ladd	...	Elements of Physiological Psychology.
Thorndike	...	Animal Intelligence.
Lloyd Morgan	...	Comparative Psychology.
M. Greenwood (Jr.)	...	Physiology of the Senses.

III—Experimental Psychology—

In addition to the books recommended for the Pass Course, the following:—

Scripture	...	New Psychology.
Titchener	...	Lectures on the Psychology of the Thought Processes.
Titchener	...	Instructor's Manual—Quantitative (Introduction).

NOTIFICATION.

THE following changes in the Regulations (regarding the inclusion of Hygiene as a subject for the Matriculation Examination) sanctioned by the Government of India, under section 25, sub section (1) of the Indian Universities Act (VIII of 1904), are published for general information —

(a) In section 9, Chapter XXX of the Regulations, after the words ' (v) Elementary Mechanics ' under heading 5 and 6, add the following:—

(vi) * Elementary Hygiene ... One paper.

* No school will be allowed to present a candidate in the subject unless the Syndicate are satisfied that suitable arrangements have been made for teaching it

(b) In Chapter XXX, page 142 of the Regulations, after the Syllabus in Elementary Mechanics, insert the following Syllabus in Hygiene —

SYLLABUS IN HYGIENE.

FOR THE MATRICULATION COURSE.

I Definition of Hygiene—Personal and Public

II General structure of the human body—The skeleton, muscles; nervous, respiratory, circulatory, secretory, and excretory systems Organs of special sense

III General functions of human body—Locomotion, Innervation; Physiology of Respiration Circulation and Digestion Secretion and Excretion

IV Air—Its average composition Functions of Oxygen The air before and after respiration Other sources of impurities Air of crowded rooms Evil effects of impure air Increased incidence of Tuberculosis in India. Dust and its dangers Air-borne diseases

Means of purification of air, natural and artificial, part played by plants Ventilation Minimum air-space for each person in schools and dwelling houses

V Water—Its composition Natural waters

The need for water and the quantity required per individual

Chief sources of water-supply in Bengal and how they are polluted

Chief impurities of water and their significance Hard and soft waters.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.,

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible, after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depot; and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in Charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depot, Calcutta, or the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

READ—

The Report on the working of the Co-operative Societies in Bengal for the year ending the 30th June 1919.

1. One of the principal features of the previous year was the strain which had been put upon societies by the low price obtained by cultivators for their jute and rice; recoveries were seriously affected and societies showed caution in advancing loans. A sharp contrast is afforded by the report of the present year under review, when better prices were obtainable for jute and the price of rice rose to unprecedented heights. Though the Registrar in his report makes certain reservations in drawing a deduction from these facts and points out that the bulk of the societies lie in jute areas, it is significant that the rise in the price of both the rice and jute produced by the members synchronised with an increase in the financial prosperity of the co-operative societies to which they belong.

2. During the year under report the increase in the number of societies was 615, in the number of members 16,021, and in the working capital Rs. 36,34,692, compared with 557 societies, 19,538 members and Rs. 41,68,578, the increase of the previous year. That there was no greater expansion is due to the care with which applications for societies have been scrutinised, a sound measure dictated by past experience of unsound societies formed in haste and in ignorance of the principles and duties of co-operation. With the increase in societies, the number of inspectors rose from 41 to 50 and honorary organisers from 45 to 48. The number of auditors rose from 14 to 28 and two divisional auditors were appointed in the year by Government. Audit is of the first importance; and it is satisfactory to learn that a proper detailed audit is now one of the chief features of the working of the department.

3. Repayments during the year were good; but, though there was a corresponding increase in advances, some caution was still exhibited in advancing loans. The central banks advanced Rs. 32½ lakhs and recovered Rs. 23 lakhs in 1918-19 against Rs. 18 lakhs and Rs. 10½ lakhs, respectively, in 1917-18. Similarly, the agricultural societies advanced Rs. 28 lakhs and recovered Rs. 23½ lakhs in 1918-19, against Rs. 23½ lakhs and Rs. 15½ lakhs, respectively, in the previous year. Two other satisfactory features are that the amount of loans overdue to such societies was reduced by Rs. 6 lakhs and that their reserve funds were increased from Rs. 9½ to Rs. 14½ lakhs.

4. The progress of the Bengal Provincial Co-operative Federation, Ltd., which was opened in the previous year, surpassed expectation. By the 30th June 1919, 49 central banks and 8 other societies had joined it. The Federation received Rs. 10½ lakhs of the idle funds of its members for investment and made repayments to the extent of Rs. 8 lakhs; and it saved one central bank from disaster during the year under review. Of the Rs. 13 lakhs of deposits taken out from central banks at a high rate of interest it repaid nearly Rs. 4 lakhs. The assertion of the Registrar that the Federation has already accomplished the purposes for which it was formed, viz., to keep money employed all the year round by the utilisation of the surplus funds of its members and to assist them in other ways as far as possible, appears therefore to be well founded.

5. The number of central banks increased from 52 to 58, their working capital from Rs. 67½ lakhs to Rs. 82½ lakhs, and their paid-up share capital from Rs. 10 lakhs to Rs. 11½ lakhs. At present only 14 of these banks have appointed paid secretaries or assistant secretaries. The number of unions decreased from 13 to 12 in the year under review; but they are reported to be neither successful nor popular in Bengal.

6. Agricultural societies have increased in numbers from 2,067 at the end of 1915-16 to 2,857, 3,374 and 3,923 at the end of the years 1916-17, 1917-18 and of the year under review, respectively. Practically all the new societies formed during the year were of the type based on shares, a type re-introduced during the year. Many of the old societies have also now adopted bye-laws providing for shares. During the year the membership increased from 1,25,590 to 1,34,755, and the working capital from Rs. 80½ lakhs to Rs. 92½ lakhs. Much good work was done by the department in the direction of the purification of societies. Large societies of which the membership was too large to admit of the members being thoroughly acquainted with one another were split up; but the most important work of this description was the nursing of bad societies in the attempt to improve them and the liquidation of incurably bad societies. No less than 81 societies were liquidated during the year, against 29 in the previous year; and, as a result of the facilities afforded by the Bengal Public Demands Recovery (Amendment) Act, 1918, realisations in societies under liquidation have been more than three times as much as the total in all previous years. Most of the unsoundness in the bad societies is due to the dishonesty of office-bearers ; but the hope may be confidently expressed that with the more stringent system of audit now in force, the prosecution of certain dishonest office-bearers and the awakening of the members of the societies to the fact of their unlimited liability, the day of dishonest office-bearers will be gone. It is gratifying to note that many instances of the excellent social, moral and economic efforts of the societies continue to be reported. In particular, it is significant of the ultimate practical effect of the existence of the societies that in the Gaibandha subdivision a group of societies maintain that they have not only reduced the rates of interest normally charged in the area for themselves, but for all other residents in it.

7. Considerable activity was displayed during the year in the development of agricultural non-credit and non-agricultural societies, of which the number increased from 17 and 203, respectively, in the previous year to 31 and 262 in the year under review. First and foremost may be mentioned the Naogaon Ganja Cultivators' Co-operative Society, Ltd., which has successfully ousted the ganja brokers. During the year it realised a profit of Rs. 3 lakhs. Its activities are now being expanded in the direction of a purchase and sale society, cattle insurance, a demonstration farm, education, medicine, relief of distress and town improvement. In fact it is making a bid, justifiable both on the grounds of efficiency and financial stability, to monopolise the local self-government of the ganja mahals. Owing to the importance of its work Government has lent to the society the services of Khan Bahadur Ata-ur-Rahman, Deputy Collector, as its chief executive officer. Next in importance comes the development of the weaving industry, particularly in the district of Bankura. The number of weaving societies has increased from 65 to 100, 28 of which were added in Bankura ; and towards the end of last year the organization of the Bankura Industrial Co-operative Union was effected. At the beginning of the year, however, the prospects of the union were blank owing to the fluctuations in the price of yarn and of piece-goods, but two good orders which were received about Christmas time were so well executed that they put the union on its feet. At the end of June 41 societies were affiliated to it. A credit of a lakh of rupees was given by the Federation and a guarantee against loss of a quarter of a lakh was given by Government to the union in order that it might give relief by employment to weavers during the famine in Bankura. The guarantee has not been drawn on. On the contrary a profit was made and 500 families of weavers were kept off the famine-relief works. The Governor in Council is indebted to the Revd. Mr. A. E. Brown and Professor Banerjee for the success of this scheme. Nevertheless there are still many obstacles to the development of those weaving societies in Bankura to be surmounted by co-operation. Amongst other societies may be mentioned the milk societies in the neighbourhood of Calcutta which are beginning to be reckoned with as of importance in connection with the supply of pure milk to Calcutta ; the Sundarbans Supply and Sale Society at Khepupara which cleared a profit of Rs. 6,000 over its rice transactions ; the Khelar Irrigation Society in Midnapore where the fields irrigated by the society yielded four or five times as much rice per bigha as the adjoining lands which were affected by drought ; and the Central Co-operative Anti-malaria Society which was organised at the end of the year with the object of propagating the formation of primary anti-malaria societies in the mufassal and to assist them when formed. Several eminent medical men are associated with this society.

8. The Bengal Co-operative Organisation Society has attracted to itself representative men from the land-owning, mercantile and professional classes and has completed a year of useful propaganda. The circulation of the Bengal and Bihar and Orissa Co-operative Journal, which it took over, has increased, whilst its Bengali equivalent, the "Bhandar," is much appreciated by an increasing circle of readers. Three pamphlets were published by the society during the year and arrangements were made for a course of public lectures on co-operation. As a result of a University conference held under its auspices a committee was appointed for propaganda in the University and colleges. The society also participated in the Dacca, Mymensingh, Howrah and Khulna exhibitions. The Governor in Council is glad to notice that so much useful work has been done by the society. At the Tenth Provincial Conference of co-operative societies, which was opened by His Excellency fifteen resolutions were passed and are now under consideration.

9. The Governor in Council congratulates Mr. Donovan on the energy and enthusiasm shown by himself and his officers in the promotion of the various aspects of the co-operative movement in Bengal. His thanks are due to Professors Coyajee and Mukharji for the services rendered by them in connection with the Co-operative Journal. His Excellency in Council also records his appreciation of the help afforded by the ever-increasing number of persons interested in the movement; in particular, he is pleased to notice that several well-known zamindars are showing activity in their sympathy towards it.

By order of the Governor in Council.

M. C. McALPIN,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF WARDS, ATTACHED AND TRUST ESTATES IN THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL FOR THE BENGALI YEAR 1325 (1918-19).

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Land Revenue Branch.

CALCUTTA, THE 14TH NOVEMBER 1919.

RESOLUTION—No. 8513.

READ—

The report of the Board of Revenue on the administration of Wards, Attached and Trust Estates in the Presidency of Bengal for the Bengali year 1325 (1918-19).

Number of estates under management.—Four new estates were brought under the Court of Wards and one estate was released free from debt during the year. As the Jossore portion of the Janbazar estate No. 1 is now treated as a separate estate, 69 estates were under the management of the Court of Wards at the close of the year, against 64 in the preceding year.

2. Payment of revenue and cesses.—The total amount of revenue and cesses due to Government, including arrears, was Rs. 14,69,169. Payments amounted to Rs. 13,65,169 or 92·9 per cent. as in the previous year. The heaviest balances were again due by the Tagore estate in Bakarganj.

3. Rent and Cesses due to Superior Landlords.—The percentage of payment of rent and cesses to superior landlords showed some decrease, being 82·5 per cent. of the amount due, against 84·8 per cent. in the previous year. The balance of Rs. 1,12,278 out of a total demand of Rs. 6,44,581 is due mainly to non-adjustment of accounts, accumulation of petty dues allowed by superior landlords, failure of co-sharers to pay their share of dues, and certain pending civil suits.

4. Collection of rents and cesses.—Despite the bad monsoon and poor rice harvest of the year under report, there was some improvement in the percentage of collection on current demand, which rose from 98·4 in the preceding year to 103·5. The standard of 100 per cent. was exceeded in 40 estates. The improvement in collection was mainly contributed by the Nawab family estate in Dacca and the estates in the Rajshahi Division. The collections in the Kasimbazar estate in the district of Tippera were, on the other hand, affected by the distress in the Brahmanbaria subdivision. Elsewhere the gloomy character of the last part of the year under review is reflected in the report in only one or two instances.

5. The outstanding balances due to all the estates aggregated over Rs. 67 lakhs, representing 147·2 per cent. on the current demand, against 141·5 per cent. in the previous year. The balances exceeded the current demand in all the divisions. In the report of the previous year the Board anticipated that some progress could be made in writing-off fictitious or irrecoverable items, which account for at least 80 per cent. of the balances; but it is now reported that the managers show a strong prejudice against applying for their remission. In the interests of good estate management it is obvious that such items should be written off, when such a course is admissible.

6. Civil Suits.—The number of civil suits and certificates filed during the year for the recovery of rent and cesses increased by 1,241 and 1,600 over those of the preceding year. Out of 5,389 civil suits for disposal, 4,352 were decided, but less than one-third of the decretal amount was realised. Of the total number of 35,641 certificates for disposal 21,640 were disposed of, and 57·1 per cent. of the total claim was realised against 63·6 per cent. in the previous year.

7. Debts of estates.—The total liabilities of the estates under the management of the Court of Wards stood at over Rs. 58 lakhs, against nearly Rs. 82 lakhs in the previous year. The decrease is due largely to the exclusion of the claims preferred by the proprietors of the Bhawal estate against one another, a considerable amount of which has proved to be fictitious. With a few exceptions all the estates in the Presidency are more or less heavily encumbered, though considerable reductions have already been effected by good management. The indebtedness of Wards' estates has been a special subject of scrutiny and examination by the Board during the year under report, and a regular and systematic scheme for the repayment of debts is in preparation. Two new appendices showing clearly the financial position of the different estates and the progress in the repayment of debts are a marked feature of the report.

8. Cost of management and expenditure on improvements.—There was a slight decrease in the percentage of cost of management on the current rent and cess demand of estates, viz., from 13·2 in the preceding year to 13·1. The standard of 10 per cent, now regarded as obsolete, was exceeded in all the divisions except the Presidency Division. The estates set a good example by the good work done on agricultural, sanitary and other improvements, and in education. The total expenditure on improvements, schools and dispensaries was Rs. 1,70,158, or 3·7 per cent of the current demand. Agricultural demonstrations in Wards' estates are now conducted mostly under the supervision of officers of the Agricultural Department, with encouraging results.

9. Education of wards.—The progress made in the education of wards which is one of the special cares of the Court, was generally good. It is satisfactory to note that two of the wards were sent to the annual survey and settlement training camp and that others are being trained in zamindar management, so as to make them fit for, and useful in, their future position in life as, it is to be hoped, resident proprietors.

10. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to the Board of Revenue for its efficient administration of the estates under the Court of Wards. The good work of the managers mentioned in the report will be noted.

By order of the Governor in Council,

M. C. McALPIN,

Secy to the Govt of Bengal.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR OCTOBER 1919.

I. Character of the Season.—During the month the rainfall was above the average in seven districts and elsewhere below the normal. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of Agricultural Operations.—Preparatory tillage for the spring crops, harvesting of early winter paddy and sowing of potatoes, oil-seeds, pulses continued. Steeping and washing of jute were completed.

III. State of Standing Crops.—The condition of winter paddy, sugarcane and other standing crops was generally reported to be satisfactory. More rain in the western districts would have benefitted the transplanted paddy on high lands which suffered to some extent owing to drought.

IV. Prospects and Probable Outturn.—The rain in both Northern and Eastern Bengal greatly improved the prospects of winter paddy. The prospects of sugarcane and other standing crops reported to be promising on the whole.

V. Damage to Standing Crops.—“Uria” disease was reported to have caused some damage to standing crops in Noakhali. Some damage to transplanted paddy was caused in char lands in Jamalpur subdivision of Mymensingh district owing to the rise of rivers.

VI. Condition of Agricultural Stock.—The condition of livestock was reported to be fair. Cattle disease was, however, reported from places in the districts of Rangpur, Darjeeling, Malda, Dacca, Mymensingh and Tippera.

VII. Failure of Pasturage and Fodder.—The supply of fodder was sufficient throughout the province.

VIII. Price of Food-Grains.—During the month under review the price of common rice for the province rose in the district of Mymensingh, fell in eight districts and remained stationary elsewhere. It varied from four seers a rupee in Darjeeling, Rangpur and Mymensingh to seven seers a rupee in the Chittagong Hill Tracts.

The Second Schedule—Scheme.

Income.

The income arising from the funds of this endowment (which shall be called the Sussex Trust) shall be collected by the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments, Bengal (hereinafter called the Treasurer) and shall from time to time be paid by him to the Administrator (hereinafter mentioned for the purposes of this scheme as the Administrator), shall from time to time direct.

2. Any income received by the Administrator and not required by him for the purposes of any part of this Scheme shall be refunded to the Treasurer, and any income accrued and not called for by the Administrator shall be retained by the Treasurer. All income remaining in the hands of the Treasurer under this clause at the end of each financial year shall be transferred to a separate account to be called "Surplus Income Account."

3. In the event of the balance to the credit of the Surplus Income Account being sufficient for the purpose at the beginning of any financial year, so much of the said balance shall be invested as shall produce Government securities of the nominal value of Rs. 1,000 or any multiple of Rs. 1,000, providing always that the Administrator shall keep at call sufficient funds to meet any anticipated requirements.

4. Investments made under clause 3 shall be kept to the credit of the Surplus Income Account and shall at any time upon the request of the Administrator be realised and the proceeds thereof be paid to the Administrator for any unusual expenditure for any of the purposes of this scheme. Any balance of cash to the credit of the Surplus Income Account may in like manner be withdrawn for any such purpose at any time by the Administrator.

5. At the end of every five financial years a summary shall be taken of the cash and investments from time to time standing to the credit of the Surplus Income Account and the lowest sum which at any time shall have been left untouched for such 5 years shall be deemed to be not required for the purposes of this scheme as for the time being constituted, and shall be treated as capital for the purposes of any extension or amendment of any of the purposes thereof and shall when required be transferred to the capital account of the endowment. The Administrator shall thereupon apply to Government to approve an amended scheme for the use of such accrued capital in conformity as far as possible with the main principles of the original objects of the Fund, or some one or more of them, any such amended scheme to be subject to the approval of the donor if then in India.

Administrator.

6. The Administrator of the Fund shall be the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, for the time being.

Accounts.

7. Full and complete separate Accounts shall be kept by the Administrator in respect of each of the Special Endowments hereinafter mentioned and such Accounts shall at all times be open to the inspection of Government and the Donor with vouchers for all payments and all other necessary information and particulars of expenditure.

Special Endowments.

8. The following are the short titles of the Special Endowments for which the said Fund is to be used, and separate Rules for each Endowment are hereinafter set forth, viz. :—

- (a) Scholarships for European boys.
- (b) Scholarships for European girls.
- (c) Scholarships for Domiciled Community.
- (d) Primary School for Indian boys.
- (e) Primary Schools for depressed classes.
- (f) Technical Scholarships for students of the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur.

9. Subject as hereinbefore and hereinafter provided the income arising from the said Fund shall be applicable to the said Special Endowments in the proportions following, that is to say :

		Rs.
(a) Scholarships for European boys ...	Income arising from Rs. 1,00,000 (nominal value) of the said War Bonds.	1,00,000
(b) Scholarships for European girls ...	ditto ...	1,00,000

		Rs.
(c) Scholarships for Domiciled Community.	Income arising from Rs. 1,00,000 (nominal value) of the said War Bonds.	1,00,000
(d) Primary School for Indian boys ...	ditto ...	1,00,000
(e) Primary Schools for depressed classes	ditto ...	50,000
(f) Technical Scholarships for students of the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur,	ditto ...	1,00,000 provided always that any surplus income available from Endowment A may be applied towards further or increased scholarships under Endowment B and vice versa, or may be applied in giving an "exhibition" or special grant to any other qualified person selected for this purpose under Endowment A or Endowment B who is proceeding to the United Kingdom for the purposes of his or her education.

Provided further that any surplus income for any one Special Endowment not applied as in this clause above provided may generally be applied at the discretion of the Administrator for the purposes of any other Special Endowment, but that any surplus income remaining unexpended and not allocated for any special purpose shall be repaid to the general Surplus Income Account as provided in clause 2.

Special Endowment Rules.

(a) Scholarships for European boys.

1. The income of this Special Endowment shall be applied in payment of scholarships for male British subjects of pure European blood ordinarily resident in Bengal, or coming to Bengal, for the purpose of residing there, or otherwise definitely connected with Bengal, including the children of persons, resident in or connected with Bengal though such children may not for the time being be in Bengal. Preference shall be given in cases of equal merit to candidates from or connected with Calcutta.

2. The object of such scholarships is to provide for or promote or advance the higher general or professional or technical education of the recipient and is not intended to provide for the ordinary school education of young children.

3. The recipients of the scholarships shall be selected by the Administrator in manner herein provided.

4. The Administrator shall use such means as he shall think reasonable and at such cost as he shall think fit, having regard to the funds available, to find suitable candidates for the scholarships and may if he considers necessary invite applications by advertisement and by circularising European schools in Bengal or otherwise.

5. The Administrator shall consider all applications and any information which he may receive as to suitable recipients, and may offer a scholarship to any person without formal application by or on behalf of such person.

6. Recipients shall be selected with reference to the following considerations. Selection shall be restricted to those who appear to the Administrator to be likely by age, ability, physical qualifications, and social circumstances to justify the opportunity provided, and preference shall be given, other things being equal, to a candidate whose parents or relatives are prepared to contribute reasonably to his education in the United Kingdom. The scholarships shall be tenable at a university or medical school or Inn of Court or technical institute, or some other suitable institution in the British Isles. As far as possible selection shall be restricted to candidates whose age will be about the normal age of entry to the course or institution proposed.

7. The scholarships may vary in amount and length of tenure according to the course proposed to be taken by the recipient and having regard to the support or contribution offered by the recipient's relatives and any scholarship may vary in amount from year to year, but a scholarship shall not be less than £150 or more than £240 in any one year, plus passage money to the United Kingdom and on return to India on satisfactory completion of the course, and (if necessary) a contribution towards initial expenses, and shall be tenable in ordinary cases for four years, but this period may be reduced or extended for special reasons in any case. The Administrator shall be further empowered to make advances on loan to selected scholars towards initial expenses or unforeseen expenses at any stage of their course on such terms as regards security and repayment as he may think fit, having regard to the circumstances and prospects of the recipient. Provided always that the Administrator may forego the repayment of any such advance or any part thereof if satisfied that the recipient is unable to repay the amount or that it has become impracticable to recover the same.

8. The Administrator shall be satisfied as to the European origin of the candidates and may call for such evidence as he considers reasonably necessary in each case and his decision shall be final.

9. The amounts awarded for scholarships shall be paid out as far as possible in like manner to that adopted by Government for Government scholarships.

10. Scholarships shall be held subject to good behaviour and to the recipient remaining a British subject, and so long only as the recipient shall continue the course for the purposes of which the scholarship was granted.

11. The Administrator shall not be bound to award any scholarships in the absence of suitable candidates.

B.—Scholarships for European girls.

1. The foregoing rules of Special Endowment A shall mutatis mutandis apply for scholarships for female British Europeans, provided that in normal cases the age of the recipient on selection should not exceed 23 years, but this limit may be relaxed in special circumstances if the Administrator thinks fit.

C.—Scholarships for Domiciled Community.

1. The income of this special endowment shall be applicable for providing scholarships or grants for boys and girls of the Domiciled Community in Bengal (preference being given to inhabitants of Calcutta) or for procuring apprenticeships for such boys and girls, or otherwise providing for their advanced education or professional or business training, such scholarships to be held or apprenticeships to be followed in India or elsewhere.

2. The rules of Special Endowment A, so far as the same shall be applicable for the Domiciled Community, shall apply to this special endowment with such variations as are hereinafter contained.

3. The Administrator shall be solely entitled to decide whether any candidate for a scholarship belongs to the Domiciled Community and may call for such evidence as he considers reasonably necessary in this respect.

4. A scholarship may consist of a lump sum paid for apprenticing any recipient, or may be spread over a number of years as in ordinary scholarships, or may consist partly of one and partly of the other.

D.—Primary School for Indian Boys.

1. The object of this special endowment is to provide, equip and maintain a primary school for Indian boys in Calcutta without distinction of creed, caste or denomination.

2. Such part of the special fund of Rs. 1,00,000 may be expended on acquiring land and building a school or in purchase of any existing suitable premises and in the equipment thereof for a school as the Administrator shall think fit, and the income of the remainder shall be applied towards the upkeep and maintenance of the school, provided that in addition to the capital sum originally expended further expenditure may be made out of capital at any subsequent time for extension, alteration or renovation of the premises or in removal of the school to other premises if in the opinion of the Administrator sufficient capital funds shall be left to provide for the upkeep and maintenance of the school, or if the Administrator is satisfied that other sources of income will be available for such upkeep and maintenance. Any land or premises purchased for the school shall be taken in the name of the Treasurer.

3. If at any time and from time to time it shall appear desirable for any reason to remove the school to other premises the Administrator may contract for the sale of the school premises for the time being, and thereupon the Treasurer in pursuance of such contract as bare Trustee thereof shall convey the said premises to the purchaser thereof as the Administrator shall direct, and the sale proceeds, after payment of all costs and expenses in connection with the sale, shall be received by the Treasurer and the capital money of this special endowment so received with any other part of the said capital money may again be expended in acquisition of premises, building and equipment as aforesaid.

4. The Administrator may, instead of purchasing any premises, take on lease any suitable land or premises (with or without buildings), such lease to be taken in the name or names of such person or persons on behalf of the school as the Administrator may select who are willing to act, and in any such case the Administrator shall pay the rent, rates, taxes and any other outgoings for which the lessee or lessees would be liable out of the income of this special endowment, and shall out of such income keep such lessee or lessees indemnified from and against any such outgoings and any costs and expenses in connection with such lease. Any such lease may be sold, transferred, surrendered or cancelled by direction of the Administrator, and another or other lease or leases taken in lieu thereof. The terms of any lease shall be settled by the Administrator. The proceeds of sale or surrender of any such leasehold shall be treated in like manner to the sale proceeds mentioned in paragraph 3 of these special rules.

5. In the event of any premises being taken on lease as aforesaid, if without buildings, the Administrator may expend such capital sums for buildings and equipment of the school as he shall think fit, and if with buildings he may expend such capital sums in alterations, repairs and fittings and equipment as he shall think fit, and may subsequently expend further capital sums in like manner as aforesaid. The Administrator may also expend such capital sum or sums as he may think fit by way of premium or salami for any lease or as consideration for surrender thereof.

6. The said school shall be managed and controlled by such authority and in such manner as the Administrator after consultation with the Corporation of Calcutta shall decide, but shall be conducted as and for a primary day school in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Education Department of the Government of Bengal for the time being in force.

7. The appointment and dismissal of the teaching staff and of all servants, caretakers and other employees shall be made by the school authorities, subject at all times to the control of the Administrator if he shall think it necessary to interfere therein.

8. The expenses of the school, including repairs or insurance, shall be paid from the income of the residue of the said special endowment fund and from any income arising from other sources such as donations, grants-in-aid or school fees.

9. The school authorities may charge such fees to scholars as may be approved by the Administrator.

10. The Administrator shall see that proper accounts of all receipts and expenditure are kept by the school authorities and are submitted to him at regular intervals.

11. In the event of there being a greater number of scholars desirous of being taught in the said school than the school can accommodate the selection of scholars shall be made in such manner as the Administrator shall prescribe.

12. The Administrator shall direct the Treasurer to set apart from the income of the said special endowment such proportion thereof as he shall think proper to be accumulated for repairs to the school premises, and such proportion shall be set apart accordingly and may from time to time be expended by the Administrator on repairs as occasion shall arise.

13. The Administrator shall direct the Treasurer to set apart from the income of the said special endowment such proportion thereof as he shall think proper to be accumulated and invested as a sinking fund for replacement of the school buildings and equipment upon the same being destroyed or worn out, such contribution to the sinking fund to be continued until a sufficient sum, in the opinion of the Administrator, shall have been accumulated, and being recommended and continued for so long as may be necessary upon the sinking fund or any part thereof being required to be expended, and such proportion shall be set apart and the accumulations thereof from time to time invested by the Treasurer. The income of such sinking fund may be applied in increasing the Fund or towards the general expenses of the school as the Administrator may think fit. As and when occasion shall arise the said sinking fund shall be expended by the Administrator in the replacement of any buildings or equipment which shall have been destroyed or become unserviceable or worn out.

14. If funds permit more schools than one may be founded and maintained, and in that event the foregoing rules shall apply to each such school.

E.—Primary Schools for Depressed Classes.

1. The object of this special endowment is to provide and maintain primary schools in villages adjoining Calcutta for the children of the classes officially recognised as "Depressed Classes."

2. The rules hereinbefore contained for the Indian Boys' Primary school special endowment shall, as far as they are applicable mutatis mutandis apply to each school founded under this special endowment, with such additions and alterations as appear below.

3. The villages in which schools are to be founded shall be selected by the Administrator after consultation with the Society for the Improvement of the Backward Classes.

4. Part of the capital money of this special endowment may from time to time be expended in founding schools in like manner as in the Indian boys' primary school special endowment rules, at the discretion of the Administrator, and the income of the residue for the time being shall be applied towards the upkeep of the schools. It is intended that about Rs. 15,000 shall be used for capital expenditure, but this sum may be exceeded or reduced as the Administrator shall think fit according to the anticipated income available from all sources.

5. The schools of this special endowment may be for either boys or girls or for both.

6. The Administrator may frame such rules as in his opinion will ensure the reservation of these schools for the classes for whom they are intended. Provided that such rules may permit the admission of a small percentage of children of other castes or classes.

F.—Technical Scholarships for Students of the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur.

1. The object of this special endowment is to provide scholarships for past and present students of the Sibpur Engineering College for the purpose of completing or advancing the education or training of such students, either in the British Isles or in India, or in other British possessions.

2. The rules for the special endowment for scholarships for male British European subjects shall mutatis mutandis so far as the same may be applicable apply to this special endowment, with such additions and alterations as appear below.

3. Recipients of scholarships shall be selected by the Administrator in consultation with the Principal of the Sibpur Engineering College. Regard shall be had to the ability, energy, physical qualifications and age of candidates, and also to the industrial and engineering needs of India and to the course of training or study proposed to be undertaken by each candidate, and preference shall be given to candidates intending to return and work in India, but this shall not be an essential condition to the selection of recipients.

4. Scholarships may be granted in one sum or spread over a number of years, or may be applied towards apprenticing a recipient or as a premium on placing him with some engineering or manufacturing firm, including railway companies. Scholarships may include passage money from and on return to India as well as entrance fees to colleges or institutions or any other special expenditure.

5. In the event of the Sibpur Engineering College ceasing to be carried on for any reason or being removed from Bengal this special endowment fund shall be applied in or towards the furtherance of engineering instruction and training in any of its departments in such manner as the Local Government in consultation with the donor (if then still in India) shall decide.

General miscellaneous provisions.

1. Whereas the securities aforesaid have already some time since been deposited by the donor with the Treasurer in anticipation of the foregoi notification, and interest has accrued thereon and has been collected by the Treasurer, and has, with the consent of the donor already been partly applied by the Administrator in or towards some of the objects of the above-mentioned special endowments, it is (with the consent of the donor which has been obtained by the Administrator) hereby declared that such application of income shall be included in the accounts of the Administrator as if this scheme had come into force at the time of collection of the said income.

2. Any such income collected as aforesaid and not already expended (being the interest referred to in schedule I above written) may be applied by the Administrator in continuing any scholarships already awarded in anticipation of this scheme or in or towards any of the objects above-mentioned.

3. Any scholarship already awarded as aforesaid may be continued by the Administrator out of the funds of any special endowment in respect of which such scholarship would have been awarded if this scheme had been in force at the time of such award.

4. The Administrator may from time to time with the approval of the Local Government frame such rules or regulations as may appear to be necessary or proper in connection with the administration of any of the special endowments aforesaid, such rules and regulations to be published by notification in the local Gazette and to form part of this scheme, provided always that such rules and regulations shall not be inconsistent with the objects of the endowment for the time being.

5. This scheme may from time to time be amended or altered by notification of the local Government published in the local Gazette, provided that if the donor be still in India no such amendment shall be made or published without his consent, and provided that in the absence of the donor no such amendment or alteration shall be inconsistent with the main principles of the objects aforesaid.

6. The awarding of any scholarships under any of the foregoing special endowments in that behalf may be suspended if in the opinion of the Administrator no suitable recipients are forthcoming, provided that if the awarding of any one class of scholarship is suspended for more than two consecutive years the Administrator shall report such fact to the donor (if then in India) and to the local Government with a view to amendment of this scheme as lastly hereinbefore provided.

No. 1843Edn.—The 22nd November 1919.—For Government notification No. 39T.-Edn., dated the 10th May 1919, published on page 772, Part I, of the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th May 1919, substitute the following :—

It is hereby notified that in addition to the funds provided for the Sussex Trust, mentioned in the foregoing notification (No. 36T. Edn., dated the 10th May 1919) the said donor has made over to the Government of Bengal securities of the nominal value of Rs. 4,50,000, particulars of which and interest thereon are set forth in the Schedule hereunder written. This sum provides for—

- (a) A gift of Rs. 2,50,000 to the Irish Christian Brothers for the construction of a Boys' Orphanage outside Calcutta, and.
- (b) A gift of Rs. 2,00,000 to the Government of Bengal for adding to the accommodation for girls at the Dow Hill Girls' School at Kurseong.

The said sums, which form part of the sum of ten lakhs of rupees placed at the disposal of the Government of Bengal by a European citizen of Calcutta, referred to in resolution No. 443T.-Edn., dated the 21st June 1918, are being utilized, and together with any interest that may have accrued shall be utilized, under the supervision of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, upon the said objects.

2. Full and complete separate accounts in respect of each of the objects shall be kept by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, who shall make payments from time to time as the progress of the work justifies.

3. Provided that if the cost of either project, when completed, shall have sunk in less than the capital sum and accrued interest thereon, the balance expended.

shall be applied to any of the objects set out in the scheme of management of the Sussex Trust as the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, may decide.

No. 143 Marine.—The following draft rules which in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 54 and 67 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1917 (I of 1917), the Governor in Council proposes to make, are published, as required by sub-section (1) of section 74 of the said Act for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby. These rules, which are for the protection of passengers in river steamers proceeding to melas (fairs) against the spread of plague and other epidemic diseases by persons travelling in such steamers, and for affording proper medical aid on board such steamers to those passengers who suffer from such epidemic or other diseases, are intended to be supplementary to those published under notification No. 82 Marine, dated the 16th August 1918.

2. The draft rules will be taken into consideration on or after the 26th December 1919 and any objection or suggestion with regard thereto which may be received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

Draft Rules.

1. Definition.—In these rules “Mela” means a periodical gathering of a large number of people for religious or other lawful purposes.

2. Every steamer carrying passengers to melas shall have on board—

- (a) a duly qualified doctor with sufficient medicines and with the necessary transfusion apparatus for the treatment of cholera cases;
- (b) drinking water at one gallon per head per diem or such less quantity as the Local Government may prescribe for each passenger carried, for supply free of charge to the passengers; and
- (c) a supply of one of the disinfectants mentioned in the list maintained by the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, and in such quantity for every 100 passengers as may be prescribed in the said list.

3. Every such steamer shall provide—

- (a) adequate segregation and hospital accommodation on deck at the stern of the steamer to the satisfaction of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, or such officer as he may depute for the purpose before the steamer proceeds on her journey;
- (b) proper facilities for the supply of wholesome food for passengers and the control of such supply of food by the sanitary or medical authorities, and
- (c) adequate latrine accommodation to the satisfaction of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, or such officer as he may depute for the purpose.

4. Any person committing a breach of any of the above rules excepting rule 2(b) shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both, and in the case of a breach of rule 2(b) with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

DEPARTMENT OF MINES IN INDIA, DHANBAD P.O., MANBHUM.

Indian Mines Act, 1901.

AN examination for first class Coal Mine Managers' Certificates of Competency under the rules applicable to coal mines will be held on the 16th, 17th and 18th February 1920. An examination for second class Coal Mine Managers' Certificates of Competency will be held on the 23rd, 24th and 25th February 1920. Both examinations will be held at the Railway Institute, Dhanbad.

Rules 32 and 33 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901, require that a candidate for a first class certificate must be at least 23 years of age and have had at least five years' practical experience in a coal mine, and for a second class certificate be at least 21 years of age and have had at least three years' practical experience in a coal mine. The periods of practical experience may be reduced to three years and one year respectively, in the case of a candidate who has received a diploma in scientific and mining subjects after a course of study of at least two years at an educational institution.

approved in this behalf by the Governor-General in Council, or who has taken a degree in scientific and mining subjects at a University approved in this behalf by the Governor-General in Council.

The fees are Rs. 15 in the case of first class certificates and Rs. 8 in the case of second class certificates. By rule 34 of Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry, notification No. 2968-82, dated the 21st April 1906, "these fees shall be paid, not less than one month prior to the date of the examination, to the Chief Inspector of Mines at his office." The fees may be remitted by money-order or paid in any other manner.

Applications and fees should be addressed to the Chief Inspector of Mines in India, Dhanbad Post Office, East Indian Railway, and not to any officer by name. No candidate will be permitted to sit at the examination unless his application, supported by original certificates as to experience and character, and fee, is received, in the case of a candidate for the first class certificate examination on or before the 15th January 1920, and, in the case of a candidate for the second class certificate examination on or before the 22nd January 1920. Candidates are advised to send all papers under registered cover.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE INDIAN INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION REGARDING THE CREATION OF A CHEMICAL SERVICE AND OF AN INDIAN STORE DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION. (INDUSTRIES).

THE Government of India received the report of the Indian Industrial Commission on the 29th October 1918. Local Governments were addressed on 7th December 1918, when their views on certain questions of principle were asked for. On receipt of these, the Government of India placed their opinions and proposals before the Secretary of State in their despatch No. 15 (Industries), dated the 4th June 1919. The Secretary of State's reply, in his despatch No. 86 (Revenue), dated the 25th September 1919, has since been received; and the above correspondence is herewith published for general information. The report itself has been in the hands of the public since November 1918, and has formed the subject of numerous comments and discussions, both in India and in England.

2. The Government of India are arranging to constitute committees to deal with the proposals of the Industrial Commission for the creation of a Chemical Service and of an Indian Stores Department. The terms of reference and personnel of each of these committees will shortly be announced. With the Secretary of State's sanction the Government of India have ordered the reconstitution of the Indian Munitions Board as a Board of Industries and Munitions, to perform the duties described in paragraph 6 of the Secretary of State's despatch. The Government of India have expressed in paragraph 35 of their despatch their high appreciation of the services of the Indian Industrial Commission, with which they are glad to find that the Secretary of State associates himself. The thanks of the Government of India are hereby conveyed to the Commission and to its President, Sir Thomas Holland, K.C.S.I., K.C.I.E., F.R.S., for their labours and for the comprehensive and well-considered scheme set forth in their report. The Government of India are confident that the members of the Commission will be able to look back to their work, in years to come, as the starting point of a new era of co-operation between Government and the industrial public for the economic advancement of India, and that their zealous endeavour to this end will find its best reward in the results which the Government of India confidently anticipate from it.

ORDERED that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations, to all Departments of the Government of India and the Indian Munitions Board, to all heads of departments subordinate to this Department, to the President and Members of the Indian Industrial Commission, and that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

A. H. LEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of India.

No. 15, dated Simla, the 4th June 1919.

From—The Governor General of India in Council,
To—His Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

In our despatch No. 51 (Industries), dated 26th November 1915, we set forth the reasons which led us to propose the appointment of the Indian Industrial Commission. The Commission submitted their report on the 29th October last. Their recommendations were unanimous, except for the dissenting note of one member. The few definite suggestions that emerge from his note are, however, not of a nature that we can accept, and have therefore not been dealt with by us in this despatch, though his arguments against some of the Commission's proposals which we support are generally covered, we believe, by our statement of the case.

After the issue of Mr. Ley's letter No. 589-D, dated 7th December 1918, to Local Governments (annexure I), inviting their views on the main principles laid down in the report, we deputed Mr. Low, Secretary in the Department of Commerce and Industry, who had been a member of the Commission, to visit Local Governments, in order that their attention might be focussed, by free and informal discussion of the somewhat complex questions involved, on the main points at issue, and their replies might be expedited.

2. There are four cardinal points which require to be settled before definite progress can be made in giving effect to the Commission's recommendations:—viz., the proposals—

- (1) to constitute provincial departments of industries;
- (2) to constitute a central department of industries;
- (3) to create all-India scientific and technical services;
- (4) to create an agency for the purchase and inspection of stores in India.

We shall place before you in this despatch our views on each of the above points, and ask for your general approval of our proposals in each case. The replies of the Local Governments whom we consulted on the above points are annexed to this despatch.

PROVINCIAL DEPARTMENTS OF INDUSTRIES.

3. In paragraphs 303 to 306 of their report the Commission recite their reasons for proposing the creation of provincial departments of industries, and we need not repeat them here. The duties of the provincial departments as suggested by the Commission in paragraph 306 of their report are as follows:—

- “(a) The direct encouragement of industries, including a large share in industrial research work, the provision of technical advice and assistance to industrialists, the examination of applications for special concessions, and the grant of loans to small and cottage industries.

“(b) The collection and distribution of commercial and industrial intelligence; the work of passing Government indents and of purchasing and inspecting certain classes of Government stores; the organisation of markets for local products; the conduct of special enquiries and industrial surveys; the holding of industrial exhibitions and the management of commercial and industrial museums.

“(c) The control of technical and industrial education. This would necessitate the training of staff for, and the inspection of, industrial schools; the organisation and inspection of apprentice classes attached to large works, and the provision of the staff for the necessary theoretical teaching. The Director would also have to take his share in the control of the higher institutions for technical training. Funds for technical and industrial education would be provided from his budget.

“(d) The control of the staff employed for the local administration of the Electricity, Factories and Boiler Acts; and the furnishing of advice to Government on the industrial and commercial aspects of the Mines Act and of the rules for mining leases and prospecting licences.”

The Commission also drew attention to the necessity for some means of exchanging information regarding the experience gained in different provinces. Even in respect of cottage industries they considered this to be necessary.

The provincial departments would thus be the mechanism through which the motive force contained in the technical, scientific, educational and financial proposals of the Commission would be applied in the way in which they can be most effective, viz., through an agency under the complete control of Local Governments. Promising results, though necessarily on a most inadequate scale, have already been obtained from the operations of such local departments of industries as already exist in the Central Provinces, the United Provinces and especially in Madras, in spite of their lack of technical equipment and of the absence of a correlating central agency. The organisation proposed by the Commission follows the existing lines of these provincial departments, but strengthened in such directions as experience has been able to suggest. It is with confidence that we invite your approval of the proposal to institute provincial departments of industries on the general lines laid down by the Commission, subject to such further applications for detailed financial sanction as the powers which may be exercised by the Government of India or the Local Governments, respectively, may necessitate, and to such further consideration in points of detail as may be found requisite. The principle has been supported by all Local Governments, although certain of the Commission's detailed proposals are not unanimously accepted, and the Burma Government make certain suggestions for the control of the department of industries and its co-ordination with the departments of agriculture and co-operative credit, that are dependent on a scheme of provincial reforms which they are about to put forward. These proposals will however receive further consideration on receipt of your reply.

AN IMPERIAL DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIES.

4. The necessity for a central agency to co-ordinate and supplement the efforts of the local departments is obvious. Industry follows economic, not provincial, boundaries; individual undertakings compete for their raw materials, and for the sale of their products, within areas limited only by the cost of transport; information regarding the nature of raw materials and of industrial processes is of far more than provincial application; some of the raw materials required for the completion of industrial operations in one province are often derived from another; industrial labour now moves more and more freely from one province to another. If the Government organisations for the development of industries work in water-tight compartments, or depend for the exchange of information solely on spontaneous and un-directed co-operation, progress will be limited by the comparatively small power of the local agency; and much even of that small power will be wasted.

A central co-ordinating agency is thus clearly needed. It will fulfil its responsibility by keeping closely in touch with the work being done by provincial departments; by offering from time to time its advice, based on the opinions of appropriate specialists, regarding the conduct of that work; and by ensuring that the experience of the more progressive provinces is placed freely at the disposal of the more backward ones. Personal discussion between Local Governments and the higher officers of the central department of industries, men who have built up business and administrative experience in handling technical subjects, on a basis of technical knowledge, will be invaluable in supplementing the inevitable deficiencies in experience, qualifications and equipment that will characterise most, if not all, of the provincial departments of industries for a long time to come. Several of the Local Governments, it will be noticed, specifically mention the advantages which they hope to derive from the creation of a central organisation capable of creating such relations with Local Governments. A central agency is also needed to supplement certain inevitable deficiencies in provincial departments, in respect of special research problems that have a bearing on the development of industries, in the laboratory or experimental factory.

5. It is true that we propose to leave entire freedom to Local Governments, subject to a few restrictions of very limited scope, in respect of the above functions. But various considerations will in practice prevent Local Governments from making complete use of this liberty. Research is expensive, and it is slow in producing results that will appeal to the public whose support the Local Governments must secure. The tendency will thus be for Local Governments to concentrate on exploiting the results of research, while much of the actual work of research will be left to the central Government. That Government, dealing in one or other of its departments with matters like the manufacture of munitions, the Geological Survey, the proposed purchase and inspection of stores in India, at any rate on behalf of the large central consuming agencies, and the production of salt in Northern India, will be compelled in any case to maintain a far larger staff of technical experts and scientists than any Local Government. In addition to this, it must have a large share in the administration of central institutes for research and for professional and technical training. It is of paramount importance to recollect that specialisation is the key-note of all modern science and technology, and, without a far higher degree of specialisation than has hitherto been attempted in India, research work will be infructuous and attempts at development, wasteful and dangerous. We must proceed in future on an entirely different principle, and the qualifications, numbers and organisation of the staff must be adjusted with reference to the work to be done. It is obvious that no Local Government can afford more than a fraction of the equipment required; and, though the Commission contemplate the services of scientific specialists being placed freely at the disposal of Local Governments, the technical side of their work must even in such cases be assisted by an expert central agency.

6. There will be many industries of which the possibilities will have to be investigated on a minimum commercial scale before private enterprise is willing to come forward and undertake their further development. Such investigations sometimes involve considerable expenditure for longer or shorter periods. Local Governments have to carry on a number of minor industrial activities, such as the encouragement of cottage and small local industries, as well as industrial and technical education, matters which in the aggregate involve large amounts of recurring expenditure, and render local resources relatively less elastic than those of the Government of India. Financial limitations, therefore, will often render it impossible for Local Governments to undertake the more expensive and ambitious lines of development. Reference to Appendix E of the report, for instance, shows the variety of specialists necessary in glass manufacture and explains the consistent series of failures that in their absence have followed the attempts to manufacture glass in India. On the other hand, no individual undertaking could be worked on a scale which would recon a private concern for the initial expenditure of so general an investigation. Moreover, it is necessary, when factors of national safety are involved, and very desirable, when the question is merely one of high economic importance, to secure the development, on a suitable scale and at the right time, of each link in a chain of inter-dependent industries, instead of, as in the past, relying on imports to fill the gaps. The links of such a chain will often have to be located in different provinces; and in case the necessity of any particular link is not always clearly visible or specially urgent from any one provincial point of view. There should be a central agency, in a position to create or encourage, failing adequate action by Local Governments, industries needed to fill such gaps. This principle is generally accepted by the Local Governments. As the Bombay Government remark, research experiment and demonstration undertaken within their Presidency will have to be supplemented by further research and experiments either within or without that Presidency, in the general interests of India.

7. One of the most potent instruments for the encouragement of new undertakings is the guarantee by the Government of the purchase of manufactured products for a term of years. It is obvious that in hardly any instance would a single Local Government be in a position to give a purchasing order large enough to be of the slightest assistance to a big undertaking. Not only are the individual requirements of Local Governments small, but the large purchasing departments which use manufactured articles, such as the Army, the Railways, the Posts and Telegraphs, are all under the Government of India.

8. There is a further reason why a central agency is needed. The Commission enumerate in paragraph 324 of their report certain subjects, in addition to their two headings 9 and 10, which relate directly to the encouragement of industries by Government, as suitable for inclusion under a central department of industries. These are at present all dealt with by departments of the Government of India.

1. Geology and Minerals (including the Geological Survey of India and the administration of the Indian Mines Act).
  2. Salt.
  3. Indian Explosives Act and the Indian Petroleum Act.
  4. Stationery and Printing.
  5. Inventions and Designs.
  6. The collection and distribution of commercial and industrial intelligence.
  7. The supply of stores.
  8. The Indian Factories Act.
  11. The administration of the various Acts relating to steam boilers.
  12. Electricity.
- In addition to these the inclusion of two additional subjects is suggested, if it be decided to place them under the control of a civil department.
13. Ordnance Factories.
  14. The inspection of Ordnance manufactures.

Though the Committee for the Division of Functions recommend that one or two of these heads should be definitely placed under the control of provincial Governments, subject to all-India legislation, this proposal will affect the existing practice but little. Subject to the above qualification, all these heads have been recognised by the Committee for the Division of Functions as falling within the proper sphere of the central Government, and they can be controlled more appropriately by a central agency which is concerned with industrial matters, than by the unspecialised departments to which they at present belong.

9. Finally, the Imperial Government cannot divest itself of responsibility for the industrial progress of the country, and for its economic and military safety, so far as the latter can be secured by the supply of munitions and stores. It will in any case maintain almost exclusive control of the tariff policy, shipping, foreign trade relations, ports, waterways and railways, matters of which industry throughout the country can never be independent, and it will retain certain important responsibilities in respect of minerals, the property of the State. Moreover, the fact that Government are embarking on a new and very important line of policy postulates the necessity of a sufficient degree of central co-ordination to ensure that the whole resources of the country are, as far as may be, utilised in the pursuit of that policy. It is in the first few years that the success of the policy will be determined; and it is in those years that the task of the central agency will be the heaviest, and the necessity for its existence strongest.

10. We will now explain our reasons for holding that, during at any rate the initial stages of our new industrial policy, the proposed central agency must be a special department to the Government of India in charge of a separate Member of Council. On this point we are in general agreement, though some of us hold that the development of industries will always require to be a separate charge. We may point out, in the first place, that the Commerce and Industry Department is at present, and for some years to come at any rate, will be so heavily overburdened with work, as to render it incapable of undertaking such important additional responsibilities; while the nature of these responsibilities and the character of the personnel required for their performance is, in most cases, in no way akin to the personnel employed under the Department of Commerce and Industry, or to the functions that it exercises. The relief afforded to the present Department of Commerce and Industry by the transfer of heads 1-11 mentioned in paragraph 8 above will reduce the number of receipts dealt with by it by less than one-seventh; and we do not consider that, even with the very small amount of devolution in respect of the remaining subjects dealt with in that department which has been proposed by the Committee on the Division of Functions, the remaining work will be less than that department as at present constituted, or the Member in charge of it, can properly undertake.

11. We may exemplify our reasons for not entrusting the carrying out of the new policy to the Department of Commerce and Industry by a reference to the position in the United Kingdom. There the newly established State agencies for research are not placed under the Board of Trade, but under a special Committee of the Privy Council. This work, in India, in the utter absence of private or commercial agencies for research, will fall for a long time almost entirely upon the State.

In addition to this, two still more important classes of activity have to be undertaken by the Indian Government, for which in England the necessity and even the occasion are almost entirely absent, namely, the stimulation of private enterprise and the exploitation of the great State properties. The present unsatisfactory position in India is almost entirely due to the lack of private enterprise; this has to be built up and encouraged by the provision of technical information, the training of consultants, technologists and artisans, the offer of Government orders, concessions and guarantees, and by the creation of a system of finance which will afford to industries the facilities which have hitherto been concentrated on trade. In England most of these advantages have long existed; they have been created by private enterprise and in turn they have reacted on it, and extended its scope. In the next place, the Indian Government possesses and is responsible for the economic utilisation of a very potent instrument of aid to industries, which in England is lacking; viz., the State ownership of extensive forest areas, mineral and water rights. But to make this instrument effective, it will have to be wielded with far greater skill and purpose than heretofore, and must therefore be directed by an agency which is designed to stimulate and assist industries, rather than by one which is well adapted, indeed, to assist commerce, but whose relations with industries have hitherto been mainly restrictive.

The Department of Commerce and Industry was, it is true, intended to benefit industry as well as commerce. But the absence of a definite industrial policy has left that department without the expert staff which could alone affect the latter object. Even if that deficiency were supplemented, the additional load of responsibility would entail the risk of paralysing an already over-burdened department.

12. It is indeed possible to bring forward a further reason for separating the functions of Government in relation to trade from those which concern industry. The future economic policy of India will be affected by two forces, which will often be in opposition: the wish to protect home industries by fiscal measures, and the necessity of maintaining the free movement of trade and of securing to the consumer goods at a reasonable price. It would be, we think, a serious mistake to confuse the issue by placing the interests of industry and commerce, which respectively represent these two conflicting forces, under a single representative. Each interest should have its own line of action clearly before it; in any case where these lines diverge, the course must be settled after a full and clear consideration of all the factors in that case, and should not depend on whether the Member who may be at the time in charge of both interests happens to favour protection or free trade.

13. In forming a decision on the necessity of a separate department, popular sentiment and expectation cannot be ignored. As the Industrial Commission have said in paragraph 320 of their report, the duties of a central industrial agency "are sufficiently important and sufficiently correlated, both in themselves, and in the public mind, to justify special treatment, and they involve interests which deserve separate representation in the Viceroy's Executive Council." This view was anticipated in paragraph 340 of the Report on Indian Constitutional Reforms. The importance to India of definite policy for the improvement of her industries is based on the strongest economic, political and military reasons; for years past it has been prominently in the public mind and is now urged still more forcibly by all classes of Indian opinion as an indispensable condition of the future political progress of the country. Anything short of the creation of a central department of industries will be generally considered an inadequate expression of that policy. Popular opinion will look to the central department of industries for the fulfilment of India's hopes for a great industrial future; and will regard it, in fact, as the pre-eminently swadeshi department.

For these reasons we agree that a central department of industries is, at any rate, during the initial stages of the new policy, the necessary and appropriate agency for stimulating, guiding and co-ordinating all forms of Government effort for the development of industries, and to this view we ask you to give your approval in principle.

14. The proposal of the Commission is that the Member in charge should be assisted by a board. We do not wish to be understood as endorsing this particular proposal as the ultimate constitution of the new department. It is probable that the initial organisation of the department will have to be on somewhat informal lines, depending for its success as it must do more on men than on mere system. The Member in charge will require the help and advice of officers with various qualifications and experience. Whether these officers can be most helpful as heads of subordinate departments, as secretaries, or as members of a board, can be most fittingly determined by actual experience.

15. If you approve in principle of the necessity of a separate department of industries, we propose to begin with a short-time interim scheme.

It will in any case be impossible to create, without amendment of the Government of India Act, 1915, a new post of a Member of the Governor-General's Executive Council. Legislation has recently been undertaken in connection with the scheme of Constitutional Reforms, which is designed to delegate to the Government of India power to modify the number of members of that Council. It would be impossible to submit before that date detailed proposals for a department exercising such entirely novel functions, but we think that a few months' interim experience with the temporary organisation which we explain below, should enable us to form a much more accurate idea than is at present possible of the establishment required; and we hope to be in a position, if our present proposals are approved in principle, to submit a detailed scheme for sanction in a few months' time.

We propose on receipt of your sanction to hand over to the Indian Munitions Board, which may be appropriately renamed "The Board of Industries and Munitions," the subjects and subordinate departments enumerated in paragraph 324 of the Commission's report, except Nos. 6 and 14, regarding which we reserve our opinion.

Some of this work has hitherto been undertaken under war conditions and for purposes connected with the war, by the Munitions Board. This organisation has throughout been in more intimate touch with the industries of the country than any department of Government has ever been before; and with a little re-adjustment can do what is needed for the present, while winding up the remains of its war work. The department so constituted should retain the powers at present possessed by the Munitions Board, but answerable, through its President, direct to His Excellency the Viceroy.

To do this in addition to its existing task of closing its war commitments will necessitate the employment of certain establishment, and the incurring of certain expenditure to initiate work on various schemes which have been considered by the Munitions Board for some time past, for which we shall, when necessary, request your sanction.

16. To recapitulate, we ask you—

- (1) to approve in principle of the creation of a Department of Industries, to be placed under the charge of a Member when vacancy occurs or can be created, in order to deal, generally speaking, with the subjects recommended by the Commission;

- (2) to agree that the Indian Munitions Board should, for the present, carry on the initial work of organisation, and, in particular, should frame proposals in detail for the new Department.

RELATIONS BETWEEN PROVINCIAL AND IMPERIAL DEPARTMENTS OF INDUSTRIES.

17. We shall now explain what in our opinion should be the relations between the central and the provincial departments of industries. In paragraphs 3 and 5—9 of this despatch we have generally indicated what we think should be their respective duties. But we desire to leave the fullest liberty to the Local Governments in respect of the functions and responsibilities to be exercised by their departments of industries. They should, we think, be free to conduct any form of research or experiment, to initiate any industries on experimental lines, or to encourage the starting of any industrial undertaking, by any means that lies within the general financial and other powers that may be conferred on them from time to time. The various possible methods of encouragement are more practically indicated in Chapters XIV and XX of the Commission's report; and though some of the proposals set forth in the latter chapter will need further consideration and perhaps further reference to yourself, we wish to state here that, whatever conclusion may be reached regarding their adoption, we do not propose to restrict the employment by the Local Governments of any particular form of authorised assistance or to reserve any such form for the exclusive use of the Government of India.

It is therefore necessary, as we explained in paragraph 118 of our despatch on the Report of the Committee on the Division of Functions, that the duties and activities of Local Governments and of the Government of India must in some respects be concurrent, but we do not think that this should give rise to difficulties which, indeed, are not anticipated by Local Governments, who fully concur in the above general proposals. We assume that there will be a free exchange of information regarding the activities of the respective agencies. In considering the steps to be taken for the development of any important industry, the advice and aid of the central department's experts are certain to be invited, while they will be, it must also be assumed, fully aware of any important industrial inquiries that Local Governments may be carrying on. The relative advantages of imperial and provincial action will be thoroughly discussed from a technical point of view before definite proposals are presented to the Governments concerned; the abilities of Local Governments will be limited in respect of financial resources and staff; and it should seldom be difficult to come to a conclusion as to which authority should undertake the work.

As an alternative, such operations might be undertaken jointly on the lines indicated in paragraph 23 of Annexure V to the Functions Committee's Report, "as a business arrangement with a Local Government by which it will take a subsidy from central funds for carrying on some work in which the central and provincial authorities are interested."

The few cases of overlapping that will actually occur in practice will not necessarily mean a waste of money, and are in any case not too high a price to pay for the only satisfactory solution of a very real difficulty, a solution which, as we have said, is generally accepted by Local Governments.

18. The above proposals are, however, necessarily subject to certain reservations. In the first place cases may occur in which the action of a Local Government, in initiating or assisting any industry, is likely to come into conflict with other important interests in the rest of India. In these cases, which, though important in principle, are not likely to occur often in practice, we desire to reserve to the Government of India a power of veto. We have in mind the danger to Indian interests which would arise if a Local Government proposed to encourage a form of industry which entailed the disposal of a raw material limited in quantity, in such a way as to deprive the rest of India of the advantage arising from its manufacture in the country. Supposing, for instance, the Government of Burma thought fit to encourage the exports of its zinc sulphide ores, the only adequate Indian source of sulphuric acid, or their reduction by a process which would involve the waste of the whole of their sulphur contents, then we think the resulting injury to the rest of India from the loss of an indigenous supply of this vitally important chemical would be so serious as to require the interference of the Government of India. We have given as an instance the possible misuse by a Local Government of the monopoly of a raw material; but we consider that the same considerations should apply to the misuse of monopolies of sites which could produce large quantities of water power at exceptionally low cost; such sites would necessarily be very few and the application of the resulting power must be a matter of national policy.

The necessity of the Government of India retaining a power of interference in cases like these is specifically recognised by those Local Governments which have dealt with this point, and is accepted by the Government of Burma, for so long as that province forms a part of the Indian Empire.

19. Apart from cases where actual interference by the Government of India may be necessary in the general interest, cases will doubtless occur where the interests of two or more Local Governments in the establishment of rival industrial undertakings are at variance, and our intervention would be required, in order to avoid needless competition and loss.

20. We do not consider it necessary for Local Governments to submit their schemes for the approval of the Government of India, merely that the latter may assure themselves that the schemes do not contravene any of the above criteria. Such submission, as the Governments of Bombay and the United Provinces point out, would cause undesirable delay; and the Government of India can place themselves in a position to interfere in the rare cases where interference will be necessary, by regularly receiving information from Local Governments regarding the schemes they have in hand, an arrangement which will indeed be necessary to enable the country generally to pool its knowledge and to secure the necessary co-operation between the central and local organizations.

21. The above restrictions on the liberty of action otherwise possessed by Local Governments are particular applications of the general principles laid down in paragraphs 5 and 6 of our despatch on the report of the Committee on the Division of Functions.

THE SCIENTIFIC SERVICES.

22. The third of the main proposals refers to the constitution of scientific services and of an industrial service. The Commission draw attention to the extreme importance of research under modern industrial conditions, and to the special needs of India, in view of her vast unexploited resources in raw material and of the paucity of her scientific workers. They criticise the complete lack of organisation among scientists employed by Government and describe the difficulties, both administrative and technical, to which this gives rise. The Commission recommend as a remedy the creation of a similar mechanism to that through which the Central and Local Governments have hitherto carried out almost all their most important activities, especially those requiring technical knowledge, viz., all-India services; and they discuss the basis on which these services should be constituted. The Commission propose the creation, not of scientific departments, but of scientific services, an essential distinction which has been clearly brought out in the replies of Local Governments, though it has not been so clearly apprehended by critics of the proposal. The Commission contemplate the recruitment of officers into separate scientific services, such as a chemical, botanical or zoological service, for employment under imperial and provincial departments, such as Forests and Agriculture, which deal with the application of a number of separate sciences. They propose that scientific officers in the employ of Government, instead of being recruited in small numbers of single units into the different services which happen to require them, should be recruited as experts in their several sciences, into scientific services, each with its appropriate conditions of qualification, pay, pension and promotion. Although the services will be distinct entities for the above purpose, yet the only members of those services that will not be actually employed under the various departments that require their services will consist of a central staff, engaged under such officers, for instance, as Deputy Chief Chemists, at research centres, in scientific work. This central agency will also serve as a reservoir to meet the demands that may be put forward by other departments or by Local Governments for men to undertake temporary special investigations, to fill new posts or leave vacancies, or for the replacement of existing officers.

The head of each scientific service would thus exercise an influence over the members of his service in matters scientific by the check of scientific results and by the provision of advice and criticism on scientific work, whether for Local Governments, or for research workers. It is not, we understand, proposed by the Commission, nor do we ourselves contemplate that he should actually control research work in the sense of ordering definite problems to be taken up by officers serving under Local Governments, or should turn his department into a gang of hack researchers. We rely on constant correspondence between scientific officers of the same cast and periodical conferences as sufficient to correlate research programmes.

23. With the Commission's view of the very unsatisfactory nature of the present position as set forth in paragraphs 116 and 117 of their report, we are in complete accord.

Local Governments and heads of departments find the greatest difficulty in forming an opinion of the work done by scientists employed under them; or of the probable value of lines of research proposed by their officers. Should the administrative authority consider the results obtained by a scientist unsatisfactory, it is almost impossible to obtain an authoritative opinion on his work and qualifications; or to say whether he might not do better in another post; or to find such a post for him. The difficulties arising from the existence of isolated specialists in a department are in fact notorious. Local Governments constantly find themselves saddled with unsatisfactory men for long periods. The Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces, for instance, specifically alludes to his own experience of these difficulties.

The impossibility of applying any common measure in determining the respective claims to promotion of a botanist, a chemist, an engineer and a political economist has been recognised in the existing services by the creation of separate posts on a time-scale. But this does not get over the difficulties already indicated, nor supply the proper incentive to the research worker, nor afford scope or prospects for men of more than average ability. The absence of such prospects is bound to militate against our chances of obtaining good recruits, to render our staff discontented, and to prevent our securing the best work from the best men.

Moreover, so long as students of a particular science are recruited sporadically on behalf of different departments as vacancies occur, Government will have to accept the men that happen to be left over, whatever their qualifications, after other and more regular demands have been supplied. The prospect of regular annual recruitment will enable the Government of India to fill its future demands for scientists, as it has hitherto done for engineers, forest officers and medical men.

24. The present system, under which the only chemists employed by the State are scattered through numerous departments without any organisation that can marshal the chemical forces of the country to attack problems of national importance, can give no help towards an active industrial policy.

We might quote as illustrating the inspiring value of a central co-ordinating authority, the work undertaken by the Munitions Board through its chemical adviser. The report of the conference of chemists at Lahore which we append to this despatch, shows that even our isolated and scattered chemists can be moulded into one team for the purpose of suggesting new lines of research and means for turning the results to practical account, without overlapping and consequent waste of effort.

This experience, in the light of the magnificent results obtained in England by the Research Committee of the Privy Council, shows clearly how much may be expected from a system which provides a permanent organic connection between all chemists in Government employ.

25. The importance of a common system of recruitment and of a common service has recently been recognised by the Council of the Institute of Chemistry in the United Kingdom, (vide proceedings of the Institute of Chemistry, 1918, part IV, page 14), in a representation submitted by them to all Government departments in which chemists are employed; they state their opinion that "the time is opportune for taking steps to secure for the provision of chemistry a position corresponding to that occupied by the learned professions, and they feel that much would be accomplished towards the attainment of that end if, in the first place, adequate and uniform conditions of appointment were accorded to chemists directly engaged in the service of the State. The necessity for a unified, organised chemical service (both in peace and war) for all purposes of the State on which the science of chemistry has a bearing has long been recognised in the chemical profession."

Conditions in India render the services of chemists employed under Government of even greater relative importance than in England. India is far more deficient than England in the knowledge of its raw materials and of the appropriate industrial processes, consulting chemists and chemists in private employ are almost entirely absent here and this deficiency is not likely soon to be remedied. Research institutes with special reference to a particular industry in England, it would seem, will usually be financed and controlled by the industry itself, with a Government grant-in-aid whereas in India the position will be precisely the opposite, and the industry will rely primarily on State chemists. We therefore agree with the Commission that the advancement of industries in India must depend for scientific assistance almost entirely on State-employed men, and these men will be far more concerned with the initiation of important new lines of development and research and far less with merely routine work, than is the case in England. The need of organisation is the greater, in that the functions of Indian State chemists are more important to the country, while their greater isolation and the consequent absence of a scientific atmosphere furnish an additional argument. The case for a State chemical service is thus even stronger in India than in England.

26. We are much influenced by the prospects which the proposed system affords of increasing the number of Indians in the scientific services. An Indian appointed to an isolated post or as an assistant to an isolated professor in a country where the scientific atmosphere is non-existent or at the best exceedingly attenuated, lacks guidance and the stimulus of his fellows in the pursuit of scientific knowledge. His ambitions tend to become limited to the improvement of his pay and prospects, rather than of his professional attainments. His membership of an all-India service, based on the pursuit of a common science will increase the prestige of that science in his eyes and in those of the Indian public, the existence of the proposed imperial nucleus of scientists under a distinguished chief will provide him with an incitement to excel with assistance in his studies and with opportunity for training if he desires it.

The Commission propose that, if the principle of scientific services is adopted, committees should be appointed to formulate proposals for the permanent organisation and the terms of employment of each such service and for the location and equipment of research laboratories. We support this recommendation, subject to the condition that the terms of reference to each committee should include a direction to report as to the advisability of constituting all-India services for each well-defined science.

28. Without anticipating the conclusions of the proposed committee, we think it desirable, in view of criticisms which have been expressed in some of the annexures to this despatch, to indicate certain principles in the general administration of these services which should govern the relations between the members of the scientific services and the heads of departments and Provincial Governments, under whom many of them will be employed.

We do not think that members of scientific services should be seconded by the method which the Commission propose viz by deputation for periods of 5 years at a time, but we consider that as in the case of other services, an officer when once placed permanently under the orders of a Local Government should remain with the Government for the rest of his service unless the Government under which he is serving itself desires his transfer, or unless his services are required in a higher post or in a post requiring special qualifications outside the province in which case the Local Government will recognise that the Imperial Government have a claim on them. This is the system which exists at present in respect of all similar services.

Local Governments would have complete liberty to appoint after consulting the head of the service, to any post in their industrial or scientific cadre any available member of the respective services, they would also be at liberty, in the special circumstances arising during the initial stages to appoint to such posts men outside the service but the subsequent admission to the all-India service of men so appointed would be entirely controlled by the Secretary of State. The Local Governments universally support the proposed scheme of scientific services, and though the Governments of the Punjab, the United Provinces and Bombay and the officers and public bodies consulted by them put forward certain criticisms of the scheme especially with reference to the position of scientists in the Education Department, these criticisms are, we think, fully met by the foregoing explanation of the scheme. We think the proposed services should be administered 29 We desire, however, to add a few remarks with special reference to the case of science teachers. We fully recognise that much is required of a scientific professor in a college, outside his scientific work. He must look on himself as a member of the body responsible for the tone of the college and for its general success. It will, therefore, we agree, be most undesirable that such a man should continuously have in mind the possibility of promotion outside his own department. We think, however, that this difficulty will be obviated by the general principle laid down by us above, viz., that members of scientific services serving under the Department of Education should not be removed from that department, unless at the request of the educational authorities, or for posts requiring high administrative capacity or special scientific qualifications.

The advantage to the Education Department of a system of scientific services will still be very considerable. In the first place, we consider that, though University and college science workers should be by no means entirely divorced from technical research, their main sphere of activity should lie among problems of pure science. The proposed central scientific organisation should afford a means whereby such problems arising in the course of technical research can be referred to University and college laboratories.

Such co-ordination, both in respect of pure science problems and technical problems, can be most readily effected in cases where the educational researchers are themselves members of a scientific service. This policy will doubtless stimulate the interest in research work taken by students and professors. Officers who have entered the educational service as teachers may be in some cases expected to develop as research workers. The existence of all-India scientific services will afford a ready means for accommodating men whose aims in life have thus been diverted from one form of work to another. In the next place, the present system of recruitment of scientists into the Educational Service is capable of improvement, and far better results could be obtained with the aid and advice of watchful central agencies in India. The absence of a scientific atmosphere again has been particularly injurious to scientific officers in the Educational Service, and has led to great stagnation in respect of research work. This atmosphere will in future reach individual officers by the numerous channels of communication which will be created between them and the central agency on technical subjects, whether by way of correspondence conferences and scientific publications, by the central staffs and tours of inspection, or by officers spending some portion of their vacations at research institutes. The case of scientists at present employed under the Department of Education will obviously require careful treatment, such men should not be allowed to join the scientific services as a matter of course but each case will have to be considered on its merits and there may still be classes of appointments for which men will have to be recruited independently. Further, the whole question so far as it affects the employment of officers with scientific qualifications in colleges and universities, will have to be reviewed in connection with the proposal of the Calcutta University Commission regarding recruitment.

30 In addition to the opinions expressed in the letters received from Local Governments, two important conferences of chemists have recently put forward their views on the Commission's proposals. A record of their discussions is appended. A full meeting of the Sectional Conference of Agricultural Chemists at Pusa in February passed the following resolution —

"That this Conference considers that in view of the intense local knowledge required for effective work for agricultural improvement by chemical methods it is not desirable that the chemists in the Agricultural Departments should be formed into a service apart from the ordinary agricultural service in which the bond of union would be the science rather than the application. On the other hand, in addition to agricultural chemists attached to the Provincial Departments, this Conference is definitely of opinion that a strong central body of chemists should be maintained by the Imperial Department of Agriculture from whom Provincial Departments could draw for the investigation of special problems."

The main objection taken was, it will be observed, based on the idea that men would usually be transferred after 3-year periods. We have explained already that such idea forms no part of the system which we contemplate. It is also significant that the same resolution declared the necessity of a strong central body of chemists for the department of agriculture; and it may be added, the same meeting pointed out the desirability of equipping the agricultural research organisation to deal with certain industrial problems arising out of agricultural research. The sum of these conclusions seems to point to the desirability of supplying some agency which can correlate chemical research with agricultural and industrial problems, and of avoiding the needless expense of creating separate research nuclei for dealing with each separate class of chemical problems.

A conference of chemists was convened in Lahore in January 1918 by the Indian Munitions Board. It included not only Government officers, but also chemists attached to missionary colleges and employed under private firms. The Conference passed no formal resolution, but strongly supported the proposed system of scientific services.

THE INDUSTRIAL SERVICE.

31. The position in respect of the proposed industrial service is somewhat different. In the first place, there are few, if any, existing officers who correspond to the class of man whom it is proposed to recruit into the industrial service. In the second place, the question is here not of a science, but of a group of professions, among which that of mechanical engineering and its various specialised forms greatly predominates. The advantages to be derived from an expert central agency do not exist in the case of an industrial service to the same extent as in that of a scientific one; though the proposed central institutes of technical research will no doubt be of help to industrial officers of all classes. The advantages claimed for the proposal are mainly administrative, and will be best perceived by an examination of the disadvantages of any alternative system. The officers filling the higher posts must possess administrative capacity and business qualifications built up on a basis of technical knowledge. These necessary qualifications can only be obtained by training and experience in the lower ranks of the service, where the work will be mainly technical, but where there will be ample opportunities for the acquisition of business and administrative experience.

The alternatives to a service are, the engagement of men on short-time contracts, or the creation of a number of separate appointments, unconnected, unless possibly in small provincial departments of, at the most, half a dozen officers. In the case of the first system, though it is appropriate enough to engage highly qualified men on short-time contracts for specific enquiries, or other isolated pieces of work, it is clearly unwise to offer such terms to men who are to be engaged on duties which involve the application of a progressive and consistent policy over a long period, and the existence of close acquaintance and personal confidence between the public and Government officials. The first two or three years of an officer's career are spent in making himself familiar with local conditions; if he departs at the end of a five-year agreement, Government loses a trained man and has to replace him by an untrained successor. With regard to the second course, we can state definitely from our experience of applications for employment already received, that the best candidates greatly prefer an all-India service to a system of isolated posts. Such a system will labour under most of the administrative disadvantages which, we have already pointed out, attend the employment of isolated scientific officers. It will, in fact, practically mean a perpetuation of the admittedly unsatisfactory ad interim scheme proposed by the Commission, under which men will have to be sought wherever they may be found, with many probable failures; and it will be very much more expensive than a service, since, in the absence of settled prospects, members of the industrial department, unless retained by very high salaries, will be continually tempted to take up private employment. The institution of an industrial service seems to us also the best if not the only means of training Indians of the right type to fill the higher industrial posts, whereas the alternative system of employing temporary experts must necessarily perpetuate the employment of Europeans.

The Government of the United Provinces dissent from the Commission's proposals, but are, however, accepted by all other Local Governments, Madras, whose comparatively advanced experience in the department of industries renders their opinion of special value, and by that of Burma, subject to the proviso, which they apply also to the case of the chemical service, that Indian members of such services should not be posted to Burma.

82. The arguments given by the Commission for the constitution of an all-India industrial service will be found in paragraphs 330-334 of their report; and those arguments have our concurrence, except that, though we agree that a training in some form of mechanical engineering will be in most cases the best basis of recruitment, we should not make this the absolute rule. We think it may prove convenient to include in some cases men with other technical qualifications, who cannot appropriately be engaged on short-term contracts, but may possess or acquire business or administrative aptitude that may fit them for higher promotion. We also contemplate the necessity of engaging consulting experts on short-term agreements for definite pieces of special work. The position of members of the industrial service employed under Local Governments should be, in our opinion, as nearly as possible analogous with that already suggested by us for members of the chemical service.

We do not desire to formulate the conditions of the industrial service, until we have discussed the matter with Local Governments and received their proposals for their provincial establishments. By that time we hope to be in possession of the recommendations of the committee on the chemical service, which will doubtless afford a useful analogy. We wish, however, meanwhile to be in a position to offer and to allow Local Governments to offer the prospects of suitable posts in the future industrial service to recruits, most of whom will have, as recognised by the Commission, to be brought in at first on special terms; the engagement of such men will, it is presumed, be as a rule subject to some probationary period, by the expiry of which we hope to be in a position to include in the industrial service those of them who prove satisfactory.

AGENCY FOR THE PURCHASE AND INSPECTION OF STORES IN INDIA.

33. The remaining point, viz., the purchase of stores in India, may be more briefly dealt with.

The present system under which the only specific organisation for the purchase of stores required for the use of Government is situated in London has long been the subject of serious criticism both by politicians and by business men in this country. It is alleged, and not without reason, that this system discourages the purchase of Government stores manufactured in India and thus tends to perpetuate itself by withdrawing an important form of stimulus from nascent industries. We agree that this is not the spirit or intention of the rules, which give considerable scope for the purchase of Indian made articles. But in actual practice the absence of an expert buying and inspecting agency in India makes indenting officers unwilling to take the responsibility for the purchase of locally made articles, and inevitably leads to their placing their orders with the only Government agency properly equipped for purchase and inspection, viz., the Stores Department of the India Office. A departure from this system is urgently and universally demanded; and its continuance would be looked on as an instance of the alleged economic selfishness of the British nation who, it will be said, are prepared to give away political concessions, but to part with nothing that touches their pockets.

The history of the past three years has shown some unexpected capabilities of India for local manufacture, even in face of the lack of expert workers and of essential plant arising out of war conditions; it has also shown the beneficial effect of Government purchase and inspection in encouraging Indian industries and inducing them to improve their methods and strike out fresh lines. A rough and ready system of purchase and inspection by expert officers, so far as these were available, was created, and will serve as a useful guide in working out the details of the future system, which the Commission propose. Several provincial Governments, in particular those of Burma and the United Provinces, have pressed for a considerable degree of independence in respect of the purchase of stores. The former Government, indeed, ask for complete freedom from any control by the central Stores Department in India in respect of their power of purchase of Government Stores for provincial use, and liberty to deal direct with the purchasing agency of any other Local Government. We doubt whether Local Governments, in the absence of actual experience these matters, fully realise the waste of money that is bound to result from a system of isolated purchases by separate, and therefore, competing government agencies without expert market knowledge; and the absolute necessity of an expert and specialised inspecting agency, not only for finished articles, but, in many important cases, for raw material and processes of manufacture. At the same time, we fully appreciate the desire of Local Governments to encourage, as far as possible, their own local industries, and the necessity for the greatest degree of decentralisation that is practicable and economically safe. In this as in other matters, some system of compromise is necessary; but the ultimate decision must depend largely on the relative amount of imperial and provincial demands for the different classes of articles and of their production in the different provinces. We trust we may receive the approval of the general principle of a purchasing and inspecting agency for goods manufactured in India, when we propose at once to appoint a committee to work out a detailed scheme.

You will doubtless, when the probable effect of the new system has become apparent, consider the desirability of a reduction of the staff of the Press Department of the India Office; and we shall probably also address you at a later stage regarding the desirability of including members of the technical personnel of some of our consuming departments in that staff.

COLLECTION OF COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL INTELLIGENCE.

34. In our letter No. 589-D. to Local Governments, dated 7th December 1918, we consulted them regarding the Commission's scheme for the collation and dissemination of commercial and industrial intelligence, which had a certain bearing on the important question of the relation of the central and provincial departments. No Local Government raises any objection to the scheme; but we do not put it forward for your approval at this stage, since it is not of the same importance or urgency as the four matters already dealt with; and we have not yet decided finally on the structure of the proposed agency, nor as to the department which should control it.

CONCLUSION.

35. We cannot conclude without placing on record our appreciation of the very thorough treatment accorded by the Commission to the difficult and highly technical subjects dealt with in their report. Many of them fall entirely outside the range of ordinary official work, and could not have been discussed save by persons with special qualifications and experience, who had made a prolonged and careful study of the subject. We esteem ourselves fortunate in having been able to secure the services of gentlemen with an extensive range of Indian business experience, who were ready to devote much valuable time to the work, and have brought into the enquiry a wholly fresh atmosphere. We think that the labours of the Commission have resulted in well considered and practical proposals for an active industrial policy, for which the report abundantly proves the necessity.

36. Our proposals for the present are, shortly.—

(1) that your approval in principle be accorded to the proposed Provincial Departments of Industries, on the general lines set forth by the Industrial Commission, but subject to further consideration in respect of details and to any sanction in respect of particular proposals, whether by yourself or by the Government of India, that may be required;

(2) that your approval in principle be accorded to the proposed Imperial Department of Industries on the general lines set forth in this despatch, subject to the submission of detailed proposals later on. The relations of the Imperial and Provincial Departments of Industries should be on the lines indicated in this despatch;

that for the present, and until a vacancy occurs or is created in our Council, the development of the scheme be made over to the Indian Munitions Board, modified as may appear necessary, and placed under the direct control of His Excellency the Viceroy;

- (4) that your approval in principle be accorded to the creation of all India Scientific Services, and of an all-India Industrial Service of an organisation for the purchase and inspections of stores in India; of the appointment of a committee to consider the lines on which an all-India Chemical Service should be constituted and of a committee to work out the detailed organisation for an Indian Stores Department.

37. Nearly all the most important recommendations of the Commission depend on the main principles to which we request your approval in this despatch. There are, however, certain proposals which can be taken up independently, and with these we are proceeding as rapidly as possible. The statement appended (Annexure 5) will show the extent to which action has already been taken, either while the Commission were sitting or since their report has been received.

We have the honour to be,

From—A. H. LEY, Esq., C.I.E., I.C.S., Joint Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry.

To—All Local Governments and the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioners of the Central Provinces, Assam, North-West Frontier Province and Delhi.

I AM directed to address you on the proposals made in the Report of the Indian Industrial Commission for the establishment of an Imperial and Provincial Department of Industries. The report covers a wide range of subjects and includes a number of incidental recommendations which, though important in themselves, can be reserved for separate consideration in due course. The basis of the main proposals, however, may be summed up in the following three general propositions :—

- (1) That the improvement of Indian industries is of vital importance to the future of the country ; that it will throw on Government many new and serious responsibilities, and requires a consistent and co-ordinated effort for its achievement. These considerations appear to necessitate the creation of a special department of the Government of India to formulate and direct the new policy :
- (2) That for obvious reasons the actual execution of the policy must mainly be effected by authorities under the control of Local Governments :
- (3) That, in view of the past history of Indian industrial development and of the present conditions of industrial success in other countries, no real progress can be expected without an expert study of industrial possibilities and expert advice and assistance in undertaking the solution of industrial problems, and that the necessary staff can be best obtained and most advantageously employed by the creation of organised services.

2. With these three basic propositions the Government of India are in general agreement ; but the principles on which the functions of the Imperial and the Provincial Departments should be correlated require some further discussion in the light of considerations arising out of the report on Indian Constitutional Reforms. The Government of India do not wish at the moment to commit themselves to any definite view as to the exact division of functions between the Imperial and Provincial Governments. It appears to them obvious, however, that in certain directions the Government of India will not be able to divest themselves of responsibility. Industries, for instance, the development of which is necessary in order to secure national safety ; industries, again, which though not perhaps essential from the point of view of national safety, yet affect materially such wide economic interests that their development in any particular direction is a matter of more than provincial importance; possibly industries for which no form of assistance will be of real value which does not involve serious financial responsibility, or industries which can only be developed by the employment of a wide range of technical staff; these suggest themselves as matters which may have to be regarded as of Imperial concern.

3. While, however, the Government of India feel that they cannot divest themselves of the grave responsibility which is entailed by the decision to accept the policy of attempting the improvement of the industries of the country on the widest possible scale, they fully recognise that the actual development of industries must in the main be carried out by local authorities. It is particularly, therefore, with regard to the proposals contained in Chapter XXI of the Report, on provincial department of industries, that I am now to address you. It will be realised that a volume of work, which will be extensive, will, in any case, even from the beginning, have to be entrusted to Local Governments, to many of whom the problems to be dealt with will be entirely new, and the work will entail on them responsibilities which cannot be performed without the assistance of a wide range of technical advice and experience.

4. In some provinces the nucleus of a provincial department of industries already exists; in others this still remains to be created; in all alike, as it seems to the Government of India, there is great scope for fresh activities and an urgent necessity for the employment of a considerably extended staff. Without at the moment discussing the precise proposals for the organisation of a provincial department which have been made by the Commission, I am directed to draw your special attention to the recommendation that the staff employed should form part of an Indian Industrial Service, which will in the main be composed of men whose training has qualified them as mechanical engineers. There appear to the Government of India to be three possible methods of recruiting the men required for the work of industrial development in the provinces;

- (a) they may be casually recruited on terms special to themselves;
- (b) they may form part of an organised provincial service; or
- (c) they may form part of an organised all-India service.

Casual recruitment will, in the view of the Government of India, unquestionably entail unnecessary expenditure, while at the same time it will fail to afford sufficient incentive to the training of Indians in the higher forms of scientific and technical education. It is likely, moreover, to give rise to discontent on the part of officers in regular services who would in general be employed on a lower rate of pay than men recruited on terms special to themselves. These objections would be partially, but not wholly, removed, if there could be in each province a separate organised industrial service. On the other hand, it seems clear that even the most advanced province could not provide for more than a small expert cadre, which would afford inadequate scope and insufficient prospects to ensure the recruitment of the right type of men at a reasonable cost; while in any event there would have to be a nucleus of experts employed under the Central Government. The Government of India are provisionally of opinion, therefore, that the most promising line of advance will be found in the direction of creating in the beginning a well-equipped central organisation and decentralising its functions as rapidly as the progress made and the experience gained will permit.

5. The Commission's scheme for an industrial service contemplates the recruitment of its members into an all-India service, and their employment mainly under Local Governments. There would, however, be some experts who would either be lent for particular pieces of work to Local Governments, or retained directly under the Government of India for researches in which more than one province may be simultaneously interested. The men employed under the Local Governments would ordinarily be retained by them, as is usual in the case of the Agricultural, Forests and other Imperial Services; but Local Governments would be entitled to ask the Government of India to replace men who were not found suitable for the work required of them, and the Government of India might equally find it necessary to ask occasionally for the surrender of men to meet the needs of other provinces or to fill higher posts under the Central Government. It must be remembered that in the interests of the staff no less than in that of the work itself scope must be provided for the promotion of men whose experience and qualifications render them suitable for higher responsibilities than the continued performance of mere laboratory work; a purely provincial service may not be able to provide such opportunities without unjustifiable expense, while to withhold them will lead to discontent and waste of power. Some such system appears prima facie to the Government of India to afford the form of organisation most suitable to the growing industrial requirements of the country as a whole.

6. Much the same remarks apply to the Commission's proposal to create an Imperial Chemical Service. The Government of India do not contemplate interference with the activities of Local Governments in research work, but they consider it important to provide an agency by which Local Governments can be assured that the officers engaged in research are keeping up to the required standard. They believe that a properly equipped central research organisation will be of great value in the advice and assistance which it will be able to afford to Local Governments, and that the waste which the duplication of equipment and the overlapping of research work on some questions involve, when carried to an extent which results in the neglect of others, affords substantial reasons for the creation of an effective agency for securing a full and free exchange of information and the correlation of results.

7. An important part of the Commission's recommendations relates to an alteration in the existing system for the purchase of Government stores. The suggestion for a central purchasing department has been made before, even in the period prior to the war, while, since the war broke out, the functions of such a department have in fact been exercised in a large measure by the Indian Munitions Board. It may be urged that the existence of a central purchasing department in this country may lead to increased delays in obtaining stores from England. On the other hand, it may reasonably be anticipated that with the encouragement and development of industries in this country there will be a great reduction in purchases from England, while the advantages of central control in securing economy by amalgamating indents and purchasing in bulk—advantages which have been proved beyond question under war conditions—seem to outweigh any of the reasons which may be urged in favour of a continuance of the system existing prior to the war, by which individual officers indent on the Stores Department of the India Office for stores required from England. The Government of India believe the Commission's recommendation to establish a central organisation in India for the purchase of Government stores (a recommendation which was also made in the Report of the Public Works Department Reorganisation Committee) to be one of the most valuable of their proposals for the development of Indian industries. The Commission at the same time contemplate considerable decentralisation from the Central Stores Department to provincial agencies, which will be a necessary part of the provincial departments of industries, and propose that the degree of decentralization should be examined by a small expert committee.

8. It will be observed that among the subsidiary activities of the Provincial Departments of Industries the Commission include the collection of local commercial and industrial intelligence. In this respect their proposals seem to be generally consonant with the views of Local Governments expressed in reply to Mr. Enthoven's letter No. 5256-5261-10, dated the 29th of June 1914, on the subject of the re-organization of the Commercial Intelligence Department.

9. I am now to ask for an early expression of the views of His Excellency the Governor of the views of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of your Province (in Council), on these general proposals, viz:—

(a) whether Provincial Departments of Industries should be created, or developed, on the lines suggested by the Commission;

(b) whether the responsibilities of these departments should include—

(1) the local purchase of Government stores, subject to such degree of centralization as may be decided upon after consideration of the report of a special committee, and

(2) the collection of local commercial and industrial intelligence;

- (c) what arrangements are most suitable for utilizing the officers of the proposed Indian services, industrial and chemical, in order to combine the advantages of a common system of recruitment, and central criticism in wider questions of research, with the control which Local Governments must necessarily exercise in executive and administrative matters and to secure the fullest utilisation by the Local Governments of their own staff on local problems; and
- (d) what generally should be the relations between the Imperial and Provincial Departments.

The Government of India trust that the views of the Local Government may be forwarded to them not later than March next.

10. If the principle of Indian industrial and chemical services is accepted questions will arise with regard to the manner in which specialists, already employed under the Government of India or under Local Governments, are to be brought into the services, as well as with regard to the staff to be recruited in the near future, the method of recruitment and the status and emoluments of individual officers. For the immediate purpose of an answer to this letter these matters need not be discussed, though, no doubt, <sup>the Local Government</sup> <sup>you</sup> will begin without delay to take them into consideration. The immediate intention of this reference is merely to obtain the general views of the Local Government on the main principles involved. Meanwhile the Government of India intend to work out a scheme for giving such effect to the principle of an Imperial Department of Industries as can be given without an immediate alteration of the law governing their constitution. It will be the duty of this Central Department, as soon as it is formed, to consult the Local Governments on the numerous incidental proposals made by the Commission, which, however important in themselves, it is unnecessary to discuss for the immediate purpose of coming to a decision on the proposal to establish Provincial Departments of Industries. Such are the proposals in Chapter X on technical and industrial education, those in Chapter XX on industrial finance, the suggested increase of the Forest Department by the addition of forest engineers, the proposals regarding the inspection of Government mining concessions by the Geological Survey Department and the simplification of the mining rules, suggestions with regard to the acquisition of land on behalf of industrial concerns, the welfare of labour, the transfer of the preventive work of the Northern India Salt Revenue Department to the Local Governments concerned, and sundry other matters.

G. S. HARDY,

Under Secretary to the Government of India,

No. 757-C. & I., dated Delhi, the 6th February 1919.

From—The Hon'ble Mr. C. A. BARRON, C.I.E. (I.C.S.), Officiating Chief Commissioner, Delhi,

To—The Joint Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry.

I HAVE the honour to refer to your letter No. 589-D., dated the 7th December 1918, regarding the proposals made in the report of the Indian Industrial Commission for the establishment of an Imperial and Provincial Department of Industries.

As there is no scope for the creation of a Provincial Department of Industries in Delhi, which will presumably be the home of the Imperial Department, I regret that I am not in a position to offer any useful suggestions on the proposals enumerated in paragraph 9 of the letter under reply.

No. 880-R., dated Shillong, the 18th March 1919.

From—The Hon'ble Mr. A. W. BOTHAM, C.I.E., I.C.S., Second Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam, Revenue Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry.

I AM directed to refer to the Government of India's letter No. 589-D., dated the 7th December 1918, on the subject of the proposals made in the report of the Indian Industrial Commission for the establishment of an Imperial and Provincial Department of Industries.

2. The Chief Commissioner agrees that Provincial Departments of Industries should be created on the lines suggested by the Commission. He accepts the view that the provincial Director of Industries should ultimately be an expert officer of the department, and he approves of the Commission's proposals in connection with a provincial Board.

3. As regards the purchase of Government stores, Sir Nicholas Boutson Bell is strongly in favour of purchase in India. It is already, he believes, the declared policy of the Government of India, that all stores should be purchased in India provided that they can be obtained of the requisite quality at a price not materially higher than the price at which they can be obtained from Home. He hopes that this policy will be steadily and strenuously maintained in spite of all opposition. At present, however, he is not prepared to express a definite opinion on the specific proposals of the Commission for a central purchasing organisation in India. He is inclined to advocate a more elastic system, but he reserves his final recommendation.

4. The Chief Commissioner agrees that the collection of local commercial and industrial intelligence should be included amongst the responsibilities of the provincial departments. It is probable that in Assam the Director would at the outset have to depend on the existing machinery for the collection of such information, but the department would, as its activities extend, gradually acquire its own channels of information.

5. The arrangements under which officers of the proposed Indian services should be utilised by Local Governments should, in Chief Commissioner's opinion, be much the same as those now in force in the case of officers of the Imperial Agricultural and Forest services. A Local Government should borrow such officers as it requires from the Imperial service, and during their service on the provincial staff they should be entirely under the administrative control of the Local Government.

6. The Chief Commissioner considers that the officers of the Imperial department should be advisory in their relations with the provincial departments. The provincial department should look to the Local Government for orders, though its officers might suitably correspond direct with the Imperial department on professional matters.

No. 1367-F. T., dated Patna, the 19th March 1919.

From—The Hon'ble Mr. J. D. SIFTON, I.C.S., Secretary to the Government of Bihar and Orissa, Financial Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry.

I AM directed to refer to your letter No. 589-D., dated the 7th December 1918, in which the Government of India intimate their intention to organize an Imperial Department of Industries as recommended by the Indian Industrial Commission and ask for an expression of the views of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council regarding the creation of a Provincial Department of Industries, its functions and relations with the Imperial Department and other connected matters.

2. Early in the history of this province the need was felt for an officer to study and develop its industries; and in Mr. McPherson's letter No. 1269-E., dated the 30th June 1915, it was proposed that such an officer should be appointed. The shortage of officers during the war and the appointment of the Industrial Commission led to the postponement of the scheme, but the Lieutenant-Governor in Council is strongly of opinion that a department of industries of the kind contemplated by the Commission is likely to be of great advantage not only to Bihar and Orissa but also to other provinces which draw from it the material of their industries. But while giving a theoretical approval to the creation of such a department, His Honour in Council wishes to make it clear that the revenues at present available for provincial expenditure are altogether inadequate for giving effect in Bihar and Orissa to the proposals of the Industrial Commission. In the present temporary financial settlement no allowance was made for such a department and the small normal expansion under that settlement is not sufficient to provide for the development of other indispensable branches of administration. It has been calculated that the recurring cost of the superior staff alone required at the outset for a department of industries without any provision for office establishment, contingencies and travelling allowance will be between Rs. 1,00,000 and Rs. 1,25,000 while the * Partly defrayed by East Indian Railway.

The statement includes the present cost of technical and industrial education, which is approximately Rs. 1,10,000. It is presumed that the School of Mines and the Metallurgical Research Institute will be established and maintained by the Imperial Government in the same way as the Agricultural Research Institute at Pusa. But it is clear that even without these institutions the Commission's proposals involve heavy and continuous additional expenditure which cannot be met from provincial revenues on their present basis. And it is also to be remarked that from the point of view of provincial finance the outlay would be unremunerative. The prosperity, which would ensue from industrial development, would not be reflected to any great extent in the revenues which it is proposed to assign to the provincial Governments, such as registration, excise and court-fees, though it would lead to large increases in the customs, income-tax and railway receipts, all of which will go to swell imperial and not provincial resources. The only direct profit, which the Bihar and Orissa finances will reap from industrial advance, will take the form of small local taxes which must be spent on the specific objects for which they are collected. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council, therefore, does not see any practical scope for a progressive Industrial Department unless liberal allowance for such expenditure is made in the coming financial settlement for the province.

3. Apart from the question of finance, on which the whole scheme depends, the Local Government agree generally to the proposals in your letter. For the time being it may be necessary to appoint a Director of Industries from the Indian Civil Service, as suggested in paragraph 311 of the report, but this officer and other officers of the superior staff would eventually be replaced by members of an Imperial Industrial Service or be absorbed in it. The balance of advantage seems also to be in favour of an Imperial Chemical Service. Appointments such as circle officers should be made by the Local Government and the posts so created formed in time into a provincial service.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council does not approve of the proposal that the Director should also be a Secretary to Government. The Director will be a touring officer and head of a department and it is necessary that he should be free to move about the province; and, although like other heads of departments he should have free access to Government, it is desirable that his administrative proposals should be subjected to independent criticism in the Secretariat, nor is it apparent why the proposals of the Director of Industries should require such examination less than those of other heads of departments such as the Inspectors-General of Police, Prisons, or Hospitals. When the Director of Industries ceases to be a Civilian officer and is chosen, as he presumably will be, from the ranks of outside business men, such examination will become particularly desirable.

5. Imperial Service officers should, be lent to the provinces on conditions similar to those obtaining in the Agricultural and Forest Departments; that is, the Local Government through the Director should have complete control over them but the Director and, with his cognizance, his subordinates should be encouraged to maintain relations with the heads of their services and research institutes with a view only to obtaining technical assistance and advice.

6. The collection of commercial and industrial intelligence will necessarily be undertaken by the Director and on all questions of fact, as opposed to those of policy and administration, he should be allowed to communicate with the officers of the Imperial departments direct. This will not only enable the Imperial department to keep in touch with what is going on in the provinces but be of great assistance to the provincial Director himself.

7. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council approves in principle the creation of a central purchasing agency, provided that the Local Government has power to purchase direct all articles that may be obtained in India. In practice the provincial Director would usually avail himself of the advice of the Imperial expert and, where economy could be effected, would readily place his orders in the hands of the Controller of Stores, especially when articles had to be procured from distant parts of India. But complete freedom for the provinces to buy direct is essential, partly in order that local manufacturers may be encouraged, where desirable, partly that time may be saved in cases of urgency and partly that the Imperial department may itself reap the benefit of constant competition from without. On the other hand, there seems to be no objection to all ordinary, as opposed to emergent, indents on the Director-General of Stores at the India Office passing through the hands of the Controller in this country. The Local Government have, however, not yet been able to collect full information on the purchase of stores by its departments and would prefer that these views should be regarded as provisional, pending the appointment of the committee suggested by the Commission.

No. 1415-A—XIII of 1918, dated Nagpur the 19th March 1919.

From—The Hon'ble Mr. J. F. DYER, I.C.S., Third Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces, Commerce and Industry Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Commerce and Industry Department.

I AM directed to reply to the Government of India's letter No. 589-D., dated the 7th December 1918, in the Department of Commerce and Industry, in which the opinion of this Administration is invited on certain general proposals arising from the report of the Indian Industrial Commission. These proposals are specified in paragraph 9 of the letter, and in paragraph 10 it is stated that the Government of India merely wish the Chief Commissioner to submit his general views upon the main principles involved.

2. The first proposal is that a Provincial Department of Industries should be created or developed on the lines suggested by the Commission. To this proposal Sir Benjamin Robertson gives his full support based, as it is, upon practical experience gained since the appointment of a Director of Industries for the Central Provinces in 1911, from the working of a small nucleus organisation which now consists of a Director advised by a Board of Industries and assisted by a small staff of experts. The functions of this department have included the control of factory and boiler inspection, the improvement of cottage industries, industrial education in schools of handicrafts, and the furnishing of advice to Government on commercial and industrial matters. These functions had been extended by the temporary necessities of war time, and a whole-time officer had for some time been employed as Director of Industries and Controller of Munitions. The Chief Commissioner, subject to what is said in the next paragraph as to filling the appointment in the immediate future, will ask that this whole-time post should be made permanent; and he will also propose the creation of a post of Deputy Director of Industries. This initial machinery is, in his opinion, necessary to work out the future detailed organisation of the department after an examination of the economic possibilities of the province.

3. Sir Benjamin Robertson considers that to begin with it will be preferable to appoint as Director of Industries an officer of the Commission, who would carry through the work of organisation and give the necessary training in mastering administrative procedure and in acquiring local knowledge to the technically qualified officer whom it is hoped to secure as Deputy Director. This latter officer should be a man of the educational and other qualifications which will, in due time, fit him for the post of Director. At the present time, on account of the number of officers to whom leave must be given, it will not be possible to get an officer of the Commission as whole-time Director, and the Chief Commissioner therefore has appointed Mr. Crosthwaite, Registrar of Co-operative Credit Societies, to be Director in addition to his other duties. For the next two months, however, Mr. Crosthwaite will be on special duty to make himself acquainted with the problems that are likely to arise.

4. When the changes now contemplated in the constitutional structure of the Imperial and Provincial Governments have been introduced, the Chief Commissioner will consider how best to co-ordinate the activities of the Department of Industries with those of the Departments of Forests, Irrigation, Agriculture and Co-operative Societies.

5. The Government of India enquire whether the responsibilities of the Imperial and Provincial Departments should include—

- (1) the local purchase of Government stores, subject to such degree of centralisation as may be decided upon after consideration of the report of a special committee, and
- (2) the collection of local commercial and industrial intelligence.

Subject to such conclusions as he may arrive at after considering the report of the proposal special committee, Sir Benjamin Robertson is disposed to favour the proposals made by the Commission with regard to the purchase of stores. He considers, however, that every opportunity should be taken to encourage the local production of manufactured articles by means of local purchase. It would, in the Chief Commissioner's opinion, be an advantage to place the Director of Industries by virtue of his responsibility for the purchase of stores, in a position which would carry weight with local manufacturers. He thinks also that the proposals of the Commission will, if properly worked, reduce the long delays which occur under the present system of supply.

6. As regards the collection of local commercial and industrial intelligence, Sir Benjamin Robertson approves of a system which assigns to the Director of Industries the responsibility for collection and commenting on statistics of rail-borne traffic, and which leaves him free to receive and utilise statistics collected and commented on by the heads of the other administrative departments. The Chief Commissioner would emphasise the desirability of retaining a close connection between commerce and industry and he accepts, generally, the proposals made by the Commission.

7. Next, as regards the questions raised in paragraph 9 (c) of the letter under reply, I am to say that, with the example of the Geological Survey in view, there can be no doubt of the advantages of a common system of recruitment, while the prestige of an Indian service is a very valuable factor in building up a scientific and expert staff. Sir Benjamin Robertson is convinced that without such a staff the new policy formulated by the Commission cannot be successful; he has himself experienced some of the difficulties to which the Commission allude in paragraph 120 of their report as inseparable from the existing arrangements. At the same time he favours the adoption of a system by which the experts allotted to Local Governments should ordinarily and normally remain so attached during their service, in the same way as the officers of the Agricultural Service are at present attached. The Chief Commissioner considers, moreover, that the appointment of officers belonging to the Imperial Services to posts within the Provincial Industrial Department, as well as the promotion of such officers while thus employed, should be matters entirely within the Local Government's own control. Nor would he allow any position to arise under which the seniority of an officer in one province might be supposed to give him some sort of claim to appointment to a higher administrative post in another province; otherwise he generally accepts the suggestions contained in paragraph 5 of the letter under reply. It is also in the Chief Commissioner's opinion desirable (i) that a Local Government should be allowed to recruit men on special conditions, not necessarily with a view to their ultimate absorption in the Imperial Services but on the understanding that they might, subject to the agreement of the Government of India, be so absorbed; and (ii) that it should be open to a Local Government to initiate any fresh lines of research that it may consider necessary, though in this connection Sir Benjamin Robertson quite agrees that the advice of the chief scientific officers of the Imperial Government should be obtained on such proposals. He is convinced of the general soundness of the idea of scientific services on the lines proposed by the Commission, and he has not thought it desirable to consult the local officers who would be affected by the proposals, as the opinions of two or three isolated officers are not likely to be representative. He understands, moreover, that the question has been discussed by scientists at Lahore, Bombay and Pusa during the last fourteen months, and that the Government of India are in possession of the results of those discussions.

8. As regards the relations between the Imperial and Provincial Departments, I am to say that the Chief Commissioner recognises that a general responsibility attaches to the Government of India in respect of the new policy. He thinks, however, that this responsibility should be fulfilled by the provision of advice, and that it should not extend to interference in matters of executive detail within a province, save in exceptional circumstances where it is necessary to safeguard extra-provincial interests from serious loss. Sir Benjamin Robertson would welcome the fullest assistance from the Imperial Department and its officers by way of advice and personal discussion, indeed, without such assistance and advice he is unable to see how the Provincial Department of Industries can properly exercise its functions. But, on the other hand, if schemes framed by Local Governments, within their general competence, have to be submitted in all cases to the Government of India to ensure that they do not offend against certain principles, he fears that delay and friction will result and will impede work very seriously.

No 9976 (O & I), dated Lahore, the 1st April 1919

From—THE HON'BLE MR O F LUMSDEN, ICS, Financial Secretary to the Government of the Punjab, Department of Commerce and Industry,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry

I AM directed to invite a reference to Mr Ley's letter No 589-D, dated the 7th December 1918, asking for the views of this Government on certain general proposals made in the report of the Indian Industries Commission. In order that the subject might receive the most careful attention a representative committee consisting both of officials and non-officials was assembled to discuss the proposals, while the Lieutenant-Governor has also enjoyed the advantage of an informal discussion with Mr Low, who was deputed by the Government of India to explain to Local Governments the Commission's recommendations.

2. In connection with the first general proposition laid down by the Government of India in paragraph 9 (a) of their letter the primary suggestion that there should be a provincial department of industries is one which has already been referred to the Government of India by this Government and its utility is so apparent that further comment is unnecessary. The place which this department will take in the general scheme of Government cannot of course be properly determined until any constitutional changes consequent on the joint report of the Secretary of State and His Excellency the Viceroy have been finally settled, but His Honour is confident that there are few measures so likely to receive the support of all classes as one which aims at the general improvement of industry in India.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor is prepared to accept generally the Industries Commission's definition of the functions of the new provincial department as laid down in paragraph 306 of the Report and would also offer one or two suggestions. The Indian members of the committee referred to above were impressed by the fact that the catalogue of the department's duties did not comprise any which would bring the department directly into touch with banking and joint stock company organization. They urged that the recent history of such institutions in the Punjab pointed to the necessity of close contact and sympathetic and helpful control. It is understood that the Commission hope to establish contact between the department and the various business organizations through the Board of Industries, which would include a number of non-officials, merchants and manufacturers. It is open to question, however, whether by this method the Department of Industry could have access to the detailed information regarding banks and joint stock companies which would be necessary if real assistance is to be afforded. In the Punjab the duties of Registrar of Joint Stock Companies do not occupy the whole time of one officer, and they are at present performed by the Registrar, Co-operative Societies. Owing to the steady growth of co-operation the Registrar has but little time to devote to company work, though this may yearly be expected to become more important. The Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that the suggestion made on a previous occasion in Punjab Government letter No. 17728. (C & I), dated the 28th August 1916, that in the Punjab at any rate definition of the duties of the Industries Department should include those now performed by the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies is deserving of serious consideration.

4. In connection with paragraph 306-C., the Lieutenant-Governor would enter a caveat on behalf of general education, which would be in danger of complete exclusion under any system of technical and industrial education superintended solely by the Industries Department. There is no doubt that the Commission realised the supreme importance of general education, as for instance in paragraph 142 of the Report. But while maintaining the ultimate responsibility of the Industries Department for administration His Honour would give more specific effect to the recommendation of the Commission made in paragraph 173 of the Report and would safeguard the interests of general education both by prescribing some definite procedure whereby the Education Department could make itself heard in the management of technical and industrial schools and by enjoining a dual responsibility for inspection. In the Punjab the case could be met by the continuance as a governing authority for Technical and Industrial Schools of the body of officials and non-officials which at present exists in the form of an Advisory Committee for Industrial and Technical Education.

5. With regard to the organization and the interior economy of the new department His Honour finds himself in substantial agreement with the recommendations of the Industries Commissions except in one or two particulars which will be subsequently discussed. Sir Michael O'Dwyer after appointing a Director and a Board constituted as recommended by the Commission on the model of the United Provinces would entertain the establishment discussed in paragraphs 310—319 of the Report as circumstances from time to time render additions necessary.

6. Certain differences of opinion have been found to exist both in regard to the relations of the Director with the Local Government and the composition of the Board of Industries. With these questions has been discussed another proposal originally mooted by the Public Services Commission (paragraph 4 of annexure I) for the appointment of a special officer—whether an additional member of the Board of Revenue or an additional Financial Commissioner or a Divisional Commissioner—to undertake control of the various development departments. Many objections have been urged against the recommendation that the Director of Industries should be a Secretary to the Local Government. The benefits of independent criticism which follow from the introduction of a third mind must be set against any disadvantages which may arise from diminished expedition in the disposal of work; and under the new constitutional scheme where possibly a minister or councillor without commercial knowledge will be placed in charge of Industries, the direct submission of schemes by a Director of perhaps limited general administrative experience might lead to serious consequences. Again the proposals for the composition of the Board of Industries make somewhat inadequate provision for the co-ordination of other departments, e.g., veterinary, agriculture, fisheries, co-operation and forests, though such co-ordination would appear to be essential. The Lieutenant-Governor feels that there is a strong prima facie case for the appointment of a Development Commissioner who would act as Secretary to Government and who would be able to bring together, in a way not open to a minister or a member, the various departments specified above. The nomination of this officer as chairman of the Board of Industries would obviate the necessity of appointing heads of departments as permanent members of the Board or of co-opting them for special purposes.

7. In this connection His Honour would bring to the notice of the Government of India the fact that the non-official members of the committee consulted did not view with suspicion the appointment of officials as permanent members of the Board but on the contrary considered that where the co-ordination of working was not secured by the appointment of a Development Commissioner the selection of heads of departments for this purpose was absolutely necessary. His Honour would demur to the suggestion that the Board of Industries should control or even advise on the appointment and promotion of the staff, as he fears that such an arrangement would introduce an undesirable element into its deliberations. He approves, however, of the delegation of considerable financial powers to the Board so as to give reality to its working and would cite the case of the Sanitary Board which, mutatis mutandis, might suitably be taken as a model for the new creation so far as functions and powers are concerned.

8. It has been accepted without question that the appointment of a Director with the qualifications recommended in paragraph 311 of the Report is an ideal policy, but it is felt that it is very unlikely that any of the existing services could supply an official with these requirements. His Honour believes that it will be a matter of great difficulty to find first class or even second class business men or industrialists willing to accept the appointment on the pay proposed so that it will probably be necessary, at first at any rate, to have recourse to one of the existing services for a Director.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that the proposals in paragraph 9 (b) of the letter under reply are quite unexceptionable and indeed would question whether the collection of local commercial and industrial intelligence can be successfully carried out except by the newly constituted Department of Industries.
